

Tightest Security Screen Ever Erected Will Protect Khrushchev

Huge Protective Network Spread Around Capital

Washington - (UP) - Federal agents, trained military teams, and metropolitan police spread a huge protective network here today in the tightest security screen ever erected in the nation's capital.

The grim purpose was to protect Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev who arrives Tuesday.

The far-flung precautions for Khrushchev's safety reached over the rooftops to the sewers. The most elaborate traffic restrictions in the history of Washington were ordered.

Refugee or Crank Feared

The principal fear of the security agents was that some aggrieved refugee from the Iron Curtain or irrational crank might try to bring physical harm to Khrushchev or create a mob scene to embarrass the Soviet leader and his host, President Eisenhower.

Security agents have visited every hotel, store and office building along the route that Khrushchev will take from Andrews Air Force Base to Blair House. They have asked responsible officials in each building to make sure no stranger gains access to a roof or a window facing the parade route.

Special Squad Detailed

A special flying squad of security agents has been detailed to precede the official motorcade by a few blocks, sealing every manhole along the way so that no would-be troublemaker can pop up out of the sewers.

The metropolitan police force has cancelled all leaves and days off. Its entire 2,500-man force will be available for duty. A police spokesman estimated that about 2,000 policemen actually will be stationed along or near the parade route.

Guardsmen To Help

About 500 National Guardsmen also will line the streets to help control crowds.

Hundreds of plainclothesmen will mingle with the spectators to watch out for any suspicious persons. They have been instructed to be particularly alert for out-of-town cars and for persons bearing packages.

Khrushchev's immediate bodyguards will include Soviet secret police and special agents of the State Department's security office, who are charged with protecting all important foreign visitors.

Famed Designer Of Dresses Dies

Los Angeles - (UP) - Gilbert Adrian, 55, famed dress designer whose creations draped some of filmland's most beautiful stars, died Sunday of a cerebral hemorrhage shortly before his wife, actress Janet Gaynor, and his son could reach his side.

Miss Gaynor and their son, Robin, 19, were aboard a jet airliner from New York when Adrian died. They were both in New York when his condition became serious and boarded a plane.

Dr. John Fernald said the famed couturier was stricken at his Beverly Hills home Saturday night and taken to California hospital where death followed a short time later. He had been in good health prior to the affliction, Fernald said.

Adrian, a native of Naugatuck, Conn., was head designer at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for many years. He designed gowns for such stars as Greta Garbo, Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Myrna Loy, Hedy LaMarr and Rosiland Russell.

In 1942 he opened his own salon in Beverly Hills and made the label "gowns by Adrian" internationally famous.

Oregon Society To Get 49-Star Flag

Washington - (UP) - Flags symbolic of America's 49 states will be formally presented to the Oregon Historical Society and the Oregon State Archives by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) during the autumn recess of Congress.

Neuberger said the 49 star flag will be official only from July 4, 1959, to July 4, 1960, when a 50th star will be officially added for Hawaii. "It will be one of the American flags of shortest survival - and thus has further historic and souvenir significance," he said.

Nikita Will Ride Through Missile Base on West Tour

Los Angeles - (UP) - Tourist Nikita Khrushchev will meet movie stars, make a whistle-stop train tour and ride smack through the middle of a missile base during his one-day visit to Los Angeles and nearby cities.

But he and his family may have to forego the average tourist's delight, Disneyland, because U. S. officials feel Khrushchev would be too exposed to possible incidents if he took the previously scheduled one-hour tour.

No one will say definitely whether Khrushchev will visit Disneyland and officials apparently want to keep it that way so there are no waiting crowds if he decides to turn up at the playland.

William H. Parker, police chief of Los Angeles, indicated emphatically that Disneyland was not on the Soviet premier's schedule. But the state department said it was "unaware" of plans to cancel Khrushchev's trip there.

Khrushchev and his entourage were tentatively scheduled to arrive at Los Angeles International Airport next Saturday from New York.

Khrushchev will be greeted at the airport by Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson and other dignitaries. Then he will be whisked immediately by car to the commissary of Twentieth Century-Fox studios in Beverly Hills, where he will address and have lunch with about 400 of the top members of the movie industry.

Top Stars Invited

Although the state department has banned the release of the guest list, it was learned that about 100 top stars had been invited - including Kim Novak, Frank Sinatra, Maurice Chevalier, Shirley MacLaine, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Gary Cooper, Doris Day, Audrey Hepburn, Rock Hudson, Lana Turner and Dena Martin.

Others invited were Sidney Poitier, Dorothy Dandridge, Spencer Tracy, Jack Benny, Danny Kaye, Jerry Lewis, Edward G. Robinson, Gregory Peck, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Deborah Kerr, Janet Leigh, Dick Powell, June Allyson, Joan Collins, Hedy Lamarr, Tony Curtis, Ernest Borgnine, Debbie Reynolds, James Cagney, Kirk Douglas, Alan Ladd, David Niven, Burt Lancaster, James Stewart, Glenn Ford, Cary Grant, Dinah Shore, Sammy Davis Jr. and Nat (King) Cole.

Hosts for the luncheon will be Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, and Spyros P. Skouras, president of Fox. Although the affair is industry-sponsored, it was understood Skouras personally arranged for Khrushchev to visit his studio when he went to Moscow recently to present "The Diary of Anne Frank" at a film festival.

To Visit Movie Set

After lunch, Khrushchev will visit the set of "Can-Can," which stars Sinatra, Chevalier and Miss MacLaine. Studios usually are closed on Saturdays, so everyone connected with the special show for Khrushchev will be paid double-time.

Not all of Hollywood's stars, however, were pleased with filmtown's planned hospitality for the premier. Ward Bond, an outspoken anti-communist for years, said:

"Johnston and the state department must have brought tremendous pressure to bear on Skouras to get him to invite this man to his studio. The pressure must have been great because Skouras is a 100 per cent, patriotic American."

Bond and Adolphe Menjou are members of the Committee for Freedom of All Peoples, which called upon Los Angeles citizens to "mourn the victims of Communism" during Khrushchev's visit.

The group called for "dignity, restraint and prayer" in the protest.

After his studio visit, Khrushchev will proceed to his quarters at the Ambassador hotel, whose president is G. David Schine, much-publicized aide to the late anti-communist Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Said Schine: "I hope something good will come of Mr. Khrushchev's visit. Our hotel has been host to many state department guests, and we always do our very best to accommodate all our guests with special courtesy and attention."

To Occupy 'Royal Suite'

Khrushchev and his family will occupy the hotel's "Royal Suite," a $116-a-day layout of three bedrooms, living room, kitchenette-bar and balcony with a wide view of the city.

The suite, a blend of Oriental and contemporary design with a color scheme ranging from pale pink to deep purple, also has three baths, and four powder rooms, a dressing room and eight telephones.

At about 3:30 p.m., Khrushchev is scheduled to take an automobile tour of Los Angeles. He will probably view a housing development, and if he goes to Disneyland it will be in the three hours before he returns to the hotel.

Chief Parker said there would be no announcement of the routes Khrushchev will take or of the places he intends to see. In fact, two local radio stations which cover news events by helicopter were specifically told that they could not do so during the Khrushchev visit.

At 6:30 p.m. Khrushchev will return to his suite for an hour's rest. Then he will go downstairs to the Ambassador's Embassy room, where about 1,000 persons will attend a $12.50-a-head business suit banquet sponsored by Poulson, the Los Angeles World Affairs Council and Town Hall, a discussion group.

Khrushchev will address the gathering.

No Vodka on Menu

The program calls for no music or entertainment, and only California wines and champagnes will be served - no vodka. The affair will end about 10:30, and Khrushchev is scheduled to retire immediately to his suite.

At 8:30 a.m. Sunday, the premier will board a Southern Pacific "Khrushchev Special" at downtown Union station for a 10-hour train ride to San Francisco - generally following the famed Mission trail. The trip will afford him scenic views of the ocean, new housing developments, coastline and offshore oil drilling, rich and capitalistic Santa Barbara, fertile fields of lettuce, sugar beets and other crops, and several missions established in the 1500-1600s by Roman Catholic padres.

The train will have about 17 cars for the press and the Khrushchev entourage. An informed source said Khrushchev has asked that the train make whistle-stops at Glendale, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Salinas and San Jose so he can get out and meet people.

Billy Graham Addresses Mixed Crowd in Arkansas

Little Rock, Ark. - (UP) - Evangelist Billy Graham wound up a two-day whirlwind crusade telling a racially mixed crowd and Gov. Orval Faubus that Little Rock would have no trouble if its people followed Christ.

The Little Rock crusade was Graham's first in three and a half months - since he returned to the United States from Australia.

It wasn't the first time he had spoken in an integration hotspot, however, he said. "I spoke in Clinton, Tenn., too," he said. "It is my policy never to speak publicly where an audience is to be segregated."

Graham ignored some 40,000 pamphlets circulated by segregationists who objected to the evangelist demanding that there be no segregated sections at War Memorial football stadium.

Only Direct Reference

It was filled with 25,000 persons Sunday. Some 20,000 persons heard him Saturday night.

"If people lived like Christ and believed in him, there would be no problem in Little Rock," Graham said. It was the only direct reference he made to race or integration during the sermon.

But afterward, when several hundred persons - both white and colored - came forward at his invitation to accept Christ, Graham spread his arms wide and said:

"Newspapers have been full of violence in Little Rock. I challenged them to print this story - people of both races standing here together."

NROTC Forms Now Available

The annual national competitive examinations for the regular Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps will be given to eligible high school seniors and graduates on Dec. 12, Vice Adm. H. P. Smith, chief of naval personnel, announced today.

Application forms are now available and must be received before Nov. 14. They may be obtained at high schools, colleges, Navy recruiting stations or from Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C.

The program is designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval academy. In the NROTC program young men may earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has a NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy and the students receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on training cruises as a midshipman. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty.

High school seniors and graduates who will be 17 years of age but are not 21 years old prior to July 1, 1960, may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical examination. From this group approximately 1,600 men will be selected for the program.

The average annual pay of first pilots employed by commercial airlines in the U. S. is $17,700 for domestic flying and $22,300 for international flights.

New Miss America Afraid of Being Flop in Beauty Role

New York - (UP) - A nervous, green-eyed southern belle today began work at being Miss America of 1960 scared that she would be a flop as a beauty queen.

Lynda Lee Mead, of Natchez, who captured the second consecutive Miss America crown for Mississippi Saturday night as a dark horse contender in the home stretch, confided her qualms to her college roommate.

Lynda, 20-year-old daughter of an automobile dealer, talked to her college roommate and closest friend, Martha Lovelace, on the telephone after she defeated 53 other beauties for the $100,000 Miss America crown.

"I'm so scared I won't be a good Miss America," Miss Lovelace said Lynda told her in Jackson, Miss. She said Lynda was in tears.

Miss Lovelace also divulged Lynda's best kept secret - the name of her football hero boyfriend who sent her a gold heart bracelet charm she used as a good luck piece in the contest.

The young man is none other than Martha's brother, Keith, 23, voted the most popular man on campus at the University of Mississippi, where he and Lynda met.

The second most coveted award in the pageant went to the representative of the newest state, Hawaii. Gordon Leiluhua Lee, 20, of Honolulu, was voted Miss Congeniality by her fellow contestants. The award was accompanied by a $1,000 scholarship for Miss Lee, who has been working her way through college as a hula dancer.

Lynda held her first official news conference as Miss America at Atlantic City Sunday.

She said she would like to meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this week in the interest of world peace.

Notice to Our Advertisers...

Within the last few months, the circulation of the Mail Tribune has grown more than 1,000 subscribers - 4,000 new readers!

And, since circulation is the true yardstick of advertising value, this remarkable growth is mighty important to YOU.

Mail Tribune readership is expanding more and more in northern California, the lower Applegate Valley, etc. These areas reach new customers for YOUR business. But, to cover these more remote sections, we must publish TWO EDITIONS OF THE MAIL TRIBUNE - the "Regional" edition for such areas as the Yreka-Hills-Montague district; the "Valley" edition for home readers. Both will be basically the same and both will carry all advertising submitted before convenient deadlines.

To make possible this expanded circulation reaching readers when both news and advertising are "hot", the Mail Tribune has established these deadlines for display advertising:

Sunday Edition	Copy in Friday	12:00 noon
Monday Edition	Copy in Friday	3:00 p.m.
Tuesday Edition	Copy in Saturday	10:00 a.m.
Wednesday Edition	Copy in Monday	4:00 p.m.
Thursday Edition	Copy in Tuesday	4:00 p.m.
Friday Edition	Copy in Wednesday	4:00 p.m.

These new deadlines conform with with those of many Pacific Coast newspapers. Without them, it would be impossible to properly serve this new, growing area of readership.

Your cooperation in expediting early copy will assure earlier delivery to ALL southern Oregon and northern California readers - that means greater results for you!
