

Soviet Premier, Nixon Continue Battle of Words

Washington - (UPI) - Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Vice President Richard M. Nixon are continuing in this country the bitter battle of words they started in the famous Moscow "kitchen" debate.

Khrushchev said Wednesday he would "swear on the Bible" that Nixon was wrong when the vice president stated in New York that Russia's successful moon hit was preceded by three failures.

The Soviet leader challenged Nixon to take a similar oath on a Bible if the vice president thought his account of the failures was correct.

No Comment
Nixon had no comment on Khrushchev's challenge. Reporters questioned him when he left the Russian premier's dinner for President Eisenhower at the Soviet embassy Wednesday night. Asked if he stuck by his statement of the failures, Nixon grinned broadly, shook his head, and replied, "no comment."

'Very Wrong Conception'
Khrushchev, apparently still smarting from Nixon's barbed remarks during their spirited debate in the kitchen of the model home at the U.S. exhibit in Moscow, also said the vice president had "a very wrong conception" of the Russian people "and myself."

The Soviet premier told reporters at a reception before his speech at the National Press Club Wednesday that Nixon had his misconceptions about Russia and its people both before and after his recent trip to the Soviet Union.

Jackson Hotel Manager Resigns

Mrs. Betty Boyle, manager of the Jackson hotel for the past six years, has resigned that position to accept a position as executive assistant and social director of the new Marion Motor hotel in Salem.

Mrs. Dorothy Holberton, present assistant manager at the Jackson, will become local manager. Mrs. Boyle is to leave for Salem this week.

The Marion hotel recently completed a million dollar building program, adding 52 motel units and a new two-story hotel addition. One of the paintings on display in the new cocktail lounge is Titian's portrait of his daughter Lavinia, painted sometime before 1560, according to Tom Roberts, manager.

The hotel was opened originally as the Chemeketa House in 1870.

Mrs. Boyle has served as secretary of the Oregon State Hotel association, president and secretary of the women's division of the Hotel Greeters and past president of the Rogue Valley chapter of the Women's Association of Alcoholic Beverage Industries.

Crash of Hustler Bomber Studied

Fort Worth, Tex. - (UPI) - The Air Force authorities today began an investigation that may show why a B-58 Hustler supersonic bomber crashed and burned on take-off Wednesday night, killing two Carswell Air Force Base crewmen.

The third crewman, the pilot, Maj. Kenneth Lewis of Denver, Colo., pulled himself from the mangled, flaming wreckage. He was hospitalized at the base for treatment of second and third degree burns on his hands and a leg.

The Air Force identified the dead crewmen as Maj. Willis A. Edcomb, 39, of Gary, Ind., and Capt. Lee N. Barnett, 32, of Knox, Pa.

Air Force spokesmen said the giant, delta-wing bomber was making a routine take-off when one of its pod-like jet engines spewed flame around its housing.

Lewis attempted to stop the racing aircraft, "but something went wrong," a spokesman said.

Plans for Convention Slated To Be Made

Final plans for a zone convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will be made at 8 o'clock tonight at a meeting of Crater Lake aerie at Eagles hall, 219 West Main st.

The convention will be held in Klamath Falls Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 19-20. Local officers and the drill team led by Ted Weikel and drum corps, led by Bliss Heine will leave Saturday for the event. Other members plan to leave early Sunday.
