

Church Rites Wed Pair

One of early September's large weddings was that of Miss Shirley Lynch to Jerry R. Peterson, held September 5 at First Presbyterian church. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lynch, 139 Kenwood avenue, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Peterson, 1440 South Whitman avenue.

Dr. D. Kirkland West officiated for the three o'clock afternoon ceremony, and Mr. Lynch gave the bride in marriage. Mrs. R. A. Sheldon played the wedding music.

The bride's wedding gown was of mira-mist taffeta designed with pleated bodice, short sleeves and billowing floor-length skirt ending in a chapel train. Her headdress was pleated to match her dress and the bridal veil of illusion was elbow-length. She carried white phalenopsis orchids.

Mrs. Russell M. Stockman, Eugene, was honor attendant and the Misses Lynn Peterson, sister of the bridegroom, and Carolyn Day Lynch, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore frocks of moss green cotton satin with white lace cummerbunds and short jackets. Their small hats of green were embroidered with pearls and each carried a large white glabella.

Flower Girl
Meredith Lucy Lynch, 7-year-old sister of the bride, was flower girl. Her frock was of pale pink eyelet embroidery worn with a head-dress of pink rosebuds and ribbons, and she carried a cornucopia basket.

Lewis Bright was best man for Mr. Peterson and ushers were Bruce and Roger Ady, Portland; Robert Ayres and Vance Tinseth, Medford; Marshall Cornett, Malin, and Duane Epps, Klamath Falls.

Thomas Peterson and John W. Lynch, brothers of the bride and bridegroom, lighted the candles.

The bridegroom's mother wore a rose beige suit dress with brown accessories and the bride's mother chose a green and white silk shantung sheath dress with moss green accessories and white wool jacket. Their flowers were green orchids. Both were escorted down the church aisle by John E. Gribble, grandfather of the bride.

The church was decorated with giant tiger lilies and bronze and white dahlias were tied to the pew ends.

The reception for about 200 guests was held in the garden of the Lynch home. Mrs. Van Roger Scheumann, aunt of the bride from Seattle, Wash., and Miss Irene Wehrli, Ashland, great-aunt of the bridegroom, poured coffee. Charles W. Cook and Leigh Safford, the latter from Carmichael, Calif., served the punch. Mrs. George W. Kellington and Mrs. Tollyn Jones cut and served the wedding cake. Miss Sally Dever took charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Mary Fredericks took charge of the reception and assisting her were the Misses Barbara Tyler, Caroline Denyer and Ruth Milligan.

Heirlooms Used
One of the reception tables was covered with a lace cloth crocheted by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Gribble, for the bride's parents when they were married. The teaspoons used at the wedding were heirlooms, having been wedding gifts to the bride's great-great-grandmother.

Among the wedding guests were Mrs. Alice Fowler, Eagle, Ida., grandmother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sorkki and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Peterson, Astoria, uncles and aunts of the bridegroom; Mrs. and Mrs. Aard Ady, Mrs. Ada Goodwin, Portland; Van Roger Scheumann, Seattle, uncle of the bridegroom; Mrs. Leigh A. Safford, Carmichael, Calif.; Russell Stockman, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Judkins, Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. George Darrow, Western Springs, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Falah K. Aljibury, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Radovsky, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Olmgren, Corvallis.

Following the wedding rehearsal and the reception dinners were given by the Petersons and the Lynches at the latter's home. Guests included family members and out-of-town guests.

Before the wedding the bride-elect was honored at a linen shower given by Mrs. Rollin Jones and Mrs. Glenn Matthews at the former's home.

Mr. Peterson and his bride spent a few days on the Oregon coast and then enplaned for New York City where Mr. Peterson is enrolled at Columbia university to study for his doctor's degree in nuclear science.

Mrs. Peterson attended Lewis and Clark college, Portland, on two scholarships and the University of Oregon, where she majored in biology and was a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Lewis and Clark in biology and there was a member of Quessitors, senior scholastic honor society. Upon graduation she received a National Science Foundation scholarship from the University of Washington to study marine biology. The past year she has been on the staff at Oregon State college as a research technician.

The bridegroom was graduated from Oregon State college, receiving a degree in chemical engineering. He is a member of Tau Delta Pi, national honor society for engineers, and Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society. His social fraternity is Sigma Pi. After graduation from OSC Mr. Peterson was awarded a teaching fellowship from Columbia university and received his master's degree from that school in June. His research resulted in an assignment to work with the Atomic Energy commission this summer.
