

Khrushchev Says Nothing Will Stop Development of Socialist Countries

Premier Helping Red China Mark 10th Anniversary

Tokyo—UPI—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said tonight that the development of global Communism is giving western leaders "the creeps."

"There is no stopping the swift development of the socialist (Communist) countries, and this is giving the creeps to the capitalist chieftains," Khrushchev said at a reception in Peiping attended by Soviet and Chinese Communist leaders.

His remarks were carried in English by the official Soviet News Agency Tass.

Khrushchev arrived in Peiping earlier today to attend the celebration of the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Red Chinese regime. He took off from Moscow about 30 hours after arriving home from the United States.

On his arrival in Peiping, Khrushchev told leaders of the Communist world that "we must do everything within our power to clear the atmosphere and create conditions for friendship among the peoples."

"Exerting all our efforts we must attain a situation in which universal peace is made secure," he told an airport gathering which included such notable Communist leaders as Mao Tse-tung of Red China, Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam and leaders of the satellites in Europe.

May Free Prisoners

There was widespread speculation the Peiping regime would use the day to free five imprisoned Americans and perhaps to fire a rocket-missile in a token gesture of China's growing power.

Khrushchev told the Communist world leaders he and President Eisenhower had frank talks on "all questions requiring solution for the creation of atmosphere of cooperation and peaceful existence."

He reassured the Communists they had nothing to worry about from the Eisenhower talks. He said they discussed "big problems which must be settled" and that the talks were "profitable." He said they will improve U. S.-Soviet relations and prevent revival of international tensions.

Khrushchev's statements were broadcast both by Peiping and Moscow radios.

"I have come to you immediately after my return to Moscow from my trip to the United States, literally by changing from one aircraft to another," Khrushchev said.

France Tells UN To Keep Hands Off Algeria Problem

United Nations, N.Y.—UPI—Maurice Couve de Murville said U.N. resolutions on Algeria in the past "did not contribute quite the contrary to facilitating the solution of the Algerian problem."

French Foreign Minister "To keep passions alive, to arouse them, can never serve the cause of peace," Couve said. "Even though it has decided to exceed the limits of its competence as set by the charter, I do not really see how our organization could now explain its intervention. It is not incumbent on it to take, on behalf of its members, decisions for which the latter alone are responsible."

Couve outlined to the Assembly the proposal of French President Charles de Gaulle for a referendum in Algeria within four years to decide the future of that North African territory.

Australian External Affairs Minister R. G. Casey opened today's chapter of the Assembly's general debate by endorsing the big powers' plan for disarmament discussions in a 10-nation committee evenly balanced between East and West.

But he declared that East-West parity in diplomatic negotiations is an "unhealthy doctrine" that should be kept out of the United Nations.

Negotiations Welcomed
Casey also welcomed direct negotiations between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the increasing likelihood of a full-blown summit conference. He gave credit to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for having initiated these developments.

Both Casey and Couve promised careful study of Khrushchev's program for "general and complete" disarmament but emphasized that the Russians must agree to ironclad inspection and control over any arms reduction plan.

Stop Sign Planned At Evans Valley School

A "stop" sign will be placed on Pleasant Creek rd. at East Evans Creek rd. in front of Evans Valley Union school in response to a request, the Jackson county court reported today.

The sign was asked in a letter by Grace Heer, clerk of Evans Valley school district. The court reported referring the matter to County Road Engineer Paul Rynning, who was quoted as saying the sign would be installed.

Dead and Missing In Japan Typhoon Pass 5,000 Figure

Nagoya, Japan—UPI—The toll of dead and missing in typhoon-ravaged Japan soared above the 5,000 mark today. Typhoid and dysentery swept through the area, adding new despair to a stricken people unable even to bury their dead.

Japanese police released new casualty figures from Typhoon Vera, the worst in Japan's recorded history, showing 3,265 dead and 1,770 missing. More than 10,000 persons were injured and a million and a half were homeless.

Foreign Countries Aid
The government, aided by foreign countries including the United States, was rushing aid to the disaster area but flood victims complained that help was slow in coming.

Morale was at rockbottom and discouraged refugees said they felt even more helpless at the lack of immediate aid and the scenes around them.

"Where do you begin?" asked ward official Taro Iwataki of the town of Yoshida, a rice granary, now a sodden mass. "It's like having your arms and legs torn off. All we know is that the whole district is under water, and the bodies are buried down below."

Nagoya was the hardest hit with more than 1,000 persons known dead. Floodwaters still covered Minato and Minami wards and small boats sailed across what were once prosperous streets.

"Help is too slow in coming," said Eiji Hirano, a teacher at Nagoya's Nanyo Primary School. "The local ward office has its hands full disposing of the bodies. It may be disrespectful to the dead but it is more important to help the living."

The living were short of drinking water and food and faced with outbreaks of the two disaster diseases—typhoid and dysentery—from drinking contaminated water.

U.S. Carrier Sent
The U.S. Navy sent the aircraft carrier Kearsarge to give assistance with its planes, American and Japanese helicopters dropped food and supplies and picked up the stranded, but it was not enough.

Commercial airlines flew in supplies free of charge. At the village of Mushiro the dead lay on dikes covered with mud. There was no water to wash the bodies, no place to bury them.

A loss of about $7 billion a year to floods and crops is caused by insects and various kinds of fungus, according to the estimates of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Niagara Falls is partially "shut off" late at night and in winter when there are few sightseers around. The feat is accomplished by diverting waters of the Niagara River away from the falls and into power plants.

School District Buys Building Site

Medford school district 549C has acquired a 15-acre piece of land in the Crestbrook orchard tract as a site for a future junior high school.

The property is south of the Rogue Valley Country club golf course and east of Murphy rd.

The $39,000 transaction was recorded yesterday in the Jackson county recorder's office, although the deed itself had been executed July 15.

The property was acquired from Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hudson and W. G. Bishop. Medford School Superintendent Dr. Leonard B. Mayfield explained today that the land acquisition was another step in the school district's long-range building program. He said it was expected the junior high school would be needed there in a few years, based on population growth studies.

Portland—UPI—Elmo F. Jacks, 42, Portland nightclub operator, pleaded guilty before U. S. Judge Gus J. Solomon here to a charge of causing metal plates to be made in the likeness of U. S. currency.

Portland—UPI—A group headed by Portland Young Democrats has been named "Oregon Draft Stevenson for President Committee."
