Jackson County Buck Luck Should Be Good

Portland – (UPI) – The weekly hunting and fishing report prepared by the state game commission. (The general buck deer season opens in Oregon Saturday).

Southwest: Deer hunting should be good in Douglas county; blue grouse scattered throughout district; Coos and Curry county deer conditions appear excellent; buck hunters also should have good luck in Jackson and Josephine counties.

Summer steelheading fair to good on Umpqua; silver salmon and jack angling fair to good; steelheading good on Rogue from Savage Rapids to Gold Beach.

Central: Mt. Hood national forest should be good for deer; deer scattered over upper half and around green agricultural crops at low elevations; rain and snow in high Cascades have been enough to start some downward movement of deer from high country; Ochoco forest should have good conditions with deer scattered.

East and Paulina lakes close Saturday; South Twin lake good.

Northeast: Hunters should carry chains as some snow fell last week end; roads muddy and slick; hunting conditions good; all of Baker and Union counties should be good for deer except in dense timber stands; any area above 5,000 feet in Wallowa county probably will have snow; Grant county conditions excellent and deer out of heavy brush; but only main Grant county roads may be passible if more rain and snow fall; deer are abundant and scattered in Wheeler and Heppner units.

Steelheading good in Columbia between Boardman and Arlington; lower John Day river producing a few steelhead.

Southeast: Deer hunting prospects generally good throughout the region; recent rains improved conditions considerably; most roads still in fair shape.

Angling success fair to good in reservoirs and lakes in Lake, Harney and Malheur counties; Delintment lake fair.

Northwest: Deer are plentiful throughout lower cutover lands of Marion and Clackamas counties; spots with heavier cover will be best in the Tillamook burn; grouse scarcer than last year in the Willamette valley; deer hunting conditions excellent in south Willamette and coast sections.

Tidewater areas of rivers generally slow for salmon; Clackamas river still good for trout; Dorena reservoir good.

Waterfowl Hunt Opens Wednesday

Portland – Waterfowl gunners have a three-day head start on the upland game bird hunters this year with the duck and goose season scheduled to open at noon on Oct. 7 followed by a week end opening on upland game birds beginning Oct. 10.

It was stressed by the state game commission that the waterfowl season will officially open at noon on the seventh while the upland bird season officially opens at 8 a.m. on the 10th. The 8 a.m. ruling applies to both upland bird gunners and waterfowl hunters on that day.

Waterfowl season will extend through Jan. 8, while the upland game bird season is scheduled to run through Nov. 15. Hunters should consult their game bird and waterfowl regulations for exceptions to the general rules.

A synopsis of the upland game bird and waterfowl regulations for the 1959 seasons may be obtained at license agencies.

BOAT RAMP OUT

Portland – Oregon anglers are advised that a tremendous land slide which occurred about two weeks ago has knocked out the concrete boat ramp at Owyhee reservoir. Anglers are urged not to attempt a boat launching from this site. P. W. Schneider, state game director, said that a large section of earth and rock dropped out from under ramp and settled into Owyhee reservoir leaving about 50 yards of concrete hanging out in mid air. In addition, tons of rock sloughed from the steep banks above covering the ramp with debris up to 5 feet in depth in some places. These barriers will remain in place to prevent access to the danger area.

Austin Winner At Oak Knoll

Ashland – Phil Austin dropped in a birdie four in the 37th hole to nose out Bill Pritchard for the Oak Knoll Golf club championship.

Pritchard had a 1 up lead after nine holes, the match was even after 18 and Austin had a one-hole edge after 27. A bird by Pritchard on the 36th squared the action and sent the tussle to the extra hole.

Austin grossed 144 to Pritchard's 145.

COUGARS PLAN SURPRISE

Pullman, Wash. – (UPI) – A couple of surprises may be in store for the university of Oregon Saturday when the Ducks host the Washington State Cougars. Assistant coach Tom Parry of WSU said Tuesday that the Cougars were set to spring some new stuff on Oregon.
