

Wall Street Chatter

New York — We may yet see the day when the Russians—despite their loud cries about the decadence of our way of life—adopt more and more the methods of capitalism, says Investor Magazine.

There already are signs, it points out. First, the Russians are sampling installment buying, although under the Russian plan the installment buyer hasn't the choice of default as in America. His monthly charges are deducted from his pay, the publication notes.

Secondly, says Investor, four "monopoly" games were pilfered from the American exhibition in Moscow recently. "The game, which had been considered by authorities as 'too capitalistic' had never before been allowed in Russia."

Bank Clearings Over Billion Mark

Portland — Portland bank clearings continued over the one-billion mark for September, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The clearings amounted to $1,023,958,969 as compared with $913,031,870 for September of 1958. This was the fourth month the clearings exceeded the one-billion mark. The record was in May, $1,444,000,000.

PROSPECT Initiation Is Held

Prospect—The Peppers' and Letterman's initiation was a fun day Thursday, Sept. 24.

The Peppers to be arrived at school in granny gowns with all the can cans they could get under them. Their hair was braided in 25 pig tails with a clothespin attached to the end of each. They wore all the jewelry they could put on and absolutely no makeup. The costume was highlighted by an onion worn on a string around the neck. On their feet they wore one thong and one high heel.

The boys being initiated into the Letterman's club looked rather interesting in long underwear covered with girls' bathing suits. They wore a girl's bathing cap on their heads, and an onion around their necks. Their footwear was the same as that of the girls.

The young people were sold at auction to the other pupils during the morning and spent the rest of the day serving their masters.

New Peppers are Judith Andren, Laura Bean, Sandra Clark, Linda Davis, Loyce Davis, Diana Ellis, Lois Govner, Renelda Griffith, Jeanette Hooper, Donna Jewell, Janet Karjala, Vickie Lycett, Linda Parton, Linda Pressley, Patty King, Charlotte Wilson, Beverly Tinsley, Mary Walker, Carolyn White, Zi Renabrehm, Virginia Eastman and Barbara Loftis.

New lettermen are Terry Gardner, Don Gillespie, John Rogers, Bobby Scott, Craig Gardner, Tony Yell, and Floyd Seafe.
