

Oregon Said Hurt By Budget Policy Of Administration

Bend—(UP)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.), after praising President Eisenhower off and on in Central Oregon speeches the last two days, said Wednesday night that the Administration's budget policies hurt Oregon.

Neuberger told a public meeting at Tumalo, six miles north of here, that he favored a balanced budget but "not an inadequate budget."

The senator said that more than 60 per cent of total federal spending goes directly to defense but that Oregon has only "three small military installations."

Dams Mentioned

He said that according to 1958 statistics Washington state had $1.2 billion in military prime contracts while Oregon has $27.9 million.

Neuberger declared that Republican efforts to "phase-out" the federal water pollution control program also would injure Oregon. The Administration, he said, has adverse attitudes toward the building of Green Peter dam, John Day, Cougar and Hills Creek dams, deepening the Columbia river, dredging the Gold Beach harbor and other projects.

"A budget which starves housing, forests and dams is a poor budget for Oregon," he said.

Nikita Promise Fails To Develop

Moscow—(UP)—U.S. Consular officials said today there has been "no developments whatsoever" in connection with the promise by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to a Lithuanian refugee couple to permit their children to join them in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Pauline Leonas stopped Khrushchev in a hotel lobby in Des Moines, Iowa, during the Premier's tour of the United States and told him they had been trying for years to get their daughter, Regina, 20, and son, Thomas, 17, released from Lithuania.

"You'll get your children," Khrushchev promised and told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to take care of the matter.

The American Consular officials pointed out that Khrushchev and Gromyko spent only one day in Moscow after returning from the United States before going on to Peking.

They noted also that such matters are usually a lengthy process and likely to take at least weeks, if not months.

Baseball Argument Ends in Stabbing

New York—(UP)—An argument between two long-time friends over the recent Dodger-Braves baseball playoff series ended with a fatal stabbing Wednesday night.

Police said the argument broke out between William R. Prinz, 48, and Dennis McSweeney, 39, in Prinz's apartment, where McSweeney lived with Prinz and his wife.

Prinz heatedly ordered McSweeney, a friend for 11 years, to leave. When McSweeney refused, police said, Prinz grabbed an eight-inch kitchen knife and plunged it into McSweeney's chest. Asked by police about the argument, Prinz said:

"I don't even remember what side I took."

He was booked on a homicide charge.
