Oct. 5-9 has been designed as the traditional Tornadia week at MHS. Throughout the week, members of different clubs will get equipment and then planned for the noise parade to be held at 2:15 p.m. Friday. The traditional bonfire procession is scheduled to start from the high school Thursday evening.

Friday evening the king and queen of Tornadia will be crowned at halftime of the football game by Yell Queen Jaci Skelton and Yell King John Cantrall. The week of festivities will be concluded by a semi-formal dance in the boys' gym Saturday evening. Throughout the week members of the Pep club will sell white chrysanthemum corsages with red ribbons adorned with the letter "M".

The first junior class meeting of the year was held Sept. 30. The meeting included election of prince and princess for Tornadio week. Also, Mary Kay Harris and Suzy Thompson were elected as Girls league representatives. A committee head by Nancy Hinman was formed to prepare the class float in the noise parade.

The meeting was presided over by Mike Phillips who also introduced the other class officers consisting of Jerry Gastineau, vice president; JoDee McDuffie, treasurer; Nancy Hinman, secretary; and Jim Stever, representative.

All seniors have been asked to file petitions for graduation by Oct. 9. These forms must include the student's name as he wishes it to appear on his diploma, other personal data, a list of the courses he is taking, and a listing of the credits he will have earned in high school. The petitions will be signed by the student's counselor and by Lester Harris, MHS principal, to verify that the student has met all of the requirements for graduation.

Another item of importance for all seniors is the interview to be scheduled with the respective deans. The students will be held his scores on all tests taken during high school and shown how he compares with other taking the same tests. Guidance will also be given as to possible vocational choices.

Tryouts for "Dino," the first major dramatic production of the year, were held last week by Mrs. Lenore Zapell, English and dramatics teacher. Those chosen for the cast will be announced early next week.

All students driving a car to school must register their cars in the office by Oct. 5, a regulation necessitated by the congested traffic before and after school and during noon periods. All cars will be checked, and any student failing or forgetting to register will be sent home to have parents sign driving permits.

The victory dance held by the rally squad Sept. 25 featured entertainment by two "local talent" musical groups of MHS. One of these a vocal group known as "The Strangers," consist of Keith Berg, John Frohnmayer, Paul Moore, and Ray Konopasek. The second, an instrumental group who call themselves "The Nomads," consist of Lynn Offord at the piano, Buzz Goodman on the bass, Jim Collins at the drums, and Bill Hannaford on the trombone.

Three Look magazine staff members visited MHS last week to gather facts for an article in the publication. "Mood for America" is the working theme of the 20-25 page feature. Marilyn Kelso, Robert Vose, and George Leonard took pictures and interviewed students during the week. The story, to be released next January, is to express what Americans are doing in preparation for the next decade.

The college entrance examination board will offer the preliminary scholastic aptitude test Oct. 24. The test is a shortened version of the three-hour aptitude test.

The PSAT will use the same kinds of multiple choice questions and math problem as on the final test.

All students must register through Lester Harris, principal. A fee of $1 per person, to cover test administration costs, will be charged.

The PSAT will be given by Mrs. Elsie Butler.

The college board tests, which are necessary for all seniors who have not maintained a C average or are go-

Physical examinations for all students in grades 1, 3, 5 and for all students new to Jackson school began on Friday, Oct. 2.

Mrs. Edith Baker's pupils had charge of the student body assembly Oct. 2. The children planned and executed this by themselves - the "Happy Birthday" number was especially thoughtful as Susan Benge, Glen Beeman, and Robert Lacy all had birthdays within three days of the assembly. Roy Shipp had charge of the program.

The bulletin board in the upper hall is creating a great deal of interest. The title of the bulletin board is "Work Done Well." Everyone is eager to see if his work is on display. Displays change when an excellent paper is handed in.

The first grade reading party held Thursday, Oct. 1, was well attended. First grade parents were guests of the PTA for coffee. Miss Durran and Bruce Metzger were the speakers. At 2 p.m. the parents went to their child's room and saw a reading demonstration. There are 98 children enrolled in the first grade and 78 parents attended the meeting.

The second grades are studying about seed dispersal in science. Wednesday we saw a film showing how different seeds travel. In social studies the second grades are studying the neighborhood and neighborhood helpers.

Mrs. Muriel Harvey's room made a large map and each child located his home. The children also drew pictures and wrote stories about various people in our neighborhood.

Mrs. Sarah Watson's third grade have a guinea pig in their room. They are learning about the habits of guinea pigs. They also have a rock exhibit and are making a mural of community helpers.

The pupils in Mrs. Angela Thompson's room are enjoying the use of a new flannel board in learning facts in arithmetic.

In arithmetic, cups, pints, quarts, half gallons, and gallons were used in learning liquid measure.

Candidates for president are Garner Hauptert and Susan House; secretary, Lynda Carner and Sandra Joyce; vice president, Roy Shaw and Sue Walker; treasurer, Nick Rasmussen and Dru Ann Gruff; sergeant at arms, Gary Griffin and Al House; historian, Fred Hauptert.

Nominees for yell leaders are Eleanor Alfonso, Frances Bessonette, Kay Conklyn, Sandra Gannon, Sue Jahn, Pat Nelson, Janet O'Sullivan, Pat Thompson, Sharyn Urie, Leslie Van Gordon.

Hedrick Junior High has enrolled 798 students this year. This is an increase of more than 200 from last year's 547. A "keep to the right" traffic system is being used in the halls so all students may pass quickly from one room to another.

There are more than 400 new students and just a little over 300 students who were in Hedrick last year.

Junior Red Cross has collected $34.61 so far with several home rooms yet to report. Their aim is to collect enough to purchase six layettes, at $7 each. The Home Ec department will sew the sacques and nighties.

Future Homemakers of America will hold their meetings at noon this year and bring sack lunches. Officers elected at the first meeting were Eleanor Alfonso, president; Jo Ann Foresee, vice president; Sandra Gannon, secretary; and Candy Kellenberger, treasurer. Mrs. Dorothy Sneed is the advisor.

Bells were ringing all day long as students went on schedule to have their yearly picture taken. These will be printed in color this year and will be ready for the students in about three weeks.

ing to a privately operated college, have been scheduled at MHS.

The fees for these tests are $6 for the scholastic aptitude test and $9 for the achievement tests. Many colleges require the aptitude tests and some require the achievement tests.

Students must make application for the tests one month before the date on which the tests are scheduled.

Pictures of all organizations and underclassmen were taken last week during Crater picture week. The pictures, which are used in the yearbook, were taken by Knackstedt, Brainerds, and Landis studios in Medford. Mrs. Mrs. Elizabeth Settle is advisor for the yearbook staff.

Senior coupons for Crater pictures, priced at $2, will be on sale until Oct. 30. They must be purchased in order for an individual picture to appear in the Crater with the rest of the class.

The first phase of the Medford High school intramural program swings into action Monday afternoon at 3:15. Bob Huff, tennis coach, will be in charge of the double elimination tournament. The main purpose will be to stimulate interest. Returning lettermen will be allowed to play in the tournament, but they will receive handicaps. Anyone interested may still sign up.

Kuder tests were given to all seniors last week. The purpose of the test is to help the student determine his vocational interests.

The theme of the dance Oct. 2 after the South Salem game was the "Shutterbug Hop." The dance was sponsored by the Shutterbug club and the chairmen were Barbara Gordon and Marilyn Conner.

According to I. A. Mirick, instrumental supervisor, only students with tickets for the Marine band concert will be dismissed at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 16. Transportation by bus will be available for the students from the high school.

Some students from other schools will be transported into Medford for the concert. Tickets for the reserved section are nearly sold out, Mirick disclosed.

The band, directed by I. A. Mirick, and the orchestra directed by John Drysdale, have recently moved into classroom rooms in the new health-music building. Vocal music classes, under the direction of Lynn Sjolund will move in the near future. This building is directly across Melrose st. between the main plant and the shops.

The inter-club council met Friday morning to discuss Tornadio week noise parade plans. The club is made up of the presidents of all school clubs and organizations and is presided over by Keith Berg, student body vice president.

The results of the try-outs for vocal music ensembles held recently, are as follows: Madrigal: Shirley Satterfield, Barbara Tyler, Marcia Williams, Linda Jo Waltermire, Nancy Hinman, Mary Kay Harris, Rossland Randles, Kay Ruhl, Charlene Highland, Jim Lacy, John Lacy, Paul Moore, Jackson Phillips, Dick Ragsdale, Ray Konopasek, Keith Berg, Doug Wasden, John Frohnmayer, and accompanist Pam Gilkenson.

Nometh: Sara Hinkle, Julie Gandt, Sharon Smith, Hazel Rawlings, Linda Smith, Tanya Enders, and accompanist Ruth Coover.

Sophomore sextet: Claudia Owen, Kathy Allen, Lois Stedman, Minda Ellis, Jo Ann Johnson and Julie Latham.

The junior class counselors, Delphie Cox, Shairley Patton, Marvin Kautz, and Gatewood Smith, reported last week they expected the arrival of the class rings soon. The rings were ordered last spring by the class.

The foreign language department has reported considerable progress in the instruction of Russian at MHS. Edna Stewart, instructor, said that extensive speaking and writing drills were being done in class. She added that the Russian alphabet was recently mastered by the class.
