

Shaw Thankful For Donovan's Job on Relief

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Bob Shaw was credited with the White Sox 1-0 victory over the Dodgers in the fifth game of the World Series. He tells how he did it in the following dispatch.)

By BOB SHAW
As told to UPI

Los Angeles—UPI— I'm sure thankful for Dick Donovan! In that eighth inning when I got in trouble, I knew I had to go. I didn't feel tired but it's silly to gamble in a game like this.

I would like to have finished of course but this isn't the place to take chances. When Al Lopez came out to the mound he told me, "You pitched real good ball." Then I didn't feel so bad about having Donovan take over.

I want everyone to know I was not fault for that wild pitch I threw when Charley Neal was at bat. Put the blame on me. I crossed up the catcher Sherm Lollar. I should have thrown a slider and I nodded my head when he gave me the signal for it. But somehow I was thinking of a fast ball and that's what I threw. It wasn't Sherm's fault that the ball got away.

Much Better
I think this was a much better game than the one I pitched in Chicago. Jim Gilliam hit me pretty good, but then he's a good hitter. I tried my fast ball, too, and he whacked it against the screen in left.

I had a few rough seconds in the seventh when Neal hit that long one to right field. I pitched the ball just the way I wanted to, but for a minute I thought that it was when he got hold of it. Then I saw Jim Rivera hit it.

When I walked Chuck Essegian in the seventh it was simply because I didn't want to give him anything good. Remember he got a homer off me in that Chicago game. I tried to keep the ball low to him—and I did a little too low I guess.

We have another chance now and I think we'll do okay at home.

DOUBLE JEOPARDY
Barre, Vt.—UPI—Police arrested Howard Alexander, 32, of Wareham, Mass., for car theft after they gave him a ticket for illegal parking behind the city police station.

White Sox Back In Business In Series After 1-0 Verdict; Chicago Thursday Tilt Scene

Chicago—UPI—Facts and figures on the 1959 World Series:
Rivals—Chicago White Sox vs. Los Angeles Dodgers.
Results so far—Chicago 11, Los Angeles 0 (1st game); Los Angeles 4, Chicago 3 (2nd game); Los Angeles 3, Chicago 1 (3rd game); Los Angeles 5, Chicago 4 (4th game); Chicago 1, Los Angeles 0 (5th game).
Remaining schedule—At Chicago, games 6 and 7, if necessary, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 8, 9.
Radio and television—National Broadcasting Co. 9:45 a.m. (p.m.) at Chicago.
Sixth game pitchers—Early Wynn for White Sox and Johnny Podres for Dodgers.
Odds—White Sox favored at 11-10 to win sixth game; Dodgers favored at 13-5 to win series.
Financial figures for first five games:
Attendance—373,131.
Total receipts—$2,302,510.12.
First four games only:
X-players' share—$892,365.04 (first four games only).

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

Chicago—UPI—Chicago's "go-go" White Sox, back on their home grounds, vowed today that they'd make their economy type baseball pay off again to win the World Series in which they trail the Los Angeles Dodgers three games to two.

"We'll win it now," predicted White Sox manager Al Lopez.

He named Early Wynn as his starting pitcher when the series resumes in brick-walled Comiskey Park on Thursday. He'll be opposed by Johnny Podres, the scrappy lefthander who won the second game of the Series in Chicago last Friday.

"We're back in business when we make one run stand up," Lopez chuckled. "That's how we won the American league pennant. That's how we'll win the Series."

But he admitted that the White Sox, who went back to their black stockings Tuesday to change their luck, weren't out of baseball's woods.

"We have to get even first," he observed.

He didn't know whether his club would wear the white stockings they started the Series with, or the old black ones they switched to Tuesday when they kept their hopes alive with a 1-0 triumph before the largest throng in World Series history—92,706 in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

"It was trainer Ed Froelich's idea to change our stockings hoping to change our luck, and I went along with him because you do anything when you are desperate," Lopez explained.

And the White Sox were desperate Tuesday. They made a fourth inning run—scored on a doubleplay—hold up and withstood a Dodger eighth inning threat which will go down in Series history as one of the most dramatic of all times.

Manager Walter Alton of the Dodgers, still confident but lamenting that "we have to go all the way back to Chicago to wrap it up," gave Lopez credit for "putting the right man in the right spot at the right time."

"But we have Johnny ready for them Thursday, so maybe you stay here won't be too long," he added.

If Podres should lose, and Alton said "I don't think he will," he will go with Don Drysdale, his big side-wheeling right hander who won the third game, in the seventh and last-ditch clash.

Lopez would not go beyond naming Wynn as his sixth game starter.

Both clubs flew back here after that historic game in the vast Coliseum Tuesday.

"We were flying high because we are back on the beam," Lopez commented, cautiously ordering his club out for a workout this afternoon.

Hitting Practice Today
"We'll concentrate on hitting practice," he said. "We sure need it, especially with men on bases."

Actually, he didn't get it in Tuesday's win, for it was a double play ball which scored the winning run. Yet that was only typical of the kind of ball the White Sox have played all year.

Their backs to the wall, they threatened Sandy Koufax, the Dodgers' erratic, fire-throwing southpaw, in the third—and this time they were frustrated because their base stealing shoptop tried to take an extra base.

ings hoping to change our luck, and I went along with him because you do anything when you are desperate," Lopez explained.

And the White Sox were desperate Tuesday. They made a fourth inning run—scored on a doubleplay—hold up and withstood a Dodger eighth inning threat which will go down in Series history as one of the most dramatic of all times.

Manager Walter Alton of the Dodgers, still confident but lamenting that "we have to go all the way back to Chicago to wrap it up," gave Lopez credit for "putting the right man in the right spot at the right time."

"But we have Johnny ready for them Thursday, so maybe you stay here won't be too long," he added.

If Podres should lose, and Alton said "I don't think he will," he will go with Don Drysdale, his big side-wheeling right hander who won the third game, in the seventh and last-ditch clash.

Lopez would not go beyond naming Wynn as his sixth game starter.

Both clubs flew back here after that historic game in the vast Coliseum Tuesday.

"We were flying high because we are back on the beam," Lopez commented, cautiously ordering his club out for a workout this afternoon.

Hitting Practice Today
"We'll concentrate on hitting practice," he said. "We sure need it, especially with men on bases."

Actually, he didn't get it in Tuesday's win, for it was a double play ball which scored the winning run. Yet that was only typical of the kind of ball the White Sox have played all year.

Their backs to the wall, they threatened Sandy Koufax, the Dodgers' erratic, fire-throwing southpaw, in the third—and this time they were frustrated because their base stealing shoptop tried to take an extra base.

In the fourth, however, they cashed in on an opportunity—the kind that has been hitting pay dirt for them all year.

Battling Nellie Fox led off the inning with a single and raced to third as Jim Landis followed with a single. As Sherman Lollar hit into a double play, Fox scored with the run that stood up all the way.

The White Sox didn't mount any threats after that, but the Dodgers did and in the battle of managerial wits that followed, Lopez won out over Alton, thanks to big Dick Donovan.

That was in the story-book eighth.

It looked bad for the White Sox when Landis lost Wally Moon's fly ball to center in the sun and it fell in front of him for a single. Winning pitcher Bob Shaw retired Norm Larker on a fly ball, but Gil Hodges rifled a single to center, sending Moon to third. On the play, trying to get Moon at third, Hodges went on into second.

Now rival managers started making moves, one counter to the other.

Alton sent up left handed batter Ron Fairly to hit for righthander Don Demeter. Lopez took out Shaw and put in southpaw Billy Pierce. So Alton withdrew Fairly and sent up right-handed hitting Rip Repulski to the plate.

Lopez ordered Pierce to walk Repulski intentionally, filling the bases.

So Alton called on Carl Furillo, his pinch hitter de luxe in the pennant playoff against the Braves and in the Series. So Lopez took out Pierce and put in Donovan.

There were pinch runners, pinch hitters and a lot of Series records were tied or broken in the inning, but it mattered not to the White Sox for Donovan did the job.

He retired Furillo on a pop fly and Don Zimmer on a fly ball.

ings hoping to change our luck, and I went along with him because you do anything when you are desperate," Lopez explained.

And the White Sox were desperate Tuesday. They made a fourth inning run—scored on a doubleplay—hold up and withstood a Dodger eighth inning threat which will go down in Series history as one of the most dramatic of all times.

Manager Walter Alton of the Dodgers, still confident but lamenting that "we have to go all the way back to Chicago to wrap it up," gave Lopez credit for "putting the right man in the right spot at the right time."

"But we have Johnny ready for them Thursday, so maybe you stay here won't be too long," he added.

If Podres should lose, and Alton said "I don't think he will," he will go with Don Drysdale, his big side-wheeling right hander who won the third game, in the seventh and last-ditch clash.

Lopez would not go beyond naming Wynn as his sixth game starter.

Both clubs flew back here after that historic game in the vast Coliseum Tuesday.

"We were flying high because we are back on the beam," Lopez commented, cautiously ordering his club out for a workout this afternoon.

Hitting Practice Today
"We'll concentrate on hitting practice," he said. "We sure need it, especially with men on bases."

Actually, he didn't get it in Tuesday's win, for it was a double play ball which scored the winning run. Yet that was only typical of the kind of ball the White Sox have played all year.

Their backs to the wall, they threatened Sandy Koufax, the Dodgers' erratic, fire-throwing southpaw, in the third—and this time they were frustrated because their base stealing shoptop tried to take an extra base.

In the fourth, however, they cashed in on an opportunity—the kind that has been hitting pay dirt for them all year.

Battling Nellie Fox led off the inning with a single and raced to third as Jim Landis followed with a single. As Sherman Lollar hit into a double play, Fox scored with the run that stood up all the way.

The White Sox didn't mount any threats after that, but the Dodgers did and in the battle of managerial wits that followed, Lopez won out over Alton, thanks to big Dick Donovan.

That was in the story-book eighth.

It looked bad for the White Sox when Landis lost Wally Moon's fly ball to center in the sun and it fell in front of him for a single. Winning pitcher Bob Shaw retired Norm Larker on a fly ball, but Gil Hodges rifled a single to center, sending Moon to third. On the play, trying to get Moon at third, Hodges went on into second.

Now rival managers started making moves, one counter to the other.

Alton sent up left handed batter Ron Fairly to hit for righthander Don Demeter. Lopez took out Shaw and put in southpaw Billy Pierce. So Alton withdrew Fairly and sent up right-handed hitting Rip Repulski to the plate.

Lopez ordered Pierce to walk Repulski intentionally, filling the bases.

So Alton called on Carl Furillo, his pinch hitter de luxe in the pennant playoff against the Braves and in the Series. So Lopez took out Pierce and put in Donovan.

There were pinch runners, pinch hitters and a lot of Series records were tied or broken in the inning, but it mattered not to the White Sox for Donovan did the job.

He retired Furillo on a pop fly and Don Zimmer on a fly ball.

MEDFORD TRIBUNE SPORTS

SOX CHANGE SOCKS—Chicago's White Sox changed the color of their stockings for yesterday's fifth game of the baseball World Series, putting on their old black stockings trimmed with red and white. With the change the Sox hoped to better their luck—and they did, edging the Los Angeles Dodgers 1 to 0. Here "black soxer" Norm Cash adjusts the new stockings before start of game. Dodger Manager Walt Alton commented, "You don't pick up balls or grounders with your stockings."
—(UPI Telephoto)

Optimism Displayed By Chisox

Los Angeles—UPI—The Chicago White Sox were converted from a very, very glum group into a bunch of cheering, wild-eyed optimists Tuesday when their 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series.

Still trailing 3-2 games, the Sox players whooped it up in their dressing room.

"I think we'll win it now!" said Manager Al Lopez against the background of shouts and laughter.

"We're in great shape now," he explained in his quiet way. "We're going back home where we always do better and we're gonna come back with Early Wynn on Thursday."

The Dodger dressing room was quiet by comparison to the Chicago quarters but Manager Walt Alton and his players did not seem downcast.

Alton pointed to a chalked slogan on a blackboard—"one to go, go, go," and smiled, "that still goes for us."

Alton gave Lopez credit for saving the game when he moved Jim Rivera into the right field spot in the seventh inning. Rivera made a running one-hand catch of a 390-foot blast by Charley Neal to end a Dodger scoring threat.

"Give Lopez credit for putting the right man in the spot at the right time," Alton said. "That was the key play of the game."

Grimm Mason Has Operation

Portland—UPI—Ailing Oregon State college tailback Grimm Mason underwent knee surgery in Emanuel hospital here Tuesday. A physician said Mason would remain hospitalized for another 12 days, and then may return to school on crutches.

Grade Football Season Begins This Thursday

Expansion of the Medford school system is shown by this year's elementary school football schedule.

Not long ago there was just one grade school league in Medford. More recently there have been two. This year there will be three separate loops in football.

Members of the American league are Griffin Creek, Hoover, Howard and Lincoln. In the Rogue Valley league are Oak Grove, Jacksonville, West Side and Lone Pine. Making up the National league are Roosevelt, Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Wilson.

Opening games are set for Thursday at 4 p.m. with Griffin Creek and Hoover meeting at the high school and Howard and Lincoln vying at Hawthorne park.

Friday action will be Oak Grove at Jacksonville, West Side at Lone Pine, Roosevelt versus Washington at high school and Jefferson at Jackson.

National league slate continues through Nov. 6. American and Rogue Valley teams wind-up on Oct. 29 with inter-league play.

Soph May See Lots of Center Duty for OSC

Corvallis, Ore.—UPI—Coach Tommy Prothro says the Oregon State Beavers are in good shape for Saturday's inter-sectional battle with Michigan at every position except center.

Prothro told a sports luncheon Tuesday that center Doug Bashor was out with a knee injury and Bruce Haake has not demonstrated his ability to go a full game.

The coach said sophomore Bob Lea would probably see plenty of action in the pivot spot.

The Beavers sharpened up their passing attack in practice Tuesday even though the weatherman has predicted rain for the Wolverine tussle.

NAIA District Bills Awards Dinner in May

McMinnville—UPI—All-star NAIA District 2 teams in football, basketball and baseball will be announced at an awards banquet May 21 in Portland.

This was decided here Tuesday night at the annual fall meeting of District 2 member schools.

Those represented were Linfield, Willamette, Pacific, Lewis and Clark, Southern Oregon, Eastern Oregon, Oregon College of Education and Portland State.

The district wrestling meet was awarded to OCE, to be held March 12.

Presiding over the session was Dr. Bob Livingston, OCE athletic director and chairman of the district.

Sugar Kings Cop Little Series

Havana—UPI—The Havana Sugar Kings pushed over a run in the ninth inning to beat the Minneapolis Millers, 3-2, Tuesday night and win the Little World Series.

The Sugar Kings, winners of the International League playoff, overcame a 2-0 Minneapolis lead by tying the score with two runs in the eighth inning.

Raoul Sanchez was the winning pitcher and Billy Muffet the loser for the American Association champions.

Cuba has the largest Chinese population in Latin America.

Keele Receives Player Honor

Portland—UPI—Tom Keele, University of Oregon tackle, was selected Tuesday as "Oregon College Player of the Week," according to Bob Swan, president of the Portland Linebacker club.

The selection is made weekly by a panel of sportswriters throughout the state, Swan said.

Previous winners were Dave Grosz and Dave Powell of Oregon, Jerry Doman, Oregon State end, receiver of the second place award.

Los Angeles—UPI—The Los Angeles Rams have acquired defensive halfback Carl Korylitz from the New York Giants for an undisclosed draft choice. Korylitz, a former Syracuse university star who spent six years with the Giants, replaced the injured Gene Brito on the Ram squad.

BARKER'S

FOOTBALL CONTEST

INSTRUCTIONS: Check the team you pick to win. If you pick a tie game, check both teams. All slips must be at the store by 5:30 Friday evening.

October 10th

<input type="checkbox"/>	Notre Dame at California
<input type="checkbox"/>	Illinois at Ohio State
<input type="checkbox"/>	Michigan State at Iowa
<input type="checkbox"/>	Minnesota at Northwestern
<input type="checkbox"/>	Oregon State at Michigan
<input type="checkbox"/>	Wisconsin at Purdue
<input type="checkbox"/>	Stanford at Washington
<input type="checkbox"/>	Oklahoma vs Texas
<input type="checkbox"/>	Washington State at C.O.P.
<input type="checkbox"/>	Duke at Pittsburgh
<input type="checkbox"/>	Crater at Medford

Medford Games Friday Night

A NECKTIE GIVEN EACH WEEK TO EVERYONE IN THE GROUP PICKING THE MOST WINNERS!

There are eleven weeks of play. $75 in merchandise to the highest score for any ten weeks. $50 in trade for second place and $25 for third. Prizes are to be split in case of ties. Each week everyone in the group picking the most winners wins a $1.50 necktie. ONLY ONE ENTRY PER PERSON.

Name _____
Address _____

LAST WEEK'S WINNERS

(10 Out of 11 Correct)

Betty Watkins
Vernon Harper

Barker's

MAIN AT CENTRAL

Buy Builders Supply
At

QUALITY BLOCKS
Drain Tile
Bricks, Flues
727
W. McAndrews
Phone SP 3-4575 or SP 2-4107

enjoy

the true old-style
Kentucky Bourbon

always smoother because it's slow-distilled

EARLY TIMES

KENTUCKY STRAIGHT
BOURBON WHISKY • 86 PROOF
EARLY TIMES DISTILLERY CO.,
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY

HOCKEY

United Press International
The National Hockey League, which enjoyed its best season ever last year, begins its 43rd year of operation Wednesday night with the New York Rangers meeting the Black Hawks in Chicago.

Thursday night the four-time Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens open their bid for a third straight league pennant against Boston at the Montreal Forum.

And on Saturday all six teams are in action. New York will be at Boston, Detroit at Montreal and Chicago at Toronto.

United Press International
The Providence Reds used an ex-major leaguer to spoil the Quebec Aces' debut in the American Hockey league.

Earl (Dutch) Reibel, who played six years in the National League with Detroit, Chicago and Boston, tallied a goal and an assist in sparking the Reds to a 5-2 victory over the Aces Tuesday night at Quebec.

NIGHT SHIFT

South Burlington, Vt.—UPI—When city police chief Robert Sparno was seen digging holes after midnight he explained that he had been ordered to put up some "no speeding" signs by 8 a.m.

DuPont recommends:

To be safest,
pay your dealer to install your anti-freeze
properly

ZEREX

DU PONT

Anti-freeze

...and specify DuPont ZEREX® anti-freeze with MR-8... it protects better chemically, prevents rust clogging!

NOW $2³⁹ per gallon,
plus installation

Don't drop the ball...
the goal
is in sight

GIVE THE UNITED WAY

MEDFORD MAIL TRIBUNE