

HERMISTON POLICEMAN MURDERED

Parents Certain Montana Girls Kidnap Victims

Helena, Mont.—(UPI)—The parents of three teen-age girls who disappeared six days ago with two escaped convicts and an ex-convict, said today they were convinced the girls were abducted.

The search for the missing girls and the three men moved today from Montana to southern Idaho, where a gas station attendant in Arco said he serviced the stolen 1959 sedan in which the teen-agers left Helena with the men.

Officials had kept the girls' disappearance secret until Wednesday, for fear the men might panic and harm them.

Claudia Fuller and Sharon Balazs, both 17, and Sharon McDowell, 16, apparently climbed willingly into the pink sedan at noon last Friday.

California Convicts Involved

With them were escaped California convicts George R. Janz, 29, and Frank H. Spicer, 24, and ex-convict Frank I. Fisher, 20. The men came to Helena recently in the pink car, believed to have been stolen in Snohomish, Wash.

The three men, charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, struck up an acquaintance with the girls and dated them.

"They told the girls they had just been discharged from the service and pooled their money to buy the car," said Mrs. Darline McDowell.

She and the parents of the other girls worried and fretted while officers in three states searched for the girls and the three men.

"They must have been kidnaped," said Mrs. Adella Balazs, Sharon's widowed mother. "It's horrible. She's never been away from home at night before."

Cecil Fuller, Claudia's father, said he knew that "anything that happened was against her will."

"I had just bought her a nice little car and I was going to put a radio in it for her," he said.

All the girls were described by neighbors as being quiet, well-behaved and trustworthy, and school principals Winston Weaver said they never gave up any trouble.

Corvallis—(UPI)—By this week, registration at Oregon State college climbed to 7,609. This compared with 7,862 last year.

Large Turnout of Voters Mark Ballots in Britain

London—(UPI)—Millions of Britons poured into polling booths today to pick a new House of Commons in an election regarded as one of the closest in modern British history. The choice was between conservatism and socialism.

Reports from throughout the country indicated a massive turnout, possibly even greater than the 76 per cent who voted in the 1955 elections.

Queues Form Early

In some places, queues of voters formed even before the booths opened at 7 a. m. in churches, schools and homes throughout the nation. The polls close at 9 p. m. Through-

Senator Advocates Peace, Disarmament In Breakfast Here

"Peace, disarmament and constructive works" were the national goals Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) advocated here today at a breakfast meeting with Jackson county Democrats.

Sen. Humphrey, on a rapid tour of Oregon communities, was to appear this noon at Roseburg and later at Coos Bay. He came here from Klamath Falls to speak before some 60 persons at Ping's Garden restaurant.

The second-term senator and former mayor of Minneapolis, a candidate for the Democratic 1960 presidential nomination, urged a positive attitude toward world peace.

Role as Peacemaker

The U. S. government has failed to emphasize its role as a peacemaker in its dealings with the Soviet Union, the senator said, and has also failed to emphasize "not that capitalism is a better system but that freedom is."

The question, he continued, is not who makes the most bathtubs and tractors but "what kind of a society you have."

"The difference is a spiritual one and not a financial one."

With respect to disarmament, Sen. Humphrey warned that this country must be prepared for the economic shift that would follow any major cutback in arms production.

Shifting Gears

He pointed out that the Soviet Union is capable of rapidly shifting its economic gears, and compared this to "our inability to quickly re-adjust our economy."

"We are starting staff studies in Congress, he said, "on economic plans that relate to any form of disarmament. We ought to have plans on what would happen if our whole economy was suddenly to change."

Humphrey disagreed with the opinion held in some quarters that American munitions manufacturers oppose arms cutbacks because of the effect on their business and that they apply pressure in Washington to prevent disarmament.

"These people," he said both of the businessmen and of laborers, "don't want to keep the cold war going because they want to have jobs. These people want jobs, period."

But, he said, "They have to out the day, party workers reported a steady stream of voters.

The weather was excellent. Early mist and fog quickly gave way to bright and warm autumn skies.

Swing to Macmillan

Public opinion straw polls showed a sharp, last minute swing in favor of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative party.

The voting would decide whether Macmillan, a close friend of President Eisenhower for 17 years, or Labor Party Leader Hugh Gaitskell would represent Britain at a summit meeting with Russia's Nikita Khrushchev.

Stubblefield Twin Sinking Due To Breathing Trouble

Other Girl Said To Be 'Pretty Good'

Portland—(UPI)—Authorities at the University of Oregon Medical School hospital said today that one of the Stubblefield Siamese twins was "sinking rapidly" due to breathing trouble. The spokesman said the condition of Jeanett Stubblefield worsened this morning.

The spokesman said "things look pretty dark. She started to get worse about 7:30 a. m. It's her breathing."

Tracheotomy Performed

Jeanett and her twin, Dennet, were separated by surgery in a lengthy operation Tuesday. They had been joined from the breastbone to the navel and had adjoining heart sacs and livers.

A tracheotomy Wednesday was performed on Jeanett when her breathing became difficult. The main problem was trying to keep the bronchial tubes clear of mucus.

Both girls were in oxygen tents and were fed intravenously.

Other Girl 'Pretty Good'

The spokesman said Dennet's condition seemed to be "pretty good" today. The girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Stubblefield, were born one month premature at Nyssa, Ore., and were rushed here the next day.

When the decision to separate the girls was made, medical authorities said there were great risks involved but enough of a chance for survival to warrant an operation.

DA Asks Agencies To Enforce Law

District Attorney Thomas J. Reeder today announced he has asked local law enforcement agencies to enforce the new state law against juveniles' smoking.

This law, as passed in the 1959 Legislature, makes it illegal both for a person to furnish tobacco in any form and in any manner to a minor under 18, and for a minor under 18 to smoke, use, or possess any form of tobacco in any public place. It also holds a business person liable for minors' using tobacco at the place of business.

The law, as Reeder explained, it represents a revision and simplification of former statutes. Formerly, but no more, a person could furnish tobacco to a minor under 18 if the minor had proper written consent.

"This will be a difficult law to enforce," Reeder commented. "However, it is our plain duty to do the best we can."

"We particularly wish to prevent students under the age of 18 years from smoking around our schools and other public places."

Dodgers Wrap It Up

Los Angeles Wins Clincher By 9-3 Score

Essegian Raps 2nd Pinch-Hit Homer

Chicago—(UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers won the World Series today when they crushed the Chicago White Sox, 9-3 to write a new baseball "rags to riches" story.

A riotous fourth inning in which the Dodgers came up with six runs was the difference and crushed the White Sox' hopes of removing the stigma set on them 40 years ago when the "Black Sox" threw the series to the Cincinnati Reds.

As for the Dodgers it meant bringing the first world's baseball championship to the Golden West and one of the greatest comebacks in the history of the game.

Riches Series

They took it from there to defeat the White Sox four games to two in this richest and largest attended World Series of all time. Home runs by Duke Snider, Wally Moon and pinch-hitter Chuck Essegian's second as a substitute batsman in the series triggered the Dodgers to victory.

White starter Johnny Podres could not hold the eight-run lead which the Dodgers gave him in the first four innings. Sherry came on to thwart the White Sox and win his second game of the series.

Sherry saved two others to make him one of the biggest heroes in Dodger history. A crowd of 47,633 sat in on this dark, chilly afternoon and saw their American League champions go down to defeat.

The Dodgers got off to an early lead when Snider, hitting his 11th series home run, started putting the crusher on White Sox starter Early Wynn in the third inning. It came with two out and a teammate on base. Then came that big fourth. The Dodgers sent 10 men to the plate, with Moon's home run the big blow of the inning.

The White Sox came back with three runs when big Ted Kluszewski's third homer of the series knocked out Podres. But then Sherry came on, and that was the end of the White Sox.

U.S., Mexico Reach Agreement On Laborers

Washington—(UPI)—The United States and Mexico have completed negotiations for a new bracero agreement permitting Mexican nationals to perform agricultural work in this country, it was learned today.

The new agreement will go into effect Nov. 1 under terms of a federal law extending until 1961. However, the Labor Department said it would ask renewal authorization for the so-called bracero program when Congress convenes in January.

The State and Labor department would not disclose details of the new agreement until the treaties actually are signed.

Ranch Hand Tasks

But United Press International learned authoritatively that braceros would be allowed to perform ranch hand tasks. Previously, they were limited to crop work. Ranch hand jobs would be defined when the agreements are published.

It was understood another change would permit deductions of 20 cents a month from a worker's pay. The money would be remitted by the American employer to the Mexican government for non-occupational insurance for the braceros.

Other changes in the agreement were described as "technical" and would not alter basic costs or aims of the program.

Judge Withholds Ruling in Case

Circuit Judge James M. Main is withholding his ruling on defendant's answers to Mrs. Bertha Gammill's complaint regarding Phoenix school district matters pending submission of memoranda of authorities from the parties concerned.

Mrs. Gammill was named as defendant in the Jackson County School District Reorganization committee and Jackson County School District Boundary board. The complaint was filed Sept. 14. It asks among other things that the Phoenix-Talent school district consolidation election Sept. 16 and the boundary board action affecting land near Barnett rd. both be nullified.

Deputy District Attorney Gerald Scannell, representing the defendants, responded with a demurrer seeking to dismiss the reorganization committee from the suit as not being properly a defendant and with a "motion to elect" asking that Mrs. Gammill be made to choose one objective or the other as the basis of her suit.

Four Speakers Are Featured at Today's Juvenile Conference

Four speakers were featured at today's session of the Centennial year conference of the Oregon Juvenile Council which started at the Jackson county courthouse auditorium yesterday.

Ray Reese of the Oregon State Public Welfare Commission spoke on "Oregon Joins the Interstate Juvenile Compact," and Lyle Mullin, juvenile court counselor in Multnomah county, discussed "The Juvenile Court and the Traffic Offender" at this morning's session.

Dr. Raymond Lowe of the University of Oregon discussed the relationship between juvenile courts and the public schools late this morning, and Eric W. Allen Jr., managing editor of the Medford Mail Tribune, spoke at the noon luncheon at the Medford hotel, conference headquarters.

Allen's talk was on the relationship between the press and juvenile authorities.

Workshop Panels

This morning's talks were the subject for three workshop panels this afternoon. They are the interstate compact, juvenile court and the traffic offender and school court problems. Other workshop topics this afternoon include the new juvenile code and police responsibility, adoption, new laws, more resources for children, and new legislation relating to Fairview home.

Yesterday afternoon's workshops centered on Oregon's new juvenile code.

Representative Edith Green, Portland, will speak on "Federal Legislation for Youth" at the Council's annual banquet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Rogue Valley Country club.

Medical Aspects

At Wednesday's luncheon Dr. Camilla Anderson focused the delegates' attention on a medical aspect of the delinquency problem: the effects of brain damage on later development.

She pointed out that many behavior defects are being misunderstood, and are assumed to be the result of family problems or other "environmental" situations. Actually, she said, the defects can be the direct result of physical damage to the brain.

Dr. Anderson described how this damage would af-

Two Suspects Under Arrest In Washington

Passing Motorist Radios Station

Hermiston, Ore.—(UPI)—A Hermiston city police officer was shot and killed early today after he chased a car out of the city limits on Highway 32 to the north.

The victim was Officer Ronald Kilby, about 28. His body was found in a ditch near his patrol car.

Less than an hour after an all points bulletin was issued, officers in Benton county, Wash., picked up two suspects at a roadblock on a gravel road four miles west of Kennewick.

Both Have Records

They were identified as Walter Wicken, 29, and Wilfred H. Ogden Jr., both of Pasco. Both have police records in the Tri-Cities area and both have served time in the Washington State Penitentiary.

Kilby had worked for the Hermiston force for about two months. He was married and the father of four children. His parents live in Tillamook.

Hermiston police said Kilby radioed in that he was giving chase to a car and was heading north toward McNary dam. At 4:21 a. m. he again radioed, and said he had stopped the vehicle and would question the occupants and call back.

Motorist Calls In

The radio officer here said the next voice he heard was a strange one over Kilby's radio. It said: "Police station. This is your police car. It looks like your officer has been in trouble. His cap and flashlight are lying on the highway and the police car's red light is on and going."

Hermiston Police Chief William A. Silvey said the person who called in was another motorist who happened by and decided to notify headquarters when the officer could not be found.

Silvey went out himself and found Kilby's body. He ordered an all-points bulletin.

Benton County Deputy Sheriff Ted Gallinger, called out of bed to join in the search, said he spotted a car going down a gravel road and stopped it. Inside were three youths, one of whom he knew.

They told Gallinger a car matching the description of the wanted car had passed them a few minutes before. Gallinger said, "I took off after it and saw the dust and followed it from there. They were driving with their lights off and I wasn't, so I was gaining on them."

He followed them to a roadblock set up by the state patrol, sheriff's deputies and Kennewick police. The two men were taken to Kennewick and held for questioning by Oregon officers.

Coffee Hour Set For Edith Green

A coffee hour for Representative Edith Green, Portland, will be held between 10 and 11:30 a. m. Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duncan, 1500 Terrace dr., Medford.

Mrs. Green is in Medford to attend the annual meeting of the Oregon Juvenile Council, and will speak at the council's annual banquet at the Rogue Valley Country club tonight.

The coffee hour is open to the public.

10 More Cases of Polio in Oregon in One Week

Portland—(UPI)—Polio struck 10 more Oregon residents last week and probably was responsible for the deaths of two others, the Oregon State Board of Health said today.

The board said the total was the highest since the week ending Sept. 5 and only slightly below the 1959 high of 16 cases recorded during the week of Aug. 29.

Season Not Over

Dr. Samuel B. Osgood, state epidemiologist, said this was a "grim reminder that the polio season is not yet over in Oregon and that polio immunization programs should be pushed with vigor in order to prevent further death and disability next year."

Seven of the eight paralytic cases last week were in young adults, between the ages of 20 and 35.

One Had Vaccine

Dr. Osgood said only one of the stricken had received any polio vaccine. The one who did have vaccine had only one shot.

Wednesday's report brought the 1959 Oregon polio case total to 122. Ninety-five of those were paralytic.
