

PRINCESS IN PARIS — Holding her daughter, Princess Caroline, Princess Grace of Monaco, the former Grace Kelly of movie fame, arrives in Paris from Monaco. Her second child, Prince Albert, came with them. They will wait in Paris for the arrival of Prince Rainier, sovereign of Monaco. Next week the Monegasque ruler will be official guests of the French government. (UPI Telephoto)

Wall Street Chatter

New York—Traditional promising growth prospects for its major product lines, retains its "long-pull" attraction at present levels in the market.

As investors become more sophisticated they are putting the accent on earnings—current and future—rather than on dividends, the P-H report on business points out.

As the combined burden of federal, state and local taxes becomes heavier, more investors are realizing that earnings are the more valuable, the report says.

"When you own a stock, you get not only its current dividend return," it adds, "but also the potential for long-term growth in earnings due to the use of both retained earnings and depreciation reserves."

Reynolds & Co. says it still recommends Electric Storage Battery as an "attractive commitment in today's market." The firm called attention to this issue last November when it was selling at 36.

Benson Setting Traveling Record

Washington—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson is rapidly filling the shoes of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as the Eisenhower administration's greatest traveler.

Benson returns Friday from a 10,000-mile tour of Europe with his wife and two of his daughters.

With the end of his current trip, Benson will have rolled up 546,939 miles of official government travel in the United States and overseas since 1953.

The mileage is enough to take him to the moon and back with 60,000 miles left over. The distance traveled is still 13,049 miles behind the Dulles record, but Benson could easily crack that mark before the year is over.
