Mrs. Greive is staying in Yreka with some of her children in order to be near her son, William R. (Bill) Greive, 43, who is confined to the Siskiyou General hospital there. Greive is in critical condition with multiple fractures of the chest and upper extremities. He was injured in a hunting accident about 5 p.m. Oct. 4, when he and a companion were attempting to drive a jeep out of a canyon near Six Mile creek in the Siphon lake area west of Callahan. The brakes on the jeep failed and it overturned backward.

Demand for Treasury Notes Past Week's Big Market News

By ELMER C. WALZER UPI Financial Editor New York—(UPI)—The stock market barely held its own during last week, piling into a significance to an almost sensation of demand for the treasury's new 5 percent four-year and ten-month notes. The treasury offered $2 billion of the notes and received subscriptions for more than $11 billion. Bankers said the issue was priced right to attract investors and it did from coast to coast.

Central was soft for a time on a no other dividend omission. Steels firmed after irregularity in several sessions. Continental Steel rose when the management indicated it may vote to split the stock. Drugs had their strong spots. So did the tire issues. General Tire raised its dividend and declared a 2 percent stock dividend. Many special issues showed good gains. Some encountered difficulties. Schenley fell off for a time when a leading brokerage house removed it from its investment list. Brunswick B. Balke fell on retirement of debentures which will result in an increase in its outstanding stock. Phillips responded by its officials. Week's Shares 11,862,845 Sales for the week totaled 11,862,845 shares, a daily average of 2,372,569 shares. This compared with 13,638,990 shares, or a daily average of 2,727,798 shares in the previous week and 19,104,940 shares for the week—3,820,988 shares daily—year ago. The Dow-Jones industrial average closed the week at 638.98 up 0.41 point; railroad 158.67, off 0.18; utility 87.93, off 0.93; and 65 stocks 123.33, off 0.37. The Standard & Poor's 500-stock index lost 20 cents a share on the week which meant a billion dollar loss in valuation for the entire market. American Motors with sales of 295,300 shares led the market in trading volume. It rose from 47 1/4 to a new high at 64 1/2 and closed the week at 62 1/2 up 1 1/2 points from the previous week.

Eisenhower Marks 69th Anniversary; Health Said Good

Washington (UPI)—President Eisenhower will celebrate his 69th birthday Wednesday, ending a year in which he has enjoyed general good health and carried on a highly vigorous round of activities. Only two other presidents—Andrew Jackson and James Buchanan—have attained age 69 while serving in the White House. They did so in their final year in office. Eisenhower could become the oldest man ever to be president before his term expires 15 months from now. Generally Good Health He will enter his 70th year in what Pres. Secretary James C. Hagerly described recently as generally good health, apart from remnants of the cold he tried to cure with sunshine in California last week. And he will be nearing the end of a calendar year in which even his most vocal opponents have described him as a more active, more effective and more successful president than he was before. No announcement has been made as to how he will celebrate his birthday with the first lady and their family. But Eisenhower already will have two big birthday observances behind him when Wednesday arrives. Monday night he was the honor guest of 1,100 members of the White House correspondents association at a black-tie dinner marking his birthday. Flies To Abilene Today he was to fly by Air Force jet transport to his home town of Abilene, Kan., for ground-breaking ceremonies at a new library to be built in his honor. He will stay overnight in Abilene and fly back to Washington early Wednesday. The President, now in what has been described as his happiest era in the White House, can look back at Oct. 14, 1955, when he observed his 65th birthday in a hospital bed in Denver, recovering from his heart attack of the month before. Ileitis in 1956 and a mild stroke in 1957 marred the health picture in subsequent years. But the President's 69th year has been devoid of serious illness and has been the occasion for a step-up in personal activity.

His companion, Frank Brahs, suffering from a broken foot, walked 5 miles to their base camp to get help. Because of the inaccessibility of the area in which the accident occurred, it was not until 3 a.m. Monday that a rescue party including Sheriff Al Cottar and Dr. R. W. Bay were able to reach the badly injured man, who was unable to move. After arriving at the scene, assisted by Forest Ranger Bill Howard of the Callahan district, it was determined that there was no place for a helicopter to land, so Greive was packed out on a stretcher. With the assistance of other deer hunters, he was brought out of the canyon, then taken by jeep to the main Callahan rd. where an Etna ambulance was waiting to take him to Yreka. By the end of the week, Greive had shown some improvement, but he is still reported on the critical list. He resides in Yreka with his wife, Verna, and son Edwin.

Townsend Faces Religious Storm In Wedding Plan

Brasschat, Belgium (UPI)—Another religious storm was blowing up today in the latest chapter of the lives and loves of handsome Peter Townsend of handsome Peter Townsend who lost Britain's Princess Margaret four years ago this month. The former Royal Air Force hero was anxious to avoid any religious difficulties but the announcement of his engagement and forthcoming marriage to Belgian beauty Marie-Luce Jamagne, heiress to a cigarette fortune, saw possible trouble ahead. Church Bites Impossible Miss Jamagne is a Roman Catholic, and church sources said Townsend's divorce from his first wife, who is still living, would make a church ceremony impossible. It was the fact that he is a divorced man that ended his romance with Princess Margaret. Townsend, 44, told a news conference that the question of the church ceremony was a "very delicate question" and that he can only say that all its aspects are being studied thoroughly. Only One God "I have worshipped in many places all over the world, including Buddhist and Hindu temples," he said. "I believe there is only one God for all men." Townsend is an Anglican. He has two sons, aged 14 and 18, by his former marriage. Miss Jamagne's parish priest was reported to be disturbed over the engagement, which was announced Saturday, but neither Townsend nor his fiancée seemed perturbed about the matter. Townsend and the slender, dark-haired Miss Jamagne said they hoped to be married "very discreetly, within some three months."
