

Directors Given
 10 Days to File
 Amended Suit

The Eagle Point Irrigation district's directors Monday were given 10 days in which to file an amended complaint in their injunction suit against water-users Howard and Ann Todd.

Circuit Judge Edward C. Kelly announced this requirement in open court after discussing the suit in his chambers for over two hours with the Todds and Ben Day, attorney for the district.

After the amended complaint is filed, the Todds will have another 10 days in which to file an answer.

Hearings Shelved
 Meanwhile, the succession of Monday afternoon hearings on whether to issue a temporary restraining order against the Todds pending trial of the suit has been shelved.

The directors are seeking to restrain the Todds from alleged "disturbances" at board meetings which allegedly interfere with the orderly conduct of business. The original complaint, filed last August, referred specifically to business which would be up for consideration at the September board meeting.

Since that meeting is now passed, Judge Kelly commented, "As it now stands the whole controversy appears to be moot." He suggested that the complaint should be amended to allege what specific matters of district business would be interfered with in the future, and why the board was unable to conduct this business at the regular meetings.

Streetcar Union
 To Vote on Pay

Portland —UPI— The Streetcar Union was scheduled to vote today on a new wage offer from Rose City Transit Company.

If approved the proposal would knock out the threat of a city-wide shutdown of bus service here Oct. 31 when the present employee contract expires.

Approval also would pave the way for the company to sign a new two-year operating permit with the city.

The offer calls for a 13-cent hourly pay hike package for all "hourly" employees over a period of two years.

 Watertown, Mass. —UPI— Dr. Isabelle D. Kerr, 78, a Boston nose and throat specialist, died Monday.
