Good Humor Men May Lose Humor

Buxton, England—(UPI)—Britain's good humor men may lose their good humor when they hear this one—

Addressing the annual conference of the Ice Cream Alliance, C. T. Heinlein said under a new code, ice cream sellers who use vehicles will be recommended:

—To use musical chimes which will not sound more frequently than every five minutes.

—To be sure the chimes sound only for five seconds at a time.

—Never to increase the volume of the chimes.

—And to observe a "curfew of 7 p.m." after which time chimes should be kept at a minimum.

'Pappy' Boyington Divorced by Wife

Los Angeles—(UPI)—Gregory (Pappy) Boyington, 56-year-old World War II flying ace, was divorced on grounds of cruelty Tuesday by his wife of nearly 14 years.

"He would pick fights with me," charged Mrs. Frances Boyington, 41. "He would go into tantrums and kick doors down."

Boyington was credited with shooting down 28 Japanese airplanes during World War II.

Sales Increase in Oregon Retail Stores

Portland—(UPI)—The Department of Commerce said today Oregon retail store sales last year totaled $2,100,000,000, a hike of $67 million over the previous tally of 1954. The increase reflected a nine per cent upswing.

The 1958 figure, however, was below the national figure, which was an increase of 17 per cent.

Hay Truck, Train Collide in Ashland

Ashland—A truck filled with hay and a Southern Pacific freight train collided this morning, spilling hay bundles and gasoline and tying up traffic for 30 minutes, city police reported.

Police said the collision occurred on East Main st. at the Southern Pacific tracks when the truck's driver, Albert Cecil Acklin, 45, of Bonanza, failed to obey a stop sign at the crossing. Acklin was cited for failure to stop, according to the report.

The locomotive, operated by J. R. Whitlock, Dunsmuir, Calif., struck the truck's cab, police said. Acklin afterward complained of a sore shoulder. Police said the truck appeared to be a total loss.

Meanwhile, Rosco Allen Smith, 32, of 550 Siskiyou blvd., was in city jail awaiting a court appearance to answer traffic citations for violating the basic rule and for driving while his license was suspended, according to police. Smith was taken into custody after his vehicle knocked over a fire hydrant on a traffic island on Siskiyou blvd. at Beach st. about 4:30 o'clock this morning, police reported.
