

Bus Crash Kills Woman; 28 Hurt

Princeton, Ind. — (UPI) — A woman was killed and 28 other persons treated at a hospital when a Florida-to-Chicago Greyhound bus overturned on a highway where a dual-lane stretch narrowed into a two-lane pavement.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Mary Alice Bohanon, 43, of Jasper, Ala. She was crushed beneath the heavy coach after being thrown out on the pavement.

Gibson County hospital said two women passengers were injured seriously among 28 persons who were admitted for examination and treatment. Twelve passengers were admitted as bed patients.

One of the injured passengers was Steve Perkins, a sportswriter for the Evansville (Ind.) Sunday Courier-Press. It was believed Perkins was en route to Peoria, Ill., to cover the Evansville-Bradley college football game.

The accident occurred at 12:50 a.m. as the bus, northbound on the last leg of a run from St. Petersburg, Fla., to Chicago, went out of control on U.S. 41 about three miles south of Princeton.

The driver, Otis M. Rieber, 38, Paris, Ill., said he lost control at a point where the road narrows. Police said the bus apparently slipped off the pavement and overturned when the driver attempted to edge back onto the highway.

Cancer Society To Study Families

Portland — (UPI) — A medical statistical study will be made with 17,000 Oregon families this winter by the Oregon division of the American Cancer society in an attempt to uncover any cancer-causing factors in environment.

The research project is part of a nation-wide program which will involve a half a million families. Twenty-two states are taking part.

The researchers will gather data on how people live, where they work, what they eat and drink, what their personal habits are, where they live, what kind of air they breathe, their illnesses and symptoms of illness and their family background.

William B. Feldenheimer, president of the Oregon division, said that all the information would be kept "strictly confidential." Each questionnaire, he said, would be put into a sealed envelope to be opened only by scientists conducting the study.

Death Claims General Marshall Military Genius and Peacemaker

Washington — (UPI) — General of the Army George Catlett Marshall, who proved his military genius fighting tyranny in three wars and then won the Nobel Prize as a peacemaker, died Friday night.

The soft-spoken soldier-statesman passed away at Walter Reed Army hospital where he had been undergoing treatment for a stroke he suffered last winter. He was 78. His long-time aide said Mrs. Marshall took the death "very hard."

President Eisenhower, whose own rise to military glory was helped greatly by Marshall, led the worldwide tributes to the five-star general whose Marshall Plan is credited with saving Europe from economic collapse after World War II and ebbing the tide of Communism there.

Eisenhower said Marshall's death was a "cause for profound grief throughout the United States." The President praised Marshall as "one of the distinguished military leaders of our century, an example of devotion to service and duty, an outstanding American."

Marshall, who served his nation in war and peace as Army chief of staff, secretary of state and defense secretary, will be buried Tuesday with simple military honors beside the country's other heroes among the green hills of Arlington Cemetery.

Funeral services will be conducted by Canon Luther D. Miller of Washington National Cathedral. The honorary pallbearers will include some of the nation's most famous military men and diplomats plus two master sergeants who served as Marshall's orderlies.

Eisenhower issued a proclamation immediately after the death ordering that all U.S. flags be lowered to half-staff until after the funeral.

The defense department said Marshall's death, at 3:08 p.m. (P.S.T.), was caused by age combined with complications resulting from cardiovascular renal kidney disease and cerebral vascular accidents which began when he suffered a brain spasm last Jan. 15.

After the initial spasm at his winter home in Pinehurst, N.C., Marshall was taken to Womack Army hospital, Ft. Bragg, N.C. where he suffered a more severe stroke Feb. 17. He was flown to Walter Reed March 11 where he was for a time a fellow-patient of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Survived by Sister Marshall, his second wife, had been in "almost constant attendance since the general's initial accident." But Lt. Col. Clarence J. George, Marshall's aide for 13 years, said she was not at the bedside when the end came.

In addition to Mrs. Marshall, the general is survived by a sister, Mrs. John J. Singer of Greensburg, Pa. and a step-daughter, Mrs. James J. Winn of Leesburg, Va.

The Army chief of staff, Marshall directed the greatest military force in U.S. history to victory over Germany and Japan. At war's end, he retired to his country home in Leesburg, Va.

Just seven days later Truman tapped him for an urgent job as his personal envoy to China, then plagued by civil strife between the Nationalists and the Communists.

His mediation efforts in the China crisis later became involved in the domestic controversy over Communist in government. Marshall was attacked by the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

In 1947 Truman named Marshall the nation's 54th secretary of state. In this role he conceived the Marshall Plan of economic assistance to help the war-raged countries get back on their feet. Awarded Peace Prize.

For this and his other efforts for peace Marshall was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1953.

Marshall retired again in 1949, but again for only a short period. With the Communist invasion of South Korea in 1950, he was recalled to duty in his second cabinet post — this time as secretary of defense.

The soft-spoken general retired to his tree-shaded Virginia home near Washington for the third time in September, 1951. There he was able at last to devote his time to one of his favorite pursuits — tending his garden.

Cuba Might Get Jets Elsewhere

Washington — (UPI) — Cuban Ambassador Ernesto Dihigo said Saturday that his country might be forced to call on other sources if Great Britain refuses, under pressure from the United States, to supply it with jet fighter planes.

U.S. and British officials are conferring at present on a proposal that Britain trade about 15 jet fighters to Cuba for the propeller-driven planes sold to Cuba last year.

U.S. officials oppose the deal, fearing the action might touch off an arms race in the Caribbean and increase tensions in the already troubled area.

Dimigo told United Press International Saturday that the planes represent Cuba's "minimum needs," and that if the deal fails Cuba might be forced "to remedy her deficiencies by supplying herself in those sources that might remain open to her."

The sources were not identified. Acquisition of the planes would not imply an offensive movement, Dihigo said, but an effort merely to modernize Cuba's existing equipment.

Negro Sought In Alabama Rape

Mobile, Ala. — (UPI) — Officers, working on what they said was "a good lead," pressed their search last night for a short and stocky Negro who raped a white woman twice in the presence of her three young children.

Police said they assumed the assailant was the same man who, a few minutes earlier and a quarter of a mile from the scene of the rape, failed in an attempt to attack another white woman in her garage.

A search party of 25 police officers and deputies, using bloodhounds, combed the Georgetown community for the attacker. Georgetown is a rural community 20 miles northwest of this port city, but still in Mobile county.

A 24-year-old white mother, home alone with her three children, told officers how she awakened from dozing in a living room chair and saw the Negro approaching her, holding a white housecoat before him.

He grabbed her by the hair, dragged her into another room and raped her while her three children watched. One of the children, a five-year-old boy, tried to help his mother by getting a 22-caliber pistol from a wardrobe and pushing it toward her. The Negro grabbed it.

Steel Shortages Cause Increase In Auto Layoffs

Detroit — (UPI) — Auto industry layoffs due to the steel strike topped the 60,000 mark Saturday and more were scheduled this week.

General Motors, hardest hit by steel shortages, estimated its layoffs nationwide at 60,000 as of Friday.

In St. Louis, Chevrolet and Fisher Body Division officials said they would have to send home 4,500 production workers Monday.

And other Chevrolet and Fisher plants at Atlanta planned to lay off about 2,350 workers Monday and another 445 Tuesday.

Not Yet Ford has not yet reported any layoffs or production cutbacks.

Chrysler Corp. laid off 300 men at a suburban Detroit plant last week and announced all its plants will work five days this week, except the Imperial plant at Dearborn, Mich., which will be closed Monday because of steel shortages.

Michigan was hardest hit by the auto layoffs. The employment security commission reported that unemployment in the state due to the steel strike will reach 58,000 by the end of this month, most of the idled workers being in the auto industry.

The commission said 32,000 Michigan workers were out of work as of Friday, due to the strike, not including the 22,000 steel workers on strike in Michigan.

The jobsless totals for Michigan will grow for about a month after the steel strike ends because it will take that long to build up steel supplies.

Savings Bond Sales In County Decrease

September, 1959, sales of U. S. savings bonds totaled $45,130, a drop from September a year ago when the total was $55,820, according to George W. Minnaugh, state director.

County sales this year through Sept. 30 totaled $673,948, 67 per cent of the quota. Sales in 1958 through Sept. 30 totaled $666,986.

"Although it is too early to determine the effect the recent raise in rates in Savings bonds will have on future sales, Minnaugh said, "all of us are hoping that the new

Lesson In Logic

London — (UPI) — An elderly woman has decided that income tax collection — called "inland revenue" in Britain — would be much more formidable if renamed. According to the Journal of the Society of Civil Servants, she refused to pay her tax and explained: "I am not liable to inland revenue as I live on the coast."
