

LSU, Northwestern, USC All Keep Perfect Scores

United Press International
Louisiana State, Northwestern and Southern California, three of the top contenders for national college football honors, retained their perfect records Saturday but only after tough battles with underdogs.

LSU ran the nation's longest major college streak to 18 games with a 9-0 victory over Florida, Northwestern edged Notre Dame 30-24, and Southern California rallied to down Stanford, 30-28.

With third-ranked Texas, ninth-ranked Georgia Tech and 11th-ranked Oregon playing at night, it was a day during which not a single one of the top 11 teams in the country was beaten.

Fifth-ranked Mississippi rolled over Arkansas, 28-0, sixth-ranked Syracuse walloped West Virginia, 44-0, seventh-ranked Penn State scored a 20-9 triumph over Illinois and 10th-ranked Wisconsin beat Ohio State, 12-3.

Produces All Points
A crowd of 46,000 at Gainesville, Fla., saw Billy Cannon score LSU's touchdown on a one-yard plunge and Wendell Harris kick a 27-yard field goal, both in the second period, to produce all the country's No. 1 team's points. Florida made two late bids, driving to the LSU nine and four but the Tigers' sturdy defense stopped the threats.

Johnny Talley, a third-string quarterback, threw touchdown passes of 18, 54 and 78 yards and also ran 61 yards for another touchdown to lead second-ranked Northwestern to its fifth straight win. Notre Dame drew within striking range of the Wildcats on a 52-yard touchdown pass by Don White in the third period and a 42-yard field goal by Monty Stickles in the fourth period.

Fullback Clark Holden scored four touchdowns on runs of 22, 21, four and one yard to help Southern Cal overcome a 21-12 halftime deficit. Dick Norman connected with 16 of 32 passes for 207 yards to lead Stanford's upset effort against the nationally fourth-ranked Trojans.

Braves Pick Drensen as Manager

Milwaukee, Wis. — (UPI) — Charley Drensen, a colorful extrovert who keeps himself in trouble by popping off both on and off the field, has signed a two-year contract to manage the Milwaukee Braves.

The announcement that the 61-year old Drensen will succeed Fred Haney with a pact estimated at $35,000 a year was made officially Saturday at County Stadium.

The Braves had tried to keep the announcement a secret but the United Press International learned late Friday night from Dodge General Manager E. J. (Buzzy) Bavan that Drensen would be named.

As usual, when Drensen is involved, a controversy quickly developed between the Dodgers and Braves.

Bavan told UPI he is "happy for Charley because it's one of the better jobs in baseball" but added with a trace of bitterness:

Had Not Advised
"I think the Braves should have played the game and advised us what they were doing."

Bavan said neither the Braves nor Drensen had advised the Dodgers of the negotiations until Lou Perini, Braves' president, telephoned him late Friday night. He said Perini asked the Dodgers' permission to sign Drensen and that he "reluctantly agreed" to the request.

Haney, also 61, resigned after the Braves lost the National league's post-season playoff with the Dodgers in two straight games.

Never an outstanding player, Drensen gained fame as a shrewd pitching and third-base coach and went on to manage the Cincinnati Reds, Brooklyn Dodgers and Washington Senators.

Freak Antlers Grown by Buck

Eagle Point-A freak-antlered deer was killed by E. A. Russell, Coquille, on a hunting trip to the Lakeview area with Rogue Valley residents the opening week of the buck season.

Russell shot a buck which had 19 points on one side and 21 on the other side of the antlers which were still in the moss stage.

The antlers have been entered in Coquille competition. The deer dressed out at 170 pounds.

In the hunting party were Russell's son-in-law, Harry Hanscom, Harry's son, Eddie, and Harold Hanscom, Eagle Point; Ray Smith, Central Point; Jim Baumer and sons, Brooks and Ken, Medford, and John Bretzel, Coquille. The group returned with six deer.

Michigan Victor Over Minnesota

Minneapolis, Minn. — (UPI) — Halfbacks Darrell Harper and Fred Julian struck with sudden fury Saturday to lead Michigan to its initial Big Ten victory of the season, 14-6, over Minnesota in the 50th annual struggle for football's famed Little Brown Jug.

A crowd of 57,354 saw Harper and Julian score touchdowns 90 seconds apart in the third period to break open the defense-centered battle.

ROLLS OVER MONTANA

Missoula, Mont. — (UPI) — A smooth operating New Mexico offensive machine rolled over Montana, 55-14, in a Skyline Conference football game here Saturday.

A slim crowd of 3,000, about one-third the capacity of Dornblaser Field, watched the Lobos from Albuquerque keep in contention for Skyline honors by grabbing their second conference win against one loss. The defeat sank the Grizzlies, now 1-4, deeper toward the conference cellar.

An electric radiant heating panel has been developed which is said to reduce both construction and heating costs.

Cincinnati Edges COP By 21-14

Cincinnati, Ohio — (UPI) — The University of Cincinnati scored 21 points in three periods Saturday and then desperately fought a resurgent College of Pacific team to the final second to preserve a 21-14 football victory.

Close to 18,000 rain-soaked homecoming fans were on their feet as the entire Cincinnati team ganged up to stop Tiger Fullback Henry Wallace on the one-foot line when the final gun sounded.

The west coast Tigers had driven to the one-foot line in the remaining three and a half minutes on nine plays covering 81 yards. Key plays in the drive were a 22-yard through the middle charge by Wallace and a 15 yard penalty against the Bearcats after a Tiger fumble on the Cincinnati 24.

The thrilling end almost clouded the outstanding performances of Bearcat Quarterback Jack Lee and Halfback Ed Kovac. Between them they scored all the Cincinnati points. Lee turned in a sensational passing performance of 15 completions in 21 attempts for 145 yards.

Capitalize on Fumbles
The Bearcats capitalized on Tiger fumbles to score two touchdowns in the first half. Pacific end Chuck Landers fumbled the opening kickoff and Cincinnati recovered on the Tiger 26.

Lee passed 18 yards to Kovac for a first down on the Pacific one and Kovac scored on the next play.

Cincinnati fell on another Tiger fumble midway in the second quarter on the visitor's 11 and Lee hit Kovac on a nine yard pass play for the touchdown.

For its third score, Cincinnati took the second half kickoff 62 yards in 13 running plays with Kovac again scoring from the one.

Pacific stopped with a net offense of 47 yards up to this point, finally started to move. The Tigers scored in three plays from kickoff as star Halfback Dick Bass shook loose on the Cincinnati 38 and went all the way.

The Tigers scored again midway in the final period on a quick 78 yard march. Bob Gatiss tossed a screen pass to halfback Herman Urenda standing on his own 40 and he galloped to the Cincinnati 20. Wallace then set up the touchdown with an 18 yard run to the Cincinnati two and bucked the line twice for a yard and the score.

COWBOYS TOP OFF

Salt Lake City — (UPI) — Wyoming took over undisputed first place in the Skyline Conference Saturday as Quarterback Jim Walden tossed three touchdown passes to give the Cowboys a 21-7 win over Utah.

The important battle was played before 24,739 homecoming fans in the sun-drenched Ute Stadium. The victory was Wyoming's fifth in conference play without a loss, while Utah suffered its first Skyline loss after two consecutive victories.

DENVER WINS

Provo, Utah. — (UPI) — Quarterback Bob Sands tossed a 20 yard pass to end Steve Meuris with three minutes left in the game Saturday to give Denver a 14-7 win over Brigham Young University.

The game left BYU winless in Skyline Conference play this year and with four defeats on its record. Denver now has a 2-2 Skyline mark.

MISSOURI VICTOR

Columbia, Mo. — (UPI) — Mel West sparked Missouri to a 9-0 victory over Nebraska Saturday, keeping the Tigers' hope for a post-season bowl bid alive to the delight of an estimated 25,000 homecoming fans.

Nearly the entire Big Eight game was played in Cornhusker territory, and Tiger quarterback Bob Haas teamed with halfback West to push Nebraska back.

MICHAELS ON PROBATION

Hollywood — (UPI) — Lou Michaels, a defensive end with the Los Angeles Rams, was on six months summary probation today for being drunk in a public place and disturbing the peace. Michaels, 24, was also fined $50 for the disturbance which occurred when he was refused a drink in a Sunset Strip bar.

Mississippi Unbeaten

Temphis, Tenn. — (UPI) — Mississippi thundered over rangy Arkansas 28-0 Saturday to remain unbeaten.

Rolling behind bruising fullback Charlie Flowers, the Rebels outpunched the Razorbacks from the start and swept easily to their eighth straight victory — sixth of this season — with first-ranked Louisiana State their next week's opponent. A capacity crowd of 32,000 saw Saturday's rout.

Arkansas, triumphant until a one-point squeaker loss to Texas last week, was stymied completely until the last moment when Mississippi, fifth ranked this week, had the outcome settled. It was then that the Razorbacks drove 89 yards to the Mississippi two, but even then the Rebels were too tough. Tackle Bob Benton spilled quarterback George McKinney for a five-yard loss and two more plays failed to gain as the final gun sounded.

Flowers scored Mississippi's first touchdown on a one-foot plunge that climaxed a relentless 80-yard march in 14 plays. He scored again from the two after Arkansas halfback Lance Alworth kicked for a one-yard loss after fumbling a pass from center. Mississippi took the ball on the Arkansas 20.

Fullback James Anderson and quarterback Jake Gibbs turned in Mississippi's other touchdowns.

Purdue Wins 14-7

Lafayette, Ind. — (UPI) — Platoon-deep Purdue proved the better mudders and whipped Iowa's defending Big 10 football champion Saturday, 14-7.

Iowa escaped being shut out for the first time in 61 games by pushing over a touchdown in the final four minutes. The last time the Hawkeyes were blanked was in a season finale against Notre Dame, 27-0, in 1952.

Neither club had much chance to show its defensive stuff in the nationally televised game, played in intermittent rain on a slippery gridiron before 40,000 fans. But the two tallies Purdue scored in the second period were enough to keep the Boilermakers in the tight Western Conference title chase.

Iowa, going into the game as the second best offensive club in the nation with an average of 411.5 yards per game, gained only 88 yards rushing and 81 yards passing.

Most of the passing came from the flashy Olen Treadway, who sparked his club to its lone touchdown. But it was too late then to catch Purdue, which played it safe throughout the second half for its second consecutive victory in three starts.

Purdue rolled 61 yards in 14 plays for its first touchdown. Little Jim Tiller set it up with a 17-yard sprint and fullback Jack Laraway got the final three yards on a plunge. Bernie Allen kicked the first of two conversions.

The Boilermakers were back in the end zone only four minutes later after Laraway recovered one of four Iowa fumbles on the Hawkeye 19. The bobbly by Eugene Mosley turned out to be the deciding factor in this scrap, because seven plays later fullback Bob Jarvis plunged over from the one.

Iowa didn't get rolling until Treadway connected on six of nine throws with the clock ticking off the final minutes. He connected to Jeff Langston for 35 yards, to Bob Jeter for 11, and to Bill Whisler for 13 to get the ball to the Purdue 10. Three plays later, fullback Don Horn ran over from the one and Allan Miller converted.

Steelworkers Hold Conviction They Are Rebels With a Cause

Pittsburgh — (UPI) — While the nation cries for steel and the courts ponder a Taft-Hartley injunction, the rank-and-file steelworker becomes more convinced each day that he is fighting for a "real cause."

United steelworkers officials here contend that support of the union by the average millworker is "greater than ever before."

"I haven't seen rank-and-file morale so high in 22 years," said Ivan (Buck) Jones, veteran president of local 1272 at the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. Pittsburgh works. "They are behind Dave (USW President David J. McDonald) 100 per cent."

Red Southward, head of the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. local 1196, pointed to a mass meeting held last week by that local. He said about 3,000 workers and their wives attended.

"And no one was there to boo," he noted.

One of the reasons morale has remained so high during the 103-day walkout is that in this fight the workers are battling not only to gain something but also to hang onto what one steelworker called "the bill of rights" of our union. He referred to Section 2-B of the expired contract.

Defines Conditions
Union local officials agree the workers are concerned primarily with the loss of this clause, which defines local working conditions.

A staff official of the USW International pointed out that if the industry had not presented eight points which seek more control over the local working conditions, the union might have had a difficult time marshalling steelworker support.

It is doubtful whether the rank-and-file would have shown the support they have if only a wage increase were at stake. Only the exception mentions a salary increase when questioned about the strike.

Even before the walkout, a United Press International survey of workers brought comments like this: "Benefits, Yes"

"We don't want any raise. What's the good of it? The prices go up and we'll be worse off than when we started. But working benefits, yes — you don't know what it's like in those hot mills."

Then came the industry's eight points.

The USW International has stressed 2-B again and again in literature sent to the locals.

If you walk into a local hall, you can't help but notice the abundance of leaflets on the subject.

Perhaps at another time worker wouldn't have read them because he didn't stop at the hall. But during a strike almost everybody makes an appearance — to sign up for surplus food distribution, perhaps to ask for some other kind of aid, or maybe just to have a free cup of coffee which is always on tap.

And while he's there he reads the board.

Coming Around More
"The men have been coming around a whole lot more than they did before," said President Southward, "and while they're here they discuss the issues. They're afraid of what it will be like in those mills if 2-B is tossed out."

Local officials agreed that workers have become adamant in their determination to retain some control over these local conditions.

So adamant, in fact, that it has become all but impossible for McDonald to think about giving them up.

Physical Therapy Topic of Program

"Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation" will be the topic of discussion on the Jackson County Tuberculosis and Health association television program Monday at 5:30 p.m. over station KBES-TV.

Dr. Thomas C. Bolton, orthopedic surgeon, and Dr. Fred C. Lorch, specialist in internal medicine, will describe the need for physical therapy in the treatment of the rheumatic diseases and other conditions.

Also appearing will be Mrs. Bon Nell Walker, Robert D. Scofield, and Harold L. Gilbert, registered physical therapists, who will demonstrate and explain some of the modalities employed in physical therapy, and discuss the wide need for trained persons in this field.

The panel will discuss ways in which the physician and the physical therapist work together to rehabilitate the patient to the greatest possible degree of function.

Red Raiders Down OCE Wolves 20-7

Ashland — Southern Oregon college football team turned back Oregon college of Monmouth here Saturday afternoon to keep hold of second place in the Oregon Collegiate conference standings.

Spurred by the running of Allen Barnes, Doyle Branson and Eldon Francis, the pass pitching of Jack Brown and the catching of Gordon Carrigan and Jim McCabe, the Red Raiders of the Rogue wound up with a 20 to 7 margin for their second victory.

Beset by penalties and fumbles, the Raiders never-the-less slammed over two touchdowns of their own in the second half, while containing the hungry Wolves, to establish their triumph budge on Homecoming day. Each team penetrated the touchdown zone in the second quarter.

Wildcats Top Irish By 30-24

South Bend, Ind. — (UPI) — Unbeaten Northwestern produced another scoring hero Saturday in John Talley, a third-string quarterback, who threw three long touchdown passes and sprinted 61 yards on his own to pace the Wildcats to a 30-24 victory over Notre Dame.

It was the fifth straight victory for second-ranked Northwestern, which has turned up outstanding performances by substitutes filling in for the "irreplaceable" Dick Thornton, lost since the first game of the season, through injuries.

The Wildcats thoroughly outclassed the underdog Irish. Notre Dame scored twice after Wildcat fumbles and got its only "honest" touchdown with a 52-yard scoring pass from Don White to Bob Scarpitto in the third period.

Talley, a senior, started the season as a third-string bench warmer. But he played almost the full 60 minutes today as Notre Dame took its third loss of the season. It was only the fourth Northwestern victory in 29 meetings between the two schools, but it was the highest score ever recorded in the series.

Jackson's Eleven Nudges Washington

Mike Glogowski's conversion run was the difference Friday as Jackson nipped Washington 7 to 6 in a Medford school district National league grade school football tilt.

Ken Curtis touchdown for Jackson from five yards out in the first quarter and Denny Burn went 15 yards for the Washington TD in the second.
