One of the new miracle drugs is inexpensive. That's the miracle.
—Harold Coffin

I'M MILES AHEAD OF THE RUSSIANS IN MATH

Q. Tim, 11, can shovel snow off a driveway in one hour. George, 10, can do it in 1½. How long will it take them to clear the driveway if they work together?

A. 3½ hours, including time for snowball fights.

Q. A man (this one, if you're interested) sends his daughter on a trip and gives her $5 spending money plus $12 for the return train fare. However, she gets a free auto ride home. How much money will she return to her dad?

A. $1.35. To celebrate the saving, she purchased a stunning pair of slacks for only $10.65.

Q. A man (you'll have to guess who this time) cuts down his smoking to a 10-a-day average. If there are 20 cigarettes in a pack, how many packs will he smoke in a week?

A. 13½—3½ of his own plus 10 of friends.

Q. If it takes a housewife 10 minutes to shell a quart of peas, how long will it take her to shell two quarts?

A. Childishly simple—two minutes. Just enough time between arrival home from bridge club and appearance of husband to open frozen ones already shelled.
—Parke Cummings

LAUNCHING WAD

Nothing will make a dad rocket into space
with a long, screaming whistle
As fast as a hit in the pocket
Made by a sales-guided miss'll.

—Patricia Duff McGinley

THE GREAT EQUALIZER

My neighbor Smith has everything—
A yacht that's swank and snappy,
Two homes, three cars, six bank accounts—
And still the man's unhappy.
I do not have this fellow's wealth,
My assets are a myth;
Yet all the time I find that I'm Unhappy—just like Smith.

—Stephen Schlitzer

Young boys always feel they can get along without Father's help—until they're old enough to start college.
—O. A. Battista
