Speakers for Aging Conference Listed

Dr. Arthur Jones, Portland, director of the rehabilitation institute of Oregon, will be one of the principal speakers at the Southern Oregon conference on aging at the First Methodist church, Laurel and West Main sts., Medford, Saturday, Nov. 14.

The well-known psychiatrist will speak on the subject, "Is There Hope for Older People in Physical Rehabilitation?"

The conference, the second to be held in the state in preparation for the state and national conferences on aging, will hold its opening session at 9:30 a.m. The meeting will end about 4:30 p.m.

The conference is open to the public, and there is no registration fee, those in charge noted. However, reservations for the luncheon, which will be held at the church, should be made before Nov. 10. Reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. C. A. Thatcher, Spring 2-5103; John Gribble, Spring 2-5932; or Mrs. Elsa Walker, Spring 2-4318.

Local Council Is Host
Rogue Valley Council on Aging is host for the conference, which will include delegates from Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Curry and Jackson counties. Frank Glonning, chairman of the local council, is also chairman of the conference.

Keynote speaker for the conference will be Miss Jeanne Jewett, administrator of the state public welfare commission. She will speak on current trends and major needs in the field of aging at the opening 9:30 a.m. session.

Miss Jewett also will serve as moderator at a general session on health that afternoon with Dr. Jones, Dr. A. S. Anderson, chief medical officer at the Camp White Domiciliary, and Elliott Cohen, assistant director, division of recreation for ill and handicapped, National Recreation Association, New York.

Cohen also will speak at the luncheon on mental rehabilitation of older people through recreation, and will serve as moderator in a recreation workshop that afternoon.

Mrs. Helen Zollinger, Portland, a member of the executive board of the state commission and chairman of the state conference on aging, will speak on "What Can the Community Do With Relation to Local Problems" at the final afternoon session.

Dr. Wesley Nicholson, chairman of the state commission on aging, Eugene, will open the conference. Other members of the state commission expected to attend are Miss Julie Johnson, executive secretary from Eugene; Miss Elizabeth Baldwin of Portland, chairman of all regional conferences; and Mrs. Marshall Cornett, Klamath Falls.

SENTENCE WITNESSES
Warsaw — (UPI) — A Warsaw court Sunday sentenced 17 Jehovah's Witnesses to prison terms ranging from one to five years for distributing pamphlets and periodicals that had not been approved by the government censor. The sect was outlawed in Communist Poland during the Stalinist period, but the charges against the defendants were restricted to the censorship violation.

Grayland, Wash. — (UPI) — The tug Salvage Chief of Astoria eased the 422-foot freighter Lipari off the beach near here Saturday. The vessel had been aground for eight days.

The 36 members of the crew and the captain remained aboard the Lipari while it was aground.

New York — (UPI) — Prefabrication of homes is not a new development, according to the Allied Chemical Corp. As early as 1624 the English brought a paneled home of wood to Cape Ann, Mass., for use by a fishing fleet.

Grange News

Phoenix Grange
Members and visitors filled the Phoenix Grange hall Oct. 27, when the annual covered dish dinner and open house Booster Night was held. Baskets of flowers were arranged by Mrs. Sol Cox. Master Charles Johnson called the meeting to order. State Lecturer Victor Croxton was escorted to the master's station.

Lecturer Dee Hendrickson welcomed visitors, members and invited guests on the program. Mrs. Fred Meadows and her accordion students were presented. Students included Rickie Kimball, Douglas Mann, Rodger Wiley, Randy Wiley, Walter Fitzgerald and Frank Fitzgerald.

Croxton gave a brief history of the Grange and the reason for being a patron of husbandry. The Goehring sisters, Bonnie, Vonnice and Connie, played several numbers on their accordions. A skit on "Where to Be Vaccinated" was presented by Dr. Robert Wilcox and Mrs. Mervin Hixson.

Vocal arrangements were by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Beard accompanied by Mrs. Corinne McDaniel. Mrs. McDaniel gave a piano solo.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

A.B.C. REPORTS — FACTS AS A BASIC MEASURE OF ADVERTISING VALUE

The Family Council

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a Judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. G. R. — His friends get him into trouble. Arnold R. — If only she wouldn't nag!

Mrs. G. R. — My husband and I are terribly upset about our 12-year-old son, Arnold. He isn't really a bad boy, but he has a way of always finding the worst friends.

Recently he got into a lot of trouble at school. He and his friends destroyed some property. They were all told to bring their parents. My son faked a note saying that his father was away and I was sick. He was found out and then he got into worse trouble than ever.

I don't know why Arnold is so foolish. He knows his parents would stand by him. He doesn't get beaten. Why should he be afraid of us? He always acts so stupidly, but we know he isn't a stupid boy. Some of his teachers say he could do very well if he paid attention in class. But he lets the others put him up to something.

Arnold R. — I get nagged for everything I do. It's always "who did you learn that from? Who told you to do that?" Then nag, nag, nag. "Stop hanging around with so-and-so." Gee, I get sick of it.

Last time I got into trouble my mother came to school bawling to the teacher. She embarrassed me in front of the whole class. She blamed the teacher for picking on me and pointed out some of my friends and said it was all their fault. Then the guys got after me outside of school. Could I help what my mother said?

I knew Mom would raise a regular hullabaloo this time.

Klamath Trucker Killed in Crash

Tionesta, Calif. — (UPI) — A logging truck smashed into the side of a moving freight train Saturday killing its driver, derailing some 37 cars and seriously injuring two transients.

Dead is John Richard Driscoll Sr. of Klamath Falls, Ore., according to the Modoc county sheriff's office.

Seriously injured were Ernest Bede, 43, Milwaukee, Wis., and John Yerasavich, 49, Westerville, Ill., both transients who were on the train.

Driscoll was driving a rig belonging to the Putman Co. of Klamath Falls when he apparently became blinded by dust raised by another vehicle and failed to see the train at a country crossing.

The mishap took place in this small logging village in the Tule Lake area.

to do good school work and to give him a sense of pride about all positive accomplishment. It is their job to guide him toward the right church and civic organizations that have youth programs. It is their job to teach him self-responsibility and respect for others.

The fulfillment of these jobs will keep them too busy to indulge in useless complaints about "the others."

We think Arnold's father must assume a large share of the responsibility in the job ahead.
