

Bookings Scheduled For Actor

Philip Hanson, well known Oregon Shakespearean Festival actor, will re-enact many of his more exciting roles and scenes during the next several weeks at schools and colleges in the northwest.

Hanson's one-man show, "Kings and Clowns," is sponsored by Vox Poetica, well-known concert producing association. Throughout the fall and winter he will be seen at the schools. Monday he will appear at Grant high school in Portland.

Next Tuesday he will appear before students at Lewis and Clark college and the University of Portland, and will return to Portland in January for another performance at the university.

Thursday, November 12, he will present a two-hour show at Washington State university, Pullman. On November 13 a show is scheduled at the University of Idaho in Moscow.

He will appear at North Central high school in Spokane and at other schools in that area about November 16.

The actor is a veteran of many seasons in Ashland and at San Diego's National Shakespearean festival. Before his return to Ashland last summer he was special services director for two years with the U. S. Army in France.

Forty widely varied roles have caused him to be billed as "the man of many parts." Malvolio, King John, Hotspur, Dogberry, Richard II, Hamlet, Macbeth and Bottom are only a few of the famous Shakespearean characters portrayed by Hanson.

At season's end this summer at Ashland, Vox Poetica sponsored an audition for his one-man show, at which the special audience of fellow actors and festival fans gave an enthusiastic ovation.

Vox Poetica is noted for its presentation of live performances featuring the spoken word by accomplished thespians.

"Where You Find the Clothes you love to live in"

New Red Cross Recruits Attend Orientation Event

Approximately 65 volunteer service chairmen and new volunteers attended the annual Red Cross orientation luncheon, Tuesday, November 3 at the Red Cross building.

Manville Heisel, chapter chairman, welcomed the guests and introduced the other men present. They were Jennings Pierce, public relations chairman; Robert Heffernan, county fund drive chairman; and LeRoy Williams, first aid chairman.

Mr. Heffernan stated that the annual fund campaign to be conducted in county areas not covered by the United Fund campaign would be held in March.

Mr. Williams announced the first aid classes being held this winter and said that "everyone should have a first aid card." He praised the Medford public school system for its rule that students must have a first aid card in order to be graduated.

Mr. Williams stated that teaching of first aid not only provides knowledge about what to do when an accident has happened, but actually goes far to prevent accidents.

Mrs. Frank Fairweather, Red Cross regional field consultant, explained briefly the history of Red Cross and its organization from the national level down to the local level. She stressed the fact that Red Cross is a service organization with definite responsibilities and should not be thought of as a public welfare organization.

Mrs. E. A. Littrell, recruitment chairman, introduced in turn the chairman of each service who gave a short explanation of the work of her group.

An informal discussion followed in which new volunteers questioned the chairmen regarding the services which interested them. Those receiving Red Cross orientation for the first time were Mrs. John Raapke, Mrs. Thomas Tinsley, Mrs. V. Swinney, Mrs. Glen Linn, Mrs. Hobart Ditsworth, Mrs. Paul Culbertson, Mrs. Katie Dwyer, Mrs. Glen Fabrick, Mrs. James Winslow, Mrs. W. E. Holmes; Mrs. Henry Herzog, Mrs. Ernest Barnes, Mrs. Abner Clark, Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Mrs. Dwight Wilson Jr., Mrs. D. E. DeArmond, and Miss Thelma Fanning, all of Medford; Mrs. W. C. Zeiser, Mrs. Harold Weed, Rogue River and Gold Hill; Mrs. Earle Jossy and Mrs. A. Wattenburg, Eagle Point; and Mrs. Jim Busch, Mrs. Lloyd Selby and Mrs. Harvey Woods, all Ashland.

OEA President To Be Speaker

Mrs. Paul R. Smith, president of Oregon Education association and also teacher of languages at Medford High school, will speak on "Education in Oregon" at a coming meeting of the College Women's Club of the Rogue River Valley. It will be held at the Girl's Community club, Saturday, November 14 at 2 p.m.

Those on the committee are Mrs. L. H. Bohrer, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Ward Lampkin, Mrs. G. R. Carter and Mrs. E. R. Gilstrap.

CARE Project Planned by Club

Travel Study club of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs is joining the Oregon Federation in heading another campaign in "CARE" for Greece.

When Mrs. Walter Brown, Klamath Falls, president of the Oregon Federation, chose Greece as the beneficiary of her "CARE" project, she chose an area of truly great need, it is said.

To help support this project, Travel Study club will hold a silver tea, Tuesday, November 17, from 2 to 4:30 p.m. in the Girl's Community club. There will be speakers during the afternoon, some who have come from Greece to live here.

Men and women are both invited to attend.

Greece is one of the poorest countries in Europe, the club points out. Food rations for some residents is so small that it may consist of not more than one onion in a day. People on the island of Crete have been reduced to pitifully small food supplies due partially to land slides and to heavy damage to olive crops.
