

Tornado, Bucs Mix in Headliner Of State Prep Gridiron Playoffs

United Press International
Quarter-final playoff action gets under way today for Oregon's high school football teams.

Jefferson in class A-1 and Vale in class A-2 are defending their state championships. Merrill, last year's B king, did not make it back to the playoffs.

Top game tonight sends Medford, rated the state's top team, to Marshfield. Jefferson is heavily favored to knock off Sandy while St. Helens meets David Douglas. The other A-1 quarterfinal game sends South Salem to Pendleton Saturday night.

Vale plays host Saturday to Woodburn while the other A-2 games are tonight. They will send Willamina to Seaside, Coquille to Reedsport and Phoenix to Junction City.

This afternoon Yoncola, the B favorite, plays at Harisburg and Willowa is at Athena to meet McEwen. Jefferson plays Knappa tonight at Neahkahnie and Sherman of Moro plays St. Mary's at Medford Saturday night.

In six-man, semi-final action Saturday afternoon sees St. Paul at Westfir and Ione at Sisters.

Medford High school's offensive powerhouse football team headed for Coos Bay today intent on a second 1959 triumph over the Marshfield Pirates.

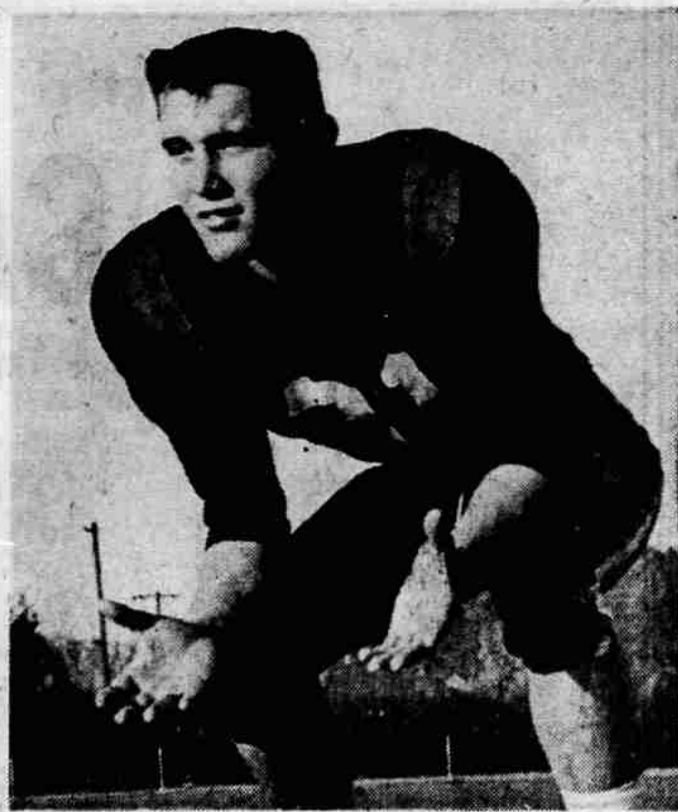

Only prestige was involved in the first encounter which the Black Tornado took 39 to 21. But the one tonight, with kick-off at 8 o'clock, is more important. State title dreams of the Tornado and the Pirates hinge on its outcome.

With Medford rated No. 1 and Marshfield No. 3 for this fall's A-1 competition, the Coos Bay fracas is ranked the top attraction in this week end's state 11-man quarterfinals in three Oregon classifications.

The Black Tornado, undefeated in nine scuffles, is the prognosticators' pick in the tangle with the Buccaneers, losers this fall only to Medford. The Whirlwind from the Pear City has the attitude that "what has been done can be done again." But, it also has the knowledge that the job may take some extra doing.

Multiple Offenses
A battle of multiple offenses shapes up on the Coos Bay turf. Medford has a highly versatile attack with both the T and single wing. Marshfield has much variety from its T formation. The Tornado hopes to benefit from its all-around speed against a weightier Marshfield line. Pirates on the forward wall average near 200 pounds per man while the Medford average is beneath 190 pounds.

The Tornado will have the running, passing and generalship of Dick Ragsdale and Ray Konopasek, the ball packing, pitching and catching of Mike Hood, the totting of Skip

GO TEAM BACK—Ken Durkee, above, 156-pound senior, is left halfback on the Go Team unit of the Medford high school football squad and safety on the Rogue River Bandit platoon. He's a clutch player and elusive runner. Durkee will be on the field at Coos Bay this evening in Medford's effort against Marshfield in state A-1 quarter-finals.

Bennett, Ken Durkee, Len Griggs and Dan Sieg and the pass receiving of Lowell Dean and Jerry Anderson as a broad threat against the Buccaneers.

Marshfield will battle back with the passing and direction of Bob Burke, the running of Dick Shanley, Hank Windell, Karl Coke, Dave Wood, Jerry Larsen, Rich Hughes and Don Austin. Jerry Weekly and Marv Harris are main flankers for pass receptions.

Talented Players
The game will feature a number of the most talented players in the state. Several are almost certain to get all-state recognition.

A squad of 35 Medford high players made the trip to Coos Bay today. Only 33 will be permitted to be on the field in uniform because of squad

FIGHTS

Columbus, Ga.—(UPI)—Pete Rademacher, 200, Seattle, Wash., knocked out Buddy Kener, 205, Baltimore, Md. (1).

Jerry Pittman, Bob Watson in Lafayette Lead

Lafayette, La.—(UPI)—First round leaders Bob Watson and Jerry Pittman were out to build up a comfortable lead today in the $15,000 Lafayette Open golf tournament.

The pair carded five under par 66's Thursday to gain a one-stroke advantage over Walker Inman Jr. of Elgin Air Force Base, La., and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex.

Watson, whose home club is Ardsley-on-Hudson, N. Y., shot a torrid 31 on the back nine for his 66 while Pittman, a young Tulsa, Okla., shot-maker, had a 32-34-66.

Defending champion Jay Hebert, the pre-tournament favorite, had a 70 for the 6,700-yard Orkbourne Country club course.

Eight Seniors See Last Raider Action

Ashland—Eight seniors are slated for action in their last collegiate football game Saturday when the Southern Oregon college Raiders battle Humboldt State college on Fuller field at 8 p.m.

Three of the group are first string offensive players for the Raiders this year, two others have been alternating on the first offensive team, and the remaining three are members of the defensive crew.

Jack Brown and Lance Locke will finish their quarterbacking chores Saturday with Brown getting the starting nod.

Troy Bellah and Jim Tachini, both interior linemen, will play in their final grid battle along with wingman, Jim McAbee.

Dick (Hughie) Smith, Phil Sword, and Andy Travis will see their last action on defense. SOC. Smith is a tackle, Travis an end, and Sword is the linebacker and defensive signal caller.

Replacements Aplenty
Although the loss of the seniors will be felt next year, the Raiders have plenty of replacements coming up in the form of "Harper's Raiders" and a number of non-graduating upperclassmen.

Eligibility-wise, only two juniors will be lost from the main defensive unit, thus leaving nine freshmen and sophomores to take up the slack.

On offense the Raiders will have to fill an end slot, a tackle, and the signal calling responsibilities. Evidently, the Raiders show promise of great things to come with numerous replacements available.

Even though this is true, Raider coach Al Akins has been trying to impress the battle with Humboldt State is the problem at hand and that first things come first.

A win for the Raiders

Pike Assumes Rangers' Post

Winnipeg, Man.—(UPI)—"Once a Ranger always a Ranger." With these words Alf Pike, the former coach of the Winnipeg Warriors hockey team, summed up his feelings about his emergency call to take over from ailing Phil Watson as coach of the National Hockey league's New York Rangers.

Bill Mosenko, was retired from active play this winter after playing with the Warriors since the team was formed, will take over Pike's job as Winnipeg coach.

For Pike the new job means a return to the team for which he first played professional hockey 20 years ago.

Offensive Tilt Likely Saturday

Corvallis—(UPI)—Coach Tommy Prothro of Oregon State today predicted an offensive battle in Saturday's football game with Stanford's pass-minded Indians here.

"We have to do some scoring ourselves to win this one," Prothro said.

The Beavers worked out only 10 minutes today, but had a 90-minute drill Thursday.

Oregon State's biggest problem will be to stop the Bill Norman-to-Chris Burford air arm. But the Beaver coaches said they figured the Indians also would be tough to stop on the ground.

Paulson May Start
Coach Jack Curtice of Stanford counted several injuries among his first line players but Norman and Burford, plus other receivers such as Skip Face, John Bond, Ben Robinson and Dick Bowers, were in good shape.

Prothro indicated he may go with the same lineup that started against Washington last week end although Aaron Thomas might start at end in place of Don Thiel. The backfield will start with Dainard Paulson, Ron Miller, Bob Farrell and Jim Stinette.

Both teams have 2-6 season's records.

Oregon State is rated a slight favorite.

Peterson Slated for Much Duty

Eugene—(UPI)—Oregon's football hopes against Washington State for Saturday's key game at Pullman were bolstered today with word that all-American center candidate Bob Peterson may see considerable action.

Peterson suffered a leg injury in the California game last week end and has been taking it easy all week. Trainer Bob Officer, after taping the leg, said the Coos Bay youth should be able to play much of the game.

Peterson has started 24 straight games for Oregon since he took over mid-way in the 1957 season for injured Norm Chapman—who broke his leg against the Cougars at Pullman.

Urell To Play
Guard Dave Urell, who also is nursing a leg injury, is expected to play, too.

A lot is riding on the outcome of this one.

Both Oregon and WSU nurse Rose Bowl hopes. If the Cougars win over Oregon and then beat Washington a week from Saturday they should get the Pasadena nod.

Oregon has to beat the Cougars then OSC next week and hope Washington loses one of its final two games to get its second Rose Bowl bid in three years.

Huskies Eye Another Step Toward Bowl

By HAL WOOD

United Press International
Washington's Huskies, piloted by a one-eyed quarterback, take another big step on the road to the Rose Bowl Saturday when they battle with the badly-battered California Golden Bears in Berkeley.

The Huskies are favored because of their fine record, which shows only one defeat this season—to USE—and because of the all-around brilliance of Bob Schloredt, their pilot. Schloredt is the second leading passer in the Big Five; is second in total offense and is one of the leading punters in the country.

Against this, California has won only one game all season. The Bears have been tough on occasions—and pushovers on others. If they are "right" it could be a battle.

USC Faces Baylor
Meanwhile, down in the south, the unbeaten, untied Southern California Trojans, third-rated team in the nation, battle off-beaten Baylor.

But if this sounds like a pushover—don't believe it. Baylor has won only three and lost four games. But last week the Bears came up with their greatest performance of the season—only to lose a one-point decision to Texas, the second-rated team in the nation.

A convincing win over Baylor by the Trojans conceivably could move USC up another notch in the ratings, right behind Syracuse.

Stanford goes north to tangle with Oregon State at Corvallis—and pessimism is the keynote. Even coach Jack Curtice is worried more than usual. Among the other possibilities that come out of the Indians' 35-13 ousting by UCLA is the fact that three men, starting guards Don Peter and Tom Walsh and fullback Archie Schmitt, are out for the season with injuries.

Bruins May Be Rolling

UCLA, flexing the muscles after the trouncing of Stanford, could do the same thing tonight (Friday) against North Carolina State. The Bruins believe they are rolling now—and they came up against a team that hasn't won a game since the first tilt of the season. During the loss skein, the Staters have been whipped by such clubs as Mississippi

Southern (a fine small college), Wyoming, Wake Forest, Duke and Clemson. Most of the games have been close, however.

Oregon, still nursing a chance for a bowl bid—takes on Washington State at Pullman.

Arizona has the unhappy task of visiting the Air Force Academy, San Jose State plays at Iowa State, College of Pacific meets Idaho.

DENY LANZA REPORTS

Rome—(UPI)—Police officials Thursday denied printed reports they were making an inquiry into the death of singer Mario Lanza last month. Italian newspapers carried the reports after a German doctor, Frederick Fruehwein of Munich, told German newsmen Lanza died following a "sleep cure" Fruehwein had warned against.
