Mrs. Laura Porter Named Secretary Of Red Cross Here

Mrs. Laura Porter, who has been acting executive secretary of Jackson County chapter, American Red Cross, has been appointed executive secretary. Announcement of Mrs. Porter's appointment was made yesterday at the monthly luncheon of the board of directors by Manville Heissell, chapter chairman.

Mrs. Porter has been acting secretary since July when Mrs. Helen Wilson resigned to make her home in Arizona. The new secretary had been Mrs. Wilson's assistant and has been with the chapter four years.

At yesterday's meeting, held at the chapter house, Mrs. E. A. Littrell introduced new volunteers. Reports were made by Grant Quinney Jr., for Junior Red Cross; Jennings Pierce for the public relations committee; Mrs. J. W. Burba for the blood program, and LeRoy Williams for first aid.

Pierce introduced John Archer, a new member of his committee. Mrs. Burba reported that, at the suggestion of Alfred S. V. Carpenter, a plan had been worked out whereby the families of hospital patients receiving quantities of blood are contacted and asked to give blood at the time of the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits here. Quinney introduced Robert Hamilton, Medford High school student body president, a chapter guest.

First Aid Classes
Williams spoke of first aid classes and urged board members to support the work of his committee. He pointed out the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning during wintertime driving.

Heissell stressed that the chapter will again be the coordinating agency for Christmas food baskets and asked all groups to clear their efforts through the chapter.

Mrs. Vincent Nicoletti reviewed a typical Red Cross home service case which involved the family of a serviceman.

A traveling exhibit of student art from several countries of the world was on display. The exhibit is to be sent to Medford schools.

Family Members Still in Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Butchino and three of their four children, all of Toketee Falls, were reported in good condition today at Sacred Heart hospital, where they are being treated for injuries received in a traffic accident Wednesday.

The Mail Tribune inadvertently reported yesterday that the family had been treated and released at another hospital.

Hospital attendants reported that 18-month-old Mary Butchino was released yesterday, but the three other children, Edward Jr., 12, Renee M., 9, and Annette Hope, 3, and their parents are still confined.

Mrs. Butchino received a foot injury and her husband, an arm injury. Both also suffered other lesser injuries, according to attendants.

The accident occurred on Highway 62 at Prospect, when the station wagon operated by Edward Butchino and a log truck operated by Walter Joseph Carr, 1662 Scenic ave., Central Point, were involved in an accident on icy pavement.

Playhouse 90's Plan Of Uncanny Timeliness Paces Television Show

By FRED DANZIG
New York - (UPI) - Playhouse 90 on CBS-TV presented a plan of uncanny timeliness Thursday night.

"The Hidden Image," by David Karp, deals with political integrity, and personal humanity and integrity, subjects that much of today's national dialogue is concerned with.

The author pressed home the point that only the dead are invulnerable to temptation and it is the test of a man when he can fight it off. The play's timely message is one thing, however, and its ineffectiveness is another. I felt Karp cluttered his story with too many gimmicks, inconsistencies and contrived situations to set up his leading character, played by Franchot Tone, for the final display of undiluted integrity.

Repetitive Dialogue
His straining to keep the play going until the climactic last few minutes made for some rather repetitive dialogue and meaningless razzle-dazzle in the play's middle.

Tone, as an honest, but cold, impersonal political boss becomes embroiled in an investigating committee's effort to discredit him and, through him, his candidate for governor. The charge is that Toned fed juicy building contracts to his long-time friend, played by the pear-toned Martin Gabel.

There is no concrete evidence, only innuendo, but Tone becomes a political liability and is forced to deliver his resignation over TV. Real life cases of this sort have had more excitement and impact than this TV case. Couldn't See Evidence

The TV drama made frequent use of TV hearings, conventions and speeches, to demonstrate how the medium has become a political tool. A drawback to credibility was Tone's fight to defend his honor when the viewer could Survivors include three sons, Jack H. Randolph, Yakima, Wash.; Clifton G. Randolph, Walla Walla, Wash.; and Donald E. Randolph, Buckley, Wash.; three daughters, Mrs. Harvey Warren, Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. Henry Felkins, Spanaway, Wash.; and Mrs. Robert May, Long Beach, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Molly Sawyer, Zillah, Wash., 10 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.
