To Market Besse Durkee

One player (Highway Watchman) stands apart from the other players (Travelers). He silently writes a letter of the alphabet and puts it in his pocket. He must not tell it. Travelers walk, one at a time, past the Watchman, who asks each one, "Where are you going and what will you buy?" The Traveler says, "I am going to market to buy..." and he names five things such as bread, candy, etc. If one begins with the letter the Watchman has chosen, he is passed. (If Watchman has chosen S and Traveler says, perhaps, sugar, he can go on.) If not, he is turned back and tries again later. The game goes on until only one player has not reached the market. He is Watchman the next game.

- How long is a piece of string?
- How far can a dog run into the woods?

Answers:
1. It is twice the distance from its middle to the end.
2. A dog can run halfway into the woods: thereafter he's running out of the woods.
