

Phoenix High School
Edited by Lyle Logan and Becky McAlister

Wanda Craig was crowned Homecoming queen during halftime ceremonies of the Phoenix - Eagle Point game Friday, Oct. 30. She was chosen from four other candidates by the football team. Her court included Linda Ray, sophomore; Ella Fay Keeney, junior; and Donna Demmer, senior.

After school was dismissed, students participated in a parade of decorated cars and class floats. Again the freshmen triumphed when their float took first place. Dean Sommers and Marion Stovall won prizes for the best decorated cars.

Homecoming festivities were highlighted by the game Oct. 31, when the Phoenix Pirates beat the Eagles, 28 to 12.

Homecoming corsages were sold by the junior class on Friday, Oct. 30. They were made of white chrysanthemums with a blue felt "P" in the center of each. The "mums" were worn all day by students. They were also worn at the game.

This was another of the money-raising projects sponsored by the juniors.

The first Camera club project of the year is in connection with the work of the annual staff. Members of the club went into Medford Nov. 10 to photograph places of business which are to be used in the advertising section of the Pirate Log.

The Oregon Industrial Arts association recently held its annual conference in Salem. Attending the convention from Phoenix were William Schulz, shop teacher, and Gary Chris. The conference, held Nov. 6 and 7, covered many articles of interest for shop teachers and students, according to Schulz.

Exhibits from 36 manufacturers of shop equipment and materials were shown, along with demonstrations of plastics, woodwork, machine operations, and machine manuals. President of the OIAA convention this year is Don McGovern of Eagle Point.

In recognition of National Library Week, the creative Mrs. Mable Sims, put up a display for the hall showcase. It consisted of several good books, a few of which should be in the reading background of everyone. This week a display is featured on American Education Week. The display will consist of posters representing the following themes: the children, the parents, the teachers, the people next door, and the members of the school board. This week will be the 39th observance of American Education Week.

The traditional freshmen initiation party was supplanted by the senior class "Beatnik Party." Instead of the raw eggs and limburger cheese which were refreshments for the freshman class in previous years, they were treated to refreshments and dancing. The theme was centered around the beatnik fad. Everyone wore beatnik attire and prizes were awarded for the most typical beatniks.

In breaking an old tradition and bringing in a new one, the class of '60 gave a party which proved a success and freshmen were welcomed to PHS in style.

Cub Scouts
Pack 3
The monthly meeting of the Cub Scouts, Pack 3, of Roosevelt school was held in the school gymnasium recently. The meeting led by Cub Master Robert Griffith, featured a skit based on Aesop's Fables by Den 1.

Achievement arrow awards were presented as follows: wolf gold arrow to Robert Atkins, and bear silver arrows to Earl O'Dell and Rocky James. Dennis Chapman was advanced to wolf rank, and Rocky Rose received a wolf silver arrow.

Robert Griffith, Gary Williams, Dick Keverer and Rocky James received dinner badges. Greg Howes, Phillip Epplet, Jerry Hollingsworth and Mike Harding received assistant dinner badges, and David Brennen received a one year service pin.

Bobcat pins were awarded Jerry James, Den 1; Jim Brooks, Greg Jones, Doug Elder, Phil Epplet, Bob Fellows, Jerry Sessions, and Bruce Chisholm, Den 2; Jerry Hollingsworth, Den 3; and Dale Prentice, Mike Ness, Jerry Holm, David Duncan, and Tommy Simon, Den 4.
