

Ducks, Beavers Bill 62nd Gridiron Tilt

Eugene—UPI—Oregon's Ducks will be out to keep their Rose Bowl hopes alive this Saturday here when they renew the annual "Civil War" clash with Oregon State.

The two teams have met 62 times previously with Oregon winning 30 of them while losing 24. Eight games ended in ties.

The Ducks will be favored in this encounter but the "dope" sheets can be cast aside when these two old rivals get together.

Two years ago when Oregon was on its way to the Rose Bowl with only two losses, the Beavers rose up to hurl back the Ducks 10-7 for a third defeat in that Rose Bowl year.

Best Since '49

And it works the other way, too. Three years ago Oregon tied the Rose Bowl bound Beavers 14-14. And last year the underdog Ducks shut out Oregon State at Corvallis, 20-0.

Oregon is currently headed for its best season since the Cotton Bowl game of 1948. That team won 9 games while losing only one.

This year the Ducks are 8 and 1 with the only loss a one point affair to Washington's Huskies.

Both teams will field a veteran team. The Ducks will have eight seniors in the starting lineup while Oregon State will start seven seniors.

Peterson OK

Oregon will be at full strength for the game. Center and co-captain Bob Peterson has recovered from a leg injury and will be in the starting eleven.

A victory for Prothro's Beavers would help soothe an otherwise dismal season. Prothro has had his worst season since coming to Oregon State. His present club has won two games while losing six.

A sellout crowd is expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff at Hayward field.

Perry Selected Coach of Week; Has Top Team

Bowling Green, Ohio—UPI—He came to a school which had finished last in its league two straight seasons and in five years built it into the nation's No. 1 small college football team.

He says he's "not a good recruiter," but his squad has played depth because the players are "happy here and work hard to stay in school."

He's Doyt Perry of Bowling Green university, singled out today by United Press International as small college football's "Coach of the Week" in the wake of Bowling Green's 30-8 triumph over Delaware, previously rated the nation's top team. Perry is the first coach so honored this year.

Too Darn Old

At 50 years of age, the one-time assistant to head coach Woody Hayes at Ohio State insists he's "too darn old" to think of becoming head coach at a major school and, besides, "I like it here." But there's no doubt that Perry is cut from the same coaching mold as the greats of the big-time teams.

Six years ago, when Perry returned to his alma mater as head football coach, the school was known athletically chiefly for its basketball teams, which have several times appeared in national tournaments. Football had hit bottom—a 2-9 record for a second straight term in the Mid-American Conference basement.

In five years Perry has turned night into day with 38 wins, four losses, and four ties.

Bob Elliott To Skipper Kansas City

Kansas City, Mo.—UPI—The Kansas City Athletics, digging into the minor leagues, Wednesday named Bob Elliott, 43-year-old playing veteran of the major leagues, their new manager.

"I welcome the opportunity to manage the Athletics," Elliott said Wednesday at a press conference. Elliott, who was named the National league's most valuable player while playing with the old Boston Braves in 1947, succeeds Harry Craft, whose contract was not renewed by the A's at the end of the 1959 season.

Elliott is regarded as a stern manager, but "not a slave driver."

Elliott had managed Pacific Coast league teams four of the last five years and already had signed a contract to manage a Sacramento in 1960.

MAY GET CHANCE

Chicago—UPI—Dick Moegle, a "forgotten man" for the San Francisco Forty Niners this season, may get a chance for action this Sunday against the Baltimore Colts. Moegle and Fred Dugan have been working at left end, and one of them is expected to get the starting nod if regular Clyde Conner isn't up to par. Conner is a "doubtful" starter because of a severe muscle pull.

BOB ALLISON
Rookie of Year

Bob Allison AL Rookie Of Season

By BOB SALMON

Boston—UPI—Young Bob Allison, "Mr. Inside" of the Washington Senators, couldn't be blamed today if he greeted the news of being named the American league rookie of the year for 1959 with mixed emotions.

The 1958 AL rookie award went to Albie Pearson, who lost his centerfield job last spring to Allison. Pearson has since been traded to the Baltimore Orioles.

There was little competition in the voting announced here Wednesday. The 25-year-old Allison garnered 18 of the 24 votes by a committee of the nation's sports writers. Cleveland right-hander Jim Perry received five votes and Russ Snyder, Kansas City outfielder, received one vote.

The 6 foot 3 inch, 210-pound Allison picked up his nickname from smashing line drive homers in spacious Griffith Stadium in Washington. "Mr. Outside" was Harmon Killebrew, who specialized in tape measure homers over everything.

Demo, Scot Engagement Has Father-Son Rivalry

By LARRY SHAW

Portland—UPI—A situation probably unparalleled in the history of Oregon will exist Friday night when Jefferson of Portland and David Douglas high schools clash in the semi-finals of the state A-1 football playoffs.

It matches father against son.

The father in this case is Tom DeSylvia who has guided Jefferson to two consecutive city titles and one state title. And in the process, his teams have run up a victory streak of 33 straight wins.

Hoping to end this victory skein will be the son, a young quarterback of the Douglas Scots, Terry DeSylvia. Terry, a 16-year-old junior, was at the helm of the Scot team this year which won the Metropolitan title and advanced to the semi-finals.

And right in the middle of the whole thing is mother.

Which team will Mrs. DeSylvia root for?

Well, I guess I'll have to wear two "mums." One on the right shoulder with a 'J' and the other on the left shoulder with 'D.' I don't know which side of the field to sit on though. Maybe I'll do like the president at the Army-Navy game and sit on one side the first half and switch the second half."

During the season Mrs. DeSylvia divided her football time between her husband's team and her son's.

"I guess I saw about half and half," she said.

Surprisingly enough the family had talked over the possibility of the two teams meeting even before the season started.

Mrs. DeSylvia said that the three of them used to laugh at the possibility of the father-son rivalry.

Despite Jefferson's awesome record Terry isn't letting it bother him.

Strategy Kept Secret

He saw Jeff's first game of the season. It was played on a Saturday afternoon and Roosevelt was the victim. The final score was, 59-0.

"I saw the Roosevelt game and the films of the Lincoln game which Jeff won, 7-0," Terry said. "They're a pretty big challenge, that's for sure. But I feel we can get up for the occasion and beat them."

Terry said that he and his Dad had discussed the two teams on many occasions. But he said that as far as this game is concerned the strategy of both teams has not been discussed.

DeSylvia, the father that is, has this to say about the game. "Our scouting reports say that the team is real tough. It also adds that it has a real good quarterback in this Terry DeSylvia.
