Quotes From the News

United Press International
Washington—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, greeting three women physical education directors and recalling his college football days:
"I couldn't make any other team—do you think I could make the women's hockey team?"

Hollywood—Art expert Prof. Alexander Zlatoff-Mirsky, discussing the discovery of 10 Italian Renaissance paintings valued at 10 million dollars:
"Finding this group of paintings is equivalent to discovering a mine containing diamonds, emeralds, rubies and pearls."

Washington—Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio), replying to Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler's statement that states that gave heaviest financial support to the national committee would get the best accommodations at the 1960 convention:
"I'm sending a letter out to all the Democratic county chairmen saying if anybody sends money to the Democratic National Committee he ought to see a psychiatrist."

Havana—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, charging that opponents of his government are waging campaigns against him from abroad:
"The enemy is mighty in its resources but not in numbers, and in our favor we have the monopoly of dignity."

ROGUE RIVER Meeting Held by Club

By MRS. MYRTLE WHIPPLE
Rogue River — The Rogue River Hobby club met Monday at the river home of Mrs. Alma Shontz on highway 99 south, with 10 members and one guest, Mrs. Richard Shontz, present.

Members were served a turkey dinner by the hostess, Mrs. Shontz. In the afternoon gifts were exchanged, and a social hour was held.

Mrs. Charles Larson and Mrs. Alfred Van Scoter are new members. Others present were Mrs. Sam Bunch of Cave Junction, Mesdames Esther Shock, Harry Condray, Roy Larson, Rollin Stiehl, James Whipple, Verna Danley and the hostess, Alma Shontz.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Larson and will be the Christmas party with a covered dish dinner.
