

Program On Africa Presented

The fourth in a series of educational programs covering "stops" in a world tour was held Monday night by Alpha Lambda chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority.

Africa was the country reached and the group was met on the driveway of the Leland A. Carpenter home, 2741 Ruth drive, by a "guide" who led the women on a safari through the yard and home.

The wilds of the jungle, the diamond mines and other interesting points were depicted by decorations and costumes on the tour. All participated in a "diamond hunt."

Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Dan Kidd and Mrs. Lyman Smith reported on the geography, history and living conditions of Africa. Contests in African dancing and map drawing were held, with prizes going to Mrs. Howard Phillips, Mrs. B. H. Gilbert and Mrs. Robert Shangle.

Dessert was served by Mrs. Albert Lange and Mrs. Wylie Macpherson. Others on the committee were Mrs. W. H. Fischer and Miss DeMaris Glutsch, educational director. Mrs. Peter E. Greene was a guest.

Prior to the educational meeting, a business session was held at the home of Mrs. B. H. Gilbert, 501 Oregon terrace. Plans were outlined for a "Have Santa-Will Travel" project to be conducted by the chapter Dec. 7 through 18. For information on the project interested persons son at Normandy 4-1748.

Past Recalled In New Clothes For Little Girls

United Press International

The Spirit of Christmas past has a future in the holiday wardrobe of little girls. The old-fashioned look is inspired by turn-of-the-century styles, reports the National Cotton council. There are bell sleeves of two or more tiers; a bias-cut cape sleeve gathered at the shoulder and rippling over the arm; and full sleeves with tucks, smocking or lace. Another sleeve is a reversed leg o'mutton—a sheath sleeve ending midway between the shoulder and elbow and flaring into a large pouf at the elbow.

Navy and gray, traditional colors for early spring, will get some hefty competition from all shades of beige in 1960. Several New York collections now being shown to buyers featured pale beige, honey, mocha, and even "expresso" brown for spring.

The pinafore is back. It comes in cotton organdy, broadcloth, lawn, pique and velveteen, trimmed with lace or appliqued with lollipops, candy canes, animals and Christmas trees. Jumper aprons that button up the back cover dresses in two-in-one ensembles.

Wonder what ever became of the suit or coat sleeve which came all the way to the wrist? Sleeves in the new spring fashions end just above the elbow, at the elbow, or slightly below.

It will be a lace or chiffon spring in the late day and evening clothes department. Both fabrics show more frequently than the old standby, peau de soie, in the new collections.

Borrow an idea from Patou of Paris to dress up fur coats. Buy a narrow fur scarf to match the coat and wear the scarf inside the collar.

Student Code of Conduct Discussed at PTA Session

Central Point - An interested group of parents and teachers participated with a panel of students in the discussion of a code of conduct for youth at the November 23 meeting of Crater Parent-Teacher association. The panel, conducted by Bob Gardner, Crater student body president, and consisting of executive members of student council and class presidents, combined the Oregon Code of Conduct and a code of ethics into seven standards which are being formulated into a new constitution by the student council.

The cardinal code's purpose, explained by Connie McDonough, is to promote cooperative understanding among students, and between students and their parents and teachers. The personal appearance summary, by Patti Straus, concluded that conformity in neatness of dress and grooming is necessary and desirable.

Sally Bailey noted that school spirit involves students' behavior and attitudes at all times, beyond school hours and activities. Allison Pinkham discussed state laws pertaining to smoking and drinking among other items of personal habits. Jan Bateman summarized the necessity of the home as the center of teenagers social activity and the cooperation of parents in home entertaining.

Ideas brought forth by Charles Warren on general dating encouraged the use of the home as a logical meeting place and prearranged agreements between parents and teenagers on outside social events.

Driving information, by Don Ryan, revealed a new code adopted by Crater concerning

Beauty Tips

from ME to YOU

BY Glenn Funk

Thanks to new chemistry, modern hair coloring is much less of a threat to the texture of the hair. Many of the same softening, cream conditioners used in expensive skin preparations have been included into color formulas, and consequently, they have been known to improve the texture of the hair. So ladies, don't hold back any longer. Give yourself a new lift with a new look. A few more tips on hair coloring. Keep a lock of your original color so if you want to switch back, you will have something to match. Have a permanent first, since permanent waving always changes the color of tinted hair to a certain degree. Keep a record of the formula so retouching can be easy to match. Keep out of the sun or cover your head with a dark cloth.
