Eagle Point Ranchers

The Eagle Point Ranchers 4-H Livestock club met at the Eagle Point vocational agricultural building Nov. 24.

President Mike Higday called the meeting to order. The club pledge was led by Frances Huffman. Roll call was taken and each member answered by naming a part of a sheep or pig. There were 20 members and seven parents present. We were all glad to welcome back Mr. Higday, our pig leader, who was injured.

Gordie De Haas introduced a new member, Larry Enyart. He will take up sheep.

Danny Burrell gave a talk on "Sheep Ticks" and Darrell Dowell gave a talk on "Suffolk Breed." Next week Everett Adamson and Kenneth Dowell will give talks.

After all business was over we held a general discussion. Mr. Dowell moved that we make a Christmas basket for a needy family. This motion was passed. On the committee to plan this are Everett Adamson, Kenneth Dowell, Patsy Sutton, and Frances Huffman.

The next meeting will be Dec. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Eagle Point vocational agricultural building. Anyone interested in joining is invited to attend.

We decided to have a box so-

A report was given on the Empire Builders meeting by Pat Neal Jr., leader.

Several suggestions were given for a name for the club. It was decided that the name for the club would be Jacksonville 4-H clubs, then as we split into different project clubs each individual club can pick its own name.

An idea for a pre-fair was put on the floor. Members are to think about the suggestion until the next meeting.

Jim Smith is using his spare time to rebuild his shop as a meeting place for the group. Warren Dunlap and O. D. Day have built a livestock trailer for the 4-H group. During the past two weeks it has gotten a green paint job with white trim.

Dunlap, who is livestock leader, reported that three members have gotten their beef. Next meeting will be held in the Jacksonville school at 6:30 p.m. It will be a box social.

ANYONE FOR LEMONADE? — Five-year-old Cheryl Shaw of Tampa, Fla., could just about have a corner on the kids' lemonade market in Tampa. Along with these four basketball-sized lemons all the youngsters would need is a little bit of sugar, some ice and a lot of water to be in business. Neuberger Plans Aid To Growers Of Cranberries

Portland — (UPI) — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) and his wife ate cranberries with their Thanksgiving dinner Thursday.

Neuberger returned home for the holiday from a speaking and vacation tour of Colorado and California.

Neuberger said he was having legislation prepared to give some financial relief to cranberry growers affected when it was announced that a weed killer used on some cranberries had produced cancer in rats.

Will Damage Growers
"As one who has had cancer, I know this incident will damage the growers for years to come," he said.

He defended the action of Arthur Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, in making the issue public.

"Any person in that position would have been derelict in his duty if he had not done what Secretary Flemming did," he said.

Neuberger added that his defense of Flemming in California created a stir because he is the only senator from a cranberry-producing state to defend the secretary.
