Sacred Duty To Assist Working Class Described

Vienna, Austria — (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev defended Wednesday his decision to order Russian troops and tanks to crush the 1956 Freedom-Fighters revolt in Hungary.

In a speech to workers at the Ganz-Mavag truck plant in Budapest where he attended the Hungarian Socialist Workers (Communist) Party Congress, Khrushchev blamed the 10-day rebellion on "imperialists."

The "imperialists," he said, "wanted to split the Communist bloc countries."

Sacred Duty

"We regarded it as our sacred duty to meet the request of the Hungarian Revolutionary Workers and Peasants Government, to move our troops against the counter-revolution and to help the working class," Khrushchev said.

"Had we not helped you we would have been called fools and history would not have forgiven us that foolishness."

Boasts of Supremacy

In an address Tuesday to the Communist Party Congress, Khrushchev had blamed the "fever" generated by his denunciation of Josef Stalin and the mistakes of the Hungarian Red leaders for sparking the revolt.

Khrushchev also boasted of the Soviet rocket supremacy. He said the Communist countries "are not afraid of the forces of imperialism."

"Our forces are stronger than the forces of imperialism. Our armaments are better... our rockets are on the moon while theirs are in the water," he said.

Great Many More Parks Necessary By Century's End

Williamsburg, Va. — (UPI) — Winthrop Rockefeller, board chairman of Colonial Williamsburg, predicted today that before the end of the century, the United States will need 40 times the land now set aside for national parks and scenic areas.

Rockefeller told the National Park Service's bi-annual conference here that the nation must make a concerted effort to provide space for its citizens to enjoy their increasing leisure time.

More Leisure Time

About 400 Park Service officials, including superintendents, regional directors and rangers, are attending the meetings here. Williamsburg is an historic colonial center restored by a group established by Rockefeller's father, John D. Jr.

Rockefeller said that by the year 2000, twice as many people will be enjoying 50 per cent more leisure time on double their present incomes and travel budget.

"America will need perhaps four times the number of city parks and playgrounds, 16 times as many regional parks and lakes close enough to urban areas for a day's outing, and roughly 40 times the amount of land in national parks and scenic areas," he said.

Rockefeller is a brother of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Seaton's 'Directive'

In a message to the convention, Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton issued a six-point "directive" guide future progress of the Park Service's "Mission 66" program. The program is a long-range conservation and development plan aimed for completion in 1966.

Seaton's recommendations included a call to develop a system of new national reserve areas set up "not necessarily for immediate use, but as a reservoir from which future generations may draw for needed parks and recreation areas."

TAX LAW OF 1954

"... All taxes for the support of the government of this state shall be assessed on polls, and on property valued in equal and ratable proportion; and all property, real and personal, within this state, not expressly exempt therefrom, shall be subject to taxation in the manner provided by law."

Golf course developers set a post-war record for the fifth straight year in 1958 by building 182 new regulation courses and additions.

Oregon Having Tragic Year in Hunting Fatalities

Portland — (UPI) — Oregon is having its most tragic year in accidental gunshot hunting deaths.

Fifteen persons have died in the state since July from accidental gunshot wounds while hunting. Eight of them were 16 years or younger.

Cal Giesler, hunter safety supervisor for the State Game Commission, said that in addition another 60 persons, at least, had been wounded.

Giesler also said that about 25 wounds "and maybe more"

have been caused by pistols and revolvers "which aren't legal to shoot any game animal in the state."

Those who have died accidentally so far this year include:

1. Sandra King, 11, killed July 5, Lake county, rabbit hunting.
2. Reginald J. Hastings, 15, killed Aug. 14, Douglas county, raccoon hunting.
3. Thos Leeds Bailey, 16, Island City, killed Oct. 14, Union county, waterfowl hunting.

Stocks Move Up on Irregular Advance

New York — (UPI) — Stocks moved up today from their opening levels to advance irregularly.

Small gains predominated in the list but the advance was ragged and lacked conviction.

Steel issues firmed for the most part. Lukens, still aided by its move to operate during any recurrence of the steel strike, jumped nearly 1 1/2. Youngstown, Republic and Bethlehem tacked on fractions, while U.S. Steel which rose at the opening, eased in subsequent trades.

Gains of a point or more appeared in some of the recently volatile electronics. General Time, Texas Instruments and Litton moved up more than a point each. IBM lost around 1.

Bookie Murdered; Police Say Scene Was 'Rearranged'

Sherman Oaks, Calif. — (UPI) — A widely known bookie was shot to death Wednesday night before ex-convict Mickey Cohen and 25 other guests at a swanky restaurant and police said the murder scene was "rearranged" before they were called.

The victim, convicted extortionist Jack Whalen, alias Jack O'Hara, 39, was shot once under the right eye, police said, after he walked into Rondelli's restaurant and hit a man in the face.

Slayer Flees

The slayer fired two shots at Whalen from his seat in a dining room booth, then fled. The second shot went into the ceiling.

"To paraphrase Winston Churchill, never did so many people see so little," Police Chief William H. Parker said of the slaying in this San Fernando Valley district of Los Angeles.

Parker said there was an "obvious delay before police were notified. Perhaps some of the press were notified first. We also believe that the scene of the murder was considerably rearranged before we arrived."

Cohen Six Feet Away

Former mobster Cohen told police he was sitting at a table only six feet away from the shooting but did not recognize the gunman. He said he never had met Whalen.

"I just ducked when the shooting started," Cohen said when questioned at police headquarters. "I asked someone behind me if I was bleeding, then just stood there. I've been through too many of these things to go under a table."

Five in Family Die In Auto Smashup

Sprague, Wash. — (UPI) — Five members of a California family en route to Spokane were killed early today when their station wagon collided with a pickup truck on icy U.S. highway 10.

The dead were identified by the Washington State Patrol as John Kowzan, 41, Tahoe Valley, his wife Laura, about 40, and three of their children.

Another daughter, Laura, 7, was in critical condition at Deaconess hospital in Spokane.

Before she was taken to Spokane, Laura told Joe Jerue, operator of a Cheney, Wash., funeral home, that the family was enroute to Spokane to visit an Aunt Shirley who she could not identify further. Officers were searching for the relative.
