Park and Shop Lot Use Still Grows

The use of downtown Park and Shop lots continues to grow as more residents become familiar with the location and availability of off-street parking space, according to Don McNeil, Jackson County Chamber of Commerce manager.

As of Dec. 1, downtown merchants and business firms have paid for, through validated tickets, more than 16,000 shopping hours for customer parking on downtown Park and Shop lots, McNeil said.

The plan started Aug. 17, when four lots were put into operation with about 34 merchants participating. Now there are seven downtown lots with 74 firms participating.

Twenty-five Park and Shop directional signs are currently being installed, McNeil said, which will serve to lead those who are unfamiliar with lot locations to the off-street facilities.

The signs are prominently displayed in the downtown thoroughfares and make use of the standard Park and Shop emblem with directional arrows. The cost of the directional signs and all Park and Shop promotion material is paid for through subscriptions of Park and Shop members, McNeil noted.

Guidance Session To Help College Prospects Slated

A guidance session covering preparation for college or other training beyond the high school level will be held for the students of Medford High school Dec. 9 at 9 a.m. Principal Lester D. Harris announced that a visiting team from the state system of higher education has been invited to conduct the meeting.

The state system team will include the executive secretary of the High School-College Relations committee of the state board of higher education, Francis B. Nickerson; representatives from each state institution of higher education; and a representative from Oregon Technical Institute.

The importance of education beyond high school and the urgency of adequate preparation early in the high school years will be explained. A description of what "adequate preparation" entails, career opportunities, costs, scholarships, and mechanics of school application and entrance will be stressed.

Representatives from each of the state schools will explain their respective academic offerings and point up each institution's specific requirements. Opportunity for questions by students is given to provide individual guidance.

The informative sessions are conducted annually in the high school as part of the regular guidance program. They represent a combined effort by the state system of higher education and the high school to better prepare high school students for future careers. The program presents complete information on the educational opportunities provided at public expense within the state.

Suit To Be Filed To Recover Money

The City of Medford is filing a complaint in district court against Louis Kowolski in hopes of recovering $95 the city administration feels he owes the city.

Kowolski is the contractor building the Army reserve armory on West Jackson st., across from Jackson park.

City Attorney Joel Reeder said Kowolski came to the city building department last April with the plans and specifications for the armory to obtain a city building permit.

The city did approximately $95 worth of work on the plans before Kowolski realized he was building the armory on U. S. government property and would not need to comply with city building regulations or obtain a city building permit, Reeder said.

Since that time, Kowolski attempts to recover the money, has ignored the city's at- according to Reeder.

Building Permits Increase in City

A total of 215 building permits valued at $547,711 was issued last month by the city building department, a large increase over the number and valuation of permits issued in November last year.

In November, 1958, only 80 permits, valued at $349,750, were issued, and in the same month of 1957, only 53 permits, valued at $331,212, were issued.

Plumbing permits, 110, accounted for the majority of last month's permits, but there were 22 new home construction permits with a total valuation of $303,300 and three new business construction permits valued at $160,500.
