Junior Achievement Program Discussed

Medford can have a Junior Achievement program for an approximate cost of $3,150, according to Richard A. F. Ballou, western regional representative for the organization.

Ballou spoke to a group of 20 civic and business leaders who met at the Rogue Valley Country club this morning to investigate the possibility of having a JA program here.

Junior Achievement, Ballou said, is a program sponsored

Arbitration, Third Party Suggested By Labor Secretary in Steel Strike

Washington — U. S. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today advised union and management negotiators to submit the steel dispute to arbitration or let a neutral third party recommend settlement terms.

Ike Would Approve

Mitchell said these procedures would meet approval of President Eisenhower who appealed to both sides to reach an agreement by collective bargaining before he returns from his overseas goodwill tour Dec. 22.

Union and management negotiators were expected to give their reaction to Mitchell's ideas at a joint session called for this afternoon.

The cabinet officer made these suggestions to the "big 11" steel companies and the steelworkers union at a news conference.

—Both sides agree voluntarily to arbitrate issues which they cannot work out themselves.

Exchange Visits Should Increase, Mayfield Notes

(Editor's note: This is the last in a series of articles prepared by Medford's school superintendent following his recent three-week trip to Russia. The series has dealt with Russia's "Seven Year Plan" and was based on Soviet books, magazine articles and personal interviews with the ministers of education of the Russian and Ukrainian republics, the deputy mayor of Moscow and the mayor of Tbilisi.)

By DR. LEONARD MAYFIELD
Medford
School Superintendent

In writing the series of articles on my visit to the U.S.S.R., I have attempted to make a factual objective report. While I must admit to certain prejudices, I find now that a few have been tempered and a few strengthened. Any errors or misinterpretations are mine.

It is with a deep sense of gratitude that I express appreciation to those who made my trip possible. Without their approval, encouragement, and contributions, I would not have been able to accept the invitation to join the first group of public school administrators to visit behind the "Iron Curtain."

The project was co-sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Association of School Administrators, and other groups interested in advancing public education and international relations. We were a representative group in that our members were from 18 states.

Hated Regime Declared Forced On Hungarians
United Nations, N.Y.—UPI—The United States declared today that Russia maintained 50,000 troops in Hungary to make the Hungarians "accept a regime which was imposed from the outside and which they thoroughly hate."

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge made the charge at the outset of the General Assembly's new debate on the 1956 Hungarian freedom revolt and its bloody suppression by Russia.

The U. S. and 23 other countries had before the assembly a resolution deploring the "continued disregard" by the Soviet Union and the present Hungarian regime of repeated U. N. appeals for withdrawal of Russian forces and the holding of free elections in Hungary.

Hungary Will Be Free
"Hungary, by peaceful means and in God's time, will one day be free, if we uphold the U. N. Charter," Lodge said.

Sir Leslie Munro, U. N. special representative on the Hungarian question whom Moscow and Budapest refused to let into Hungary, told the assembly Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev largely agreed with the report of the Assembly's investigation of the revolt when he spoke recently to the Communist Party Congress at Budapest.

Excavation Tests For Stadium Made

Persons who observed excavation tests for the proposed athletic stadium at the Jackson county fairgrounds south of Medford were satisfied, County Judge Earl Miller said yesterday.

The tests were to determine the value of fill material which could be obtained from the site.

Next step will be to refer the matter to the stadium committee composed of community residents. The committee will be asked to pinpoint the location they had in mind for the stadium plan proposed by John Weisbrod, Medford.

Ike Pledges To Continue U. S. Aid To Pakistan

Karachi — UPI — President Eisenhower today pledged continued American aid to Pakistan, a "courageous ally," and agreed with President Mohammed Ayub Khan that Free World cooperation for mutual security against Communism is essential.

For his part, Ayub described Eisenhower as "an extraordinary head of an extraordinary state. Never before in the history of man has one country taken upon itself so much to preserve the peace and freedom of others as the United States of America."

The two leaders summed up talks during Eisenhower's two-day visit in a 400-word communique which said they "reviewed generally worldwide political questions and in particular the problems of relations between the Free World and the Sino-Soviet bloc."

In what appeared to be an indirect reference to Pakistan's dispute with India over Kashmir, they said they discussed "relations among the nations of the area and the urgent desirability of finding solutions to existing disputes."

Cheered by Crowd
Their talks had been sandwiched between the most tumultuous welcome ever given a visitor to Pakistan, and a sight — seeing a wild display of wheeling horseback maneuvers by fierce Pakistani cavalrymen, and was cheered anew by a crowd at a cricket match.

Different Purpose
There were features of the Soviet education program which we should carefully evaluate. However, as a "package exchange," we must completely reject their program. Theirs is designed to serve an entirely different purpose than ours. If we were to adopt even a major portion of it, our "way of life" would be lost.

The distorted, false, taken-out-of-context version of American life as written in their textbooks (and other literature) was offensive and disgusting. Ironically, such biased information has not poisoned the young people or the older ones against Americans. Wherever we went, individually and in groups, these people were polite, courteous and friendly.

Conner Elected In Fire District

Partial returns from Monday's county water district and rural fire protection district elections showed a light turnout at the polls with most candidates running unopposed.

In the Shady Cove-Trail fire district, A. J. (Bert) Conner defeated J. Wilmer Ragsdale by an 11-4 vote.

Claude Hoover, unopposed for reelection in the Central Point fire district, received 12 votes.

20 Convicts Flee From Prison in North Carolina

Yanceyville, N.C. — UPI — Twenty incorrigible convicts took over the maximum security Ivy Bluff prison camp early today and escaped with an arsenal of pistols, rifles and a sub-machinegun.

Fifteen of the 35 prisoners at Ivy Bluff chose to stay behind but the rest followed the lead of Charles (Yank) Stewart, a long-term convict whose father and brother were executed in Raleigh in the 1920s for murdering a policeman.

The fugitives, 14 whites and six Negroes, included six life termers.

Col. William F. Bailey, state prison director, termed "inexcusable" the break from Ivy Bluff, scene of a number of prison self-maimings.

Prison officials received a report late this morning that a man, believed to be one of the fugitives, had been seen about seven miles from here. They sent a truckload of bloodhounds, two guards and two dog handlers to the area.

In Washington, the FBI announced it was entering the case on the strength of indications the prisoners had fled the borders of North Carolina. The prison is located 50 miles northeast of Greensboro, near the Virginia border.

Series of Ruses
The break was not revealed for several hours after a day-shift guard, coming on duty at 4:30 a.m., discovered the night guards locked in cells.

The prisoners took over the prison by a series of ruses. They slugged one guard, and raced away from the camp shortly after midnight in a stolen truck and car. Later they wrecked the car and all 20 climbed into the pick-up truck, which had benches and a wire-cage door for transporting prisoners.

The escape was well planned, apparently by Stewart, who once said he would do anything to get out of Ivy Bluff.

Parks Commission To Meet with Court

A committee from the Jackson county parks and recreation commission will meet with the county court Monday to establish "operating procedures," it was decided last night.

Members complained to County Judge Earl Miller last night that the commission was being bypassed. Proposals for recreation and park areas have appeared in the news before the commission was informed by the county court, commission members said.

They referred specifically to the proposed athletic stadium at the county fairgrounds, and the exploratory committee meeting scheduled this afternoon by the county court for possible park and recreation development along Bear creek. The committee members said they were not consulted on either of these developments.

Pinar Del Rio, Cuba — UPI — Two American soldiers of fortune charged with plotting against the Castro regime received stiff prison terms today.

Austin Young, 38, Miami, Fla., was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment while Peter John Lambton, 24, British-born naturalized American, received a 25-year term.

The government had asked for the death penalty for Young and 30 years for Lambton. They were tried by a war times tribunal.

Bi-Annual Christmas Program Scheduled

"Sing Gloria," the second bi-annual secondary Medford schools Christmas program, will be presented Thursday, Dec. 17, at Hedrick Junior High school, Jerry L. Dyrud, vocal music supervisor of Medford public schools, has announced.

The program will include about 650 vocalists and an orchestra of about 90 students. They are selected from choral groups from Medford High school, and Hedrick and McLoughlin Junior Highs.

The presentation will be introduced by a choral and instrumental version of Ringwald's "Song of Christmas," which has become traditional for the program.

John Drysdale, orchestra supervisor, will direct the orchestra. Selected groups from the secondary schools will sing Christmas music from Germany, England and Spain.

Dyrud said movable stage sets are being designed for more effective lighting and vocal effects, and groups will be contained in the garb of the period and location of the music.

The third part will consist of all the voices combined in singing several less frequently performed works of Christmas music and will also feature individual groups such as the girl's chorus in "Lullaby for Mary's Son," the boy's chorus in Gevert's "Noel, Noel," and the seventh grade chorus in the "Christmas Hymn."

The presentation is under the direction of Dyrud, assisted by Lynn Sjolund, Charoll Graber, Ray Lewis, Mary Friesen, Drysdale and Jerry McDougall. The public is invited.
