

Globe-Trotting Trouble-Shooter Being Considered

Washington—UPI—The Eisenhower administration is expected to endorse a congressional proposal for creation of a globe-trotting top-level "minister of foreign affairs," or trouble-shooter, according to officials.

The suggestion was advanced in a policy report issued by the staff of a Senate government operations subcommittee headed by Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.).

The report is being circulated among top state department officials. The Senate group is expected to hold hearings next year on the entire matter of government policy-making procedures discussed in the report.

Officials said that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has had in mind for some time creation of a high-level post that would take an exacting travel burden off his shoulders.

As envisioned by the congressional group, the foreign minister would have cabinet-level status to insure that he would be speaking with authority while trying to solve U.S. problems abroad.

Herter and his predecessor, the late John Foster Dulles, both spent much of their time abroad on specific problems, leaving overall department direction in Washington either at a standstill or in the hands of a lower-level official who lacked authority to make firm decisions.

Dulles was the target of severe criticism at times for the extent of his travel. Herter is getting a taste of the same criticism. Since taking office late in April, he has traveled to Europe five times and to South America once and was away from his desk for a week attending the opening of the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

The idea of a top-level assistant to take over the task has been talked about for some time, officials said. Several officials were consulted by the subcommittee before the report was issued.

The officials were hesitant to say whether they believe such a position should have cabinet-level status. But they emphasized that the official should have enough stature to speak with authority when abroad.

The objective would be to prevent top policy-makers from being tied up for weeks on end as Herter was during the 10-week session in Geneva last summer on the Berlin crisis.

Creation of such a post would be unique not only in the United States but in worldwide foreign affairs procedures.

Adjutant General To Visit Armory

Maj. Gen. Alfred D. Hintz, adjutant general of Oregon's military department, is expected to attend the annual inspection of the National Guard units here next week, local officials said Tuesday.

Lt. Col. George H. Watson, of the Sixth Army headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco, Calif., will inspect Company E stationed at Medford.

The annual inspection is to check the maintenance, records and training progress of National Guard units throughout the state.

Prior to the inspection at 8 p.m. Dec. 14, General Hintz and Colonel Watson will be guests at a dinner at the Medford hotel, at which other guests will be Medford Mayor John Snider, Jackson County Judge Earl Miller and Representative and Speaker of the House Robert Duncan.

National Guard officials said the public is invited to the inspection, and seating will be available.

Kennedy-for-President Secretary Appointed

Portland—UPI—Stan Weber, Portland newspaperman, has been named acting executive secretary of the Kennedy-for-President committee in Oregon, it was announced Tuesday by Rep. Edith Green, chairman.

Mrs. Green also said Mrs. Margaret Ann Scaife would be office manager at the Portland headquarters of Sen. P. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Damascus—UPI—Films in which Israeli actress Haya Harareet appears were banned Monday by the Arab League Boycott committee. Miss Harareet has the leading feminine role in the $15 million spectacle "Ben-Hur."

Henry Pu Yi, Twice on Throne In China, Atones for Crimes

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

Henry Pu Yi has atoned for his crimes.

History never will record great deeds of derring-do by Henry Pu Yi. But he must rate at least a paragraph as the last of a dynasty, a pathetic figure swept along throughout his 54 years by events in which he was forced to play a part but over which he had no control.

In his lifetime, he sat upon two thrones and was ousted from both.

He was the last of the Manchu emperors who ruled

China for nearly 300 years. And he was the puppet whom the Japanese sat upon the throne of the Manchurian state which the renamed Manchukuo.

In the meantime, he lived in the north China city of Tientsin simply as Henry Pu Yi.

Granted Red Amnesty

His name cropped up last week in a list of nearly 60 others granted amnesty by the Red Chinese for various offenses ranging from political unreluctance to war criminal. Henry Pu Yi was in the latter category.

Henry Pu Yi ascended the crumbling throne of China in 1908 when he was three years old.

He succeeded the dowager Empress Tau Hai who made Peiping a forbidden city to foreigners and whose hatred of all outsiders finally exploded in the Boxer Rebellion. Her extravagances and prejudices already had brought the country to ruin.

For four years Pu Yi ruled through a regency, finally being forced to abdicate in 1912 with establishment of the republic under Sun Yat-sen. He returned briefly five years later but again was forced to abdicate, this time within a month.

Lived Obscure Life

For nearly 20 years thereafter he lived the obscure life of plain Henry Pu Yi.

But in 1934 a militant Japan had overrun Manchuria, which had the coal, minerals and expansion room the Japanese needed. They also needed some form of legality to mask their outright steal of a huge chunk of Chinese territory.

Henry Pu Yi, was their answer and they placed him on the puppet throne while they proceeded to build their railroads and dams and a great industrial complex in preparation for World War II. At the end of the war, the Russians found him and took him to Tokyo to testify in the war crimes trials and then turned him over to their Red Chinese allies.

Belived Brainwashed

Reports say Henry Pu Yi has been brainwashed now. There are no more thrones for him to sit upon and he can go back to obscurity as plain Pu Yi.

But in his lifetime he has served as a bridge for history, through nearly 50 years of turmoil in China, and in a way has seen history repeat itself.

The dowager empress whom he succeeded had made Peiping a forbidden city. Under the Reds, it once more is a forbidden city where any foreigner automatically is suspect.
