

Teen-Agers Theme of Discussion

"Teen-agers" was the theme for the recent meeting of the Senior High Westminster Fellowship of Medford Presbyterian churches at the First Presbyterian church. DeAnne Taylor was in charge of the program in which both parents and teen-agers participated.

Discussing "Teen-age Marriages" were Mrs. Lester Harris, James Rowan, Carolyn Mencke and John Frohnmayer. "Should Our Teen-agers Come to Westminster Fellowship?" was the topic under discussion by Mrs. George Pearson, James Johnston, and Mary Kay Harris and "Should Teen-agers Have the Family Car?" was the subject for Mrs. Jack Sanborn, DeVere Taylor and Joan Fontaine.

Mrs. Harold Gregory, Stan Lacy and Molly Barker discussed "Should the Kids Go to the Beach After the Prom?" The event was the annual Parents-Students night of the Fellowship. John Frohnmayer, moderator, welcomed the group and a worship service, typical of the usual Sunday night meeting, was held. Church school teachers and advisers were introduced with Carolyn Mencke, vice-moderator, reading the devotional. John Lacy directed the group singing.

Following the Scripture reading the Rev. John O. Reynolds of Westminster Presbyterian church spoke. Dr. Leonard Mayfield, in speaking on his recent trip to the Soviet, contrasted the life of a teen-ager in Russia with that in this country. He mentioned that teen-age drivers in Russia were no problem as there are so very few cars.

Miss Taylor closed the meeting with prayer and refreshments were served.
