

SF Trades Spencer To Get Blasingame

By FRED DOWN
San Francisco—(UPI)—Jubilant manager Bill Rigney of the Giants was so happy today with the acquisition of second baseman Don Blasingame that he immediately announced part of his starting line-up for next year.

"We'll lead off with Blasingame," Rigney beamed after it was announced that the crack infielder had been obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals for second baseman Daryl Spencer and outfielder Leon Wagner.

"I'm tickled to get Don. He's real fast; he's a great fielder and a good hitter."

Blasingame, 27, hit .289 for the Cards last year, including 26 doubles and seven triples—plus one home run. He also fielded .980, accepting 818 chances—second high for the league. He was in 104 double plays.

New York—UPI—The San Francisco Giants and Cincinnati Reds apparently have strengthened themselves where they "hurt the most" last season with a pair of surprise deals.

The Giants moved to tighten up their inner defense when they obtained second-baseman Don Blasingame from the St. Louis Cardinals while the Reds made a bid for the "big" pitcher they needed when they acquired 19-game winner Cal McLish from the Cleveland Indians.

The Giant-Cardinals deal was a standard off-season deal but the Red-Cleveland transaction just beat the mid-night deadline for unrestricted deals between the National and American leagues. The deal was completed just before the deadline and actually wasn't announced until an hour and a half after it.

Reds Trade Temple
To get Blasingame, the Giants sent infielder Daryl Spencer and outfielder Leon Wagner to the Cardinals while the Reds traded veteran second-baseman Johnny Temple to the Indians for McLish, infielder Billy Martin and 1958 Southern association batting champion Gordon Coleman.

The deadline went by without "are the Yankees or Braves making their long-predicted inter-league swaps but the Washington Senators tossed a winter bombshell when they claimed they rejected two $500,000 offers for Harmon Killebrew.

Manager Charley Dressen of the Braves, a coach with the pennant-winning Dodgers last season, said the Giants now "are the team to beat." He added that the Braves tried to obtain Blasingame but said the Cardinals "tried to hold us up."

Arizin Becomes 3rd High Scorer

United Press International
Paul Arizin, playing in the shadow of Wilt Chamberlain this season, reached a personal milestone Tuesday night by becoming the third highest scorer in National Basketball association history.

The former Villanova star, who twice led the NBA in scoring, hiked his lifetime total to 11,779 points as the Philadelphia Warriors mauled the Cincinnati Royals, 131-107. Arizin contributed 26 points in the Warrior spree, a surge that put him 15 over the 11,764 tallied by the great George Mikan of the Minneapolis Lakers. Only Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Bob Cousy have scored more points than Arizin in the NBA.

Chamberlain, however, continued to dominate the Philadelphia scoring as he netted 38 points against Cincinnati. Jack Twyman, the circuit's leading scorer, tallied 31 to lead the Royals.

Bob Pettit, defending NBA scoring champion, dropped in 40 points to give the St. Louis Hawks a 119-110 verdict over the Knickerbockers in the nightcap of the New York doubleheader. Richie Guerin led New York with 30 points.

When it is opened in December, the 21-story "House of Electricity" will be the tallest building in West Berlin.

Brown, Conerly Leaders In Pro Grid Statistics

Philadelphia—UPI—Jimmy Brown, the bundle of muscle of the Cleveland Browns, and Charley Conerly, the bundle of years from the New York Giants, won the National Football league rushing and passing championships for 1959.

Brown, carrying the ball for a single season record 290 times, won the rushing title with 1,329 yards. His total carries broke the former mark of 271 set by Eddie Price of New York in 1951.

Conerly, once hoisted by New York fans during the Giants' lean years of not too long ago, took over first place last week, and then won his first passing championship in 12 years in the league with an average of 8.79 yards gained for every pass thrown.

Conerly completed 113 of 194 tosses for a 58.2 percent.

Pilot Project Set for Pupils

Portland—Do Oregon students have an understanding of the broad principles of natural conservation? Just how much do they know about soils, water, plant life, and wildlife? How about the young people on a national scale?

These questions and many more may soon be answered with a random sample of Oregon high school students scheduled to participate this winter in a pilot project aimed at testing their conservation reasoning. The test is designed to determine how much understanding high school students have of conservation principles and problems and to show at which grade level students begin to develop such understanding.

The test was designed by the Conservation foundation of New York and the Educational Testing service of New Jersey. The state department of education and the Oregon game commission are cooperating in the Oregon pilot project. Coordinating the testing program in Oregon is Austin Hamer, education supervisor for the game commission.

SPORTS PARADE

OSCAR FRALEY
Sport Writer United Press

Tokyo—UPI—The Yankee collapse of 1959 was "just one of those things," jolting Joe DiMaggio asserted Tuesday, and the Bronx Bombers will be back at the top of the baseball heap next season.

"It happened to us in 1940, after we had won four in a row," explained the one-time Yankee clipper as he made a tour of U.S. military bases in the Far East.

"They were all screaming 'break up the Yankees' and then we blew it, for no obvious reason. But we came back too, just as they'll do next season."

What happened to the Yankees last season is the question most asked of DiMaggio as the former Yankee hitting star makes a tour of military installations.

Asked About Williams
"I guess that the second most frequently asked question is whether Ted Williams will play next season," smiles the handsome Hall of Fame outfielder who retired after the 1951 season.

"All I can say is that anybody's guess is as good as mine," DiMaggio adds. "But I would have to guess, as a former ballplayer and thinking as a former ballplayer, that he will decide to give it one more try."

"He couldn't want to quit a loser and, after all, he's entitled to one bad year. You can bet he'll be better this time around and then, probably will call it a career."

DiMaggio, who came out of San Francisco to become one of baseball's greatest players, isn't sorry he decided to quit even though he could have continued several more years at a salary of $100,000 a year while calling his own shots.

"I'm enjoying the work I'm doing even though it calls for a great deal of travel," said DiMaggio, whose once-coal-black hair now is flecked with gray.

DiMaggio is a field man for the V. H. Monette and Company, which services military installations with canned and frozen edibles. As their field representative he has in the last six weeks appeared in Honolulu, Guam, Okinawa, Hong Kong, Taipei, Manila and throughout Japan.

The chief other interest of the rangy, fit man is his son, Joe Jr., now 18 and a student at Lawrenceville Prep school in New Jersey.

"He's a big boy," Joe glows, "and while he doesn't seem to show too much interest in baseball, he's a bearcat in football. Plays center on the football team, y'know, and is kicking specialist on points after touchdown and field goals. The kid is doing real great. I'm happy to say."

NOW! THE VOLKSWAGEN SIX PASSENGER PICK-UP! $2407

Here's a new Volkswagen that delivers a full crew of 6 and all their equipment (about 1/2-ton in all) at half the cost per mile of usual 1/2-ton pick-ups.

Removing the rear seat adds 57 cubic feet of enclosed, lockable cargo area to the 30 square feet in the rear.

Hinged sides and tail gate drop down for easy loading from three directions at standard platform level. Parking's easier, too—overall length is only 169 inches, 3 feet shorter than a standard automobile. Expert service in all 50 states. Come in and get all the facts.
