

Malot-Cauble Ceremony Held in Lutheran Church

Grants Pass — Miss Sandra Lane Cauble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Cauble, became the bride of Thomas Edward Malot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Malot, 3009 Table Rock road, Medford, in a ceremony held Saturday, November 28.

St. Paul's Lutheran church, Grants Pass, was the scene of the wedding at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Hugo Gurney performed the double-ring service before 80 guests. The date was the bridegroom's birthday.

Miss Kay Johnson, Newburg, was vocalist.

Baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums decorated the church.

Mr. Cauble gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length gown of white satin and lace, embroidered with pearlized sequins, which was fashioned by her mother. Her finger-tip length veil was fashioned by Mrs. Harry G. Malot. She carried a white orchid encircled by stephanotis.

Attendants were Mrs. Robert La Bar, Dallas, Tex., sister of the bride, who was matron of honor; Miss Elaine Agan, Bakersfield, Calif., niece of the bride, and Miss Marjorie Murray, Medford, a college friend, both of whom were bridesmaids.

Mrs. La Bar wore a lime green gown with a fitted jacket and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was of lace ornamented with pearls and she carried a nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids wore yellow gowns and carried nosegays of bronze colored chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Cauble wore a blue gown for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Malot chose a dress of pastel blue lace.

Laurel Lee Frazer, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and Bill Row, Grants Pass, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

James M. VanZwol, Lynden, Wash., who served in the Marine Corps with the bridegroom, was best man. Robert Frazer, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, and Carl Dusenbury were ushers.

A reception for the young couple was given at the church by Mrs. James Row, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Harry G. Malot. Orchids which decorated the room were sent from Hawaii by a friend of the bride, Miss Mary Lou Cook.

Mrs. Peggy Hagen, Central Point, made the wedding cake which was cut by Mrs. Row. Mrs. William Raef, Burlingame, Calif., also sister of the bride, served punch and Miss Sharon Raef, also Burlingame, the bride's niece, poured coffee. The Misses Lyn and Sandra Malot attended the guest book and gifts.

The newlyweds traveled to Reno and Lake Tahoe, Nev., for their wedding trip and are at home at 2 North Orange street, Medford. For traveling the bride wore a blue and brown checked wool suit.

The bride was graduated from Grants Pass high school in 1955 and attended Southern Oregon college. She is employed by the Southern Oregon Title company. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Crater High school in 1955, is employed by Schwab Contracting company.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colson, Blue Lake, Calif., brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Everett Colson, Klamath Falls; Mrs. James VanZwol, Lynden, Wash.; Donald Cauble, brother of the bride, and his daughter, Redding, Calif.

On January 6 the guardian council members will meet for a get-acquainted party, about which they will be called later.

News of Wedding Announced Here

Of interest here is news of the wedding November 14 of Mrs. Gladys Francis, former Medford resident, to Ross Montgomery, Twin Falls, Idaho.

The marriage was performed in the Baptist parsonage at Elko, Nev., and the newlyweds are making their home at 512 Sixth avenue East, Twin Falls.

Mr. Montgomery is in the trailer sales business.

Seeking a timely theme for her Christmas Ball headress, Mrs. William Cowning came up with the "Cranberry Merchant" idea. At the request of the photographer, her husband picked one of the real cranberries which edged the headress. A close look will show that the discouraged cranberry merchant is holding a gun to his head. Mrs. Cowning is a member of Junior Service league, sponsoring group for the ball.

Members, Guests Of Gem Club Attend Dinner

More than 70 members and guests enjoyed a pre-Christmas turkey dinner at the recent meeting of the Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club. The three turkeys, provided by the club and prepared by Mrs. Peter Able, Mrs. John Dodge and Mrs. Frank Otis, were augmented by "pot-luck trimmings" provided by the members.

Voting for new officers resulted in the re-election of those presently in office. These are Frank Otis, president; Edgar Shoupe, vice-president; Delmar Smith, secretary; and Peter Able, treasurer. They will be installed at the January meeting.

Mrs. John Dodge announced that John Cantor's display in the U.S. National bank had been replaced by one belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Turner. Trail. It is a collection of both finished lapidary specimens and rough material.

Christmas Program Presented For Study Club Members, Guests

Wednesday Study club held its Christmas party December 16 at Girls Community club. The room had been decorated in the Christmas manner by Mrs. L. K. Doty, assisted by Mrs. R. T. Nichol, Mrs. Jack Swen and Mrs. M. M. Morris.

After a business meeting, gifts were distributed from a gaily decorated tree. Guests were Mrs. Mabel Houck and Miss Elizabeth Burr.

Mrs. E. W. Jermak presented the program and began by reading St. Luke's version of the birth of Christ. Following this she gave a condensation of Elizabeth Hart's story "The Husband of Mary." Little has been written about Joseph and he has been a vague personality. The author gives her version of Joseph and of the courtship of Joseph and Mary in a very human and touching story.

"Little Black Lamb," a Christmas fantasy by Emily S. McCracken, was reviewed by Mrs. Jermak. The story centers around a black lamb born in the flock of the elderly shepherd, Ishma. Despite the fact that shepherds of this time considered a black lamb a bad omen, Ishma dispelled this fear and tenderly cared for the little lamb and carried it with him wherever he went.

When Ishma, together with the other shepherds, followed the star to the stable to see the Christ child, he presented the little black lamb to the baby as a gift from all the shepherds.

The program was closed by reading excerpts from the "Introduction" of Catherine Marshall's book "Let's Keep Christmas." This is, in essence, a strong and eloquent appeal to keep the Christmas spirit throughout the year.

After the program refreshments were served at a table decorated with a silvered wreath and colorful candle. Mrs. F. K. Duell, honorary charter member of the club, poured.

Christmas Session

Members of Rogue Grandmothers club will hold their Christmas meeting Monday, December 21, at the Girls Community club. The event will begin with a salad luncheon at 12:30 o'clock. Hostesses will be Mrs. Ina Huson, Mrs. Elsa Walker, Mrs. Bessie Riley, Mrs. Louis Bittle and Mrs. Arthur H. Webster.

An exchange of gifts not costing over 89 cents is planned.

Department Gives Instruction For Fireproof Tree

Washington — (UPI) — How do you make a Christmas tree fire proof? Buy a fresh tree and keep it in water, says the Department of Agriculture.

Many chemicals have been tried for fire-proofing trees, and even sugar, aspirin or fruit acids have been put in the water. But none has proved as effective as plain water, which keeps the tree naturally moist and flame resistant the department said. Some solutions tested actually cause trees to become dry and flammable.

Shop early for a fresh tree before it dries out from exposure on a sales lot. If the tree is fresh, the needles will feel moist to your hand. If the needles fall when you move or shake the tree, it is too dry to absorb water.

As soon as you get the tree home, throw cold water all over it. Then cut off the butt end about an inch slantwise to open pores for drawing up water. Set the tree in water and keep it cool and shaded until you bring it indoors for trimming.

The first day a five to six-foot tree is placed in water, it may take as much as a quart. After that, it may take a cup daily. Put the tree in a cool part of the room, away from radiators, fireplaces, television sets or other sources of heat.

Clean piano keys with a cloth moistened in denatured alcohol. Water can turn the keys yellow and cause them to become unglued.

For a crisp green salad, have greens chilled and free of water. Add dressing seconds before serving to prevent wilting.

Pretty, frilly blouses are taboo with the teen-aged set this fall. The blouses have been replaced by tailored shirts with rolled-up sleeves.
