School Receives Two Buses With Trading Stamps

Provo, Utah—UPI—The St. Francis Catholic school here is using two new buses that it got by collecting trading stamps—7,708,800 of them.

"It was somewhat unusual," admitted an official of the Sperry and Hutchinson Co.

The marathon stamp trade-in was engineered by Father Colman Collopy, O.F.M., principal of the school, after a front wheel fell off one of the school's old buses.

He wrote the trading stamp company asking how many stamps for something that wasn't in the catalog—the buses. The company wasn't quite sure, but it told Father Collopy to start collecting anyway. Then it decided that 6,424 books was just about the right stamp price.

Officials admitted the figure was somewhat arbitrary. In a sixth-month campaign, the parish sent letters to the 8,000 Catholic schools in the nation saying "we don't want your money—we just want your trading stamps." The $700 bill for postage stamps was paid by men in the parish.

The result was a flood of the green stamps.

"We even received stamps issued as far back as 1912," Father Collopy said, "but the company redeemed them along with the others."

"We have gotten as much pleasure out of this inspiring project as you have," said Earl N. Keate, Utah manager for the company, as he presented the buses—and collected his 7,708,800 stamps.

Ring Found After 40 Years

Los Angeles, Calif.—A Los Angeles housewife is proudly wearing an unexpected gift—her wedding ring—which had been missing for 40 years.

Mrs. George Davis lost the gold band in 1919 when her little daughter took it outside to play.

She always hoped to find the ring and avoided replacing it. Later, the Davis family moved away.

Eight years ago the ring was dug up by William Anderson, the new occupant of the old Davis home. He put it in the cupboard. Recently his wife showed it to a friend.

The friend cleaned away years of dirt and managed to make out the inscription "G. L. Davis." Then a check of the phone book turned up the new address of the Davis family.

Old Railroad Slang A Thing of Past

Chicago, Ill. — The bakehead's banjo is empty, the hay burner is doused, the gandy dance is finished.

This rich railroad slang, describing the jobs and tools of the track, has become only history since World War II. They were pushed into the background by the $15 million modernization of the American Railroads.

The "gandy dancer," who swayed rhythmically as he tamped the boiler, has been replaced by the $46,000 automatic tamping of a diesel engine.

Gone, too, is the bakehead, tallowpot, smoke, fireboy and clinkerboy—retired by the diesel.

Even the section gang is a thing of the past. Now 22 machine operators do the work of 250 laborers, in the "new look" of railroads.

Cold Weather Faced To Treat Sunburn

Tower, Minn.—Police, summoned in 12 degree weather, rushed Jack Fehl, 35, to the hospital for treatment of sunburn.

Hospital attendants said he suffered an inflammation of the eyes and superficial burns of his chest and back.

Fehl explained that he had been reading under a sunlamp and became so engrossed he lost track of time.

Mother's Little Helper Didn't Help

New York, N.Y. — Little Mike Greenberg wanted to help his mother with the washing so he got a bucket of water — and splashed it over some clothes.

There was only one hitch. His mother, Mrs. Meyer Greenberg, had just finished ironing the clothes and had them ready to put away.
