

Holiday Festivities

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hubbard were among the guests at an open house held Sunday, December 20, by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Nye at their new home located in their orchard off Phoenix-Hillcrest road. The Hubbards, who spent the fall and winter months at their home in Palm Springs, came north by air to spend Christmas with relatives.

Hosts for two holiday parties were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Nye, who held open house December 13 and again on December 20. The Nyes are pictured here by the dining room fireplace in their new home east of Medford off the Phoenix-Hillcrest road. Of unusual interest are the handsome antique ornamental fire screens of wrought iron which open after the manner of double doors. The white cat, Jezebel, has been a family pet for several years.
