Red Raiders Outlast SP Falcon Five

Ashland – (UPI) – Southern Oregon defeated Seattle Pacific 58-56 here Tuesday night in the first of a two game series.

The Falcons put on a tremendous rally in the last five minutes to almost catch SOC. The Red Raiders led 56-39 with a little over five minutes remaining but managed to stave off the Falcons.

John Payne paced the winners with 17 points but Seattle Pacific's Doug Mogg took game honors with 22.

Torrid Black Tornado Drubs Roseburg High Indians 79-48

After being threatened just briefly in the first quarter, a high-geared, sharp-shooting Medford high basketball team raced to a 79 to 48 triumph over the Roseburg Indians here last night.

Spearheaded by Bob Quinney, in a varsity starting role for the first time, and by Jerry Anderson, the Black Tornado of the Pear capital, out-tallied the Indians in every panel. It took over control of the contest with a second period romp that netted 25 points and a 42 to 23 halftime margin.

The sound trouncing attoned for a 72 to 68 loss to the Indians last week at Roseburg, kept Coach Frank Roelandt's Tornado unbeaten this season on its home court and gave Medford a 3-3 record in pre-conference play. Medford opens its Southern Oregon conference slate this Saturday at Klamath Falls. Roseburg also wound up pre-loop action with a 5-2-1 mark and goes into Midwest conference contention on Jan. 15 against Cottage Grove.

The Tornado made it a clean sweep for the evening with victories by 55 to 51 in the junior varsity ruckus and 68 to 28 in the sophomore encounter.

While Quinney and Anderson were the varsity pacers in scoring and rebounding with 23 and 16 markers, respectively, and 10 retrieves each, it was an all-around sharp, hustling and driving team performance which fashioned the one-sided decision. Dick Ragsdale, also starting for the first time, and Ken Durkee added aggressive ballhawking and playmaking while Lowell Dean was rugged under the boards and did some adept feeding.

Torrid .500 shooting from the field and backboard control were other elements of triumph.

Indian ace Jim Jarvis fired in 13 points in the first quarter in a one-man effort to keep his club in the ball game. But, he had few good chances to shoot over the rest of the route and added just seven more points for a night's total of 20. Jarvis was the only Roseburg scorer in double figures while Medford had four men with 10 points or more.

Lead All Way

The Black Tornado led throughout the evening after Jerry Anderson opened the scoring with a jumper from the slot and Dean put in a tip shot in the first minute of play. Medford built a 14 to 3 advantage with four minutes played in the mix.

Then, Roseburg almost caught the Medfordites on Jarvis' tabulating. The Indian star swished five field goals and Bill Mundt a gifter in this rush. In the meantime, Quinney collected a base line bucket and Ragsdale a free shot for Medford. The Tornado headed by a scant 17 to 15 at the intermission.

Quinney accounted for nine points in the second stanza when Medford was getting its 25 to Roseburg's aggregate of eight. Ragsdale had five markers and Anderson and Durkee each four in the big canto.

Medford continued to pull away through the third quarter, also, and outpointed the Indians 20 to 12 for a 28-point gap of 62 to 34 at the breather. Quinney garnered eight of the markers. The Tornado had a 17 to 14 edge in the fourth panel which mentor Roelandt of the Tornado and coach Curt Jarvis of Roseburg finished with reserves. Both tutors cleared their benches. Widest Medford margins were 33 points at 77 to 44 and 79 to 46.

Ability to get close in shots helped the Tornado in making 34 of 68 tries from the field. Medfordites hit rather well from long range, too. Roseburg shot .370 on 20 for 54.

Quinney used his 6-4 height and some nice maneuvering to get most of this nine field goals at close range. Jarvis also had nine buckets and Anderson eight.

Coach Roelandt broke up an all-letterman combination which had started five previous conflicts by opening last night with Ragsdale and Quinney in the lineup.

Medford's jayvees broke a 46-all deadlock to go in front 54 to 46 in their scramble with Roseburg. The junior Tornado was on top 14 to 10 after a quarter but halftime gap was in Roseburg's favor 28 to 27. Medford led again, 42 to 37, at the third rest. Bill Brothers had 18 points and Chuck Hiney 16 for Roseburg with George Clearwater getting 13 and Howie Brown and Jerry Winetrout each 12 for Medford.

Medford had 14 to 6, 30 to 14 and 49 to 19 quarter leads in the soph tussle. Larry Plankenhorn netted 18 markers and Chuck Allen 12 for the Tornado.

Crater Comets Nip Bobcat Club 43-41

Central Point – Crater high fought from behind in the closing minutes here last night to nose out the Myrtle Point Bobcat basketball team and chalk up its fifth straight verdict of the season.

The Comets of Central Point, after trailing over most of the distance, went ahead 42 to 40 on a rebound field goal and a free shot by Earl Cooper with about 2¼ minutes left to play. Ron Getchell added a free marker for Myrtle Point a few seconds later and with 79 seconds left Chuck Turner put in the final point for the Comets.

Turner missed his second try from the foul line but Crater snared the rebound and kept the ball until time ran out.

The Comets, who entertain Grants Pass here Saturday in a Southern Oregon conference opener, brought their pre-league record to 5-1 with the clash. It was the fourth straight loss for the Bobcats.

In the preliminary the Crater junior varsity took 50 to 32 measure of Talent varsity.

Crater pumped in the opening field goal of the main game but Myrtle Point took the lead at 3 to 2. After ties of 3-all, 4-all and 5-all, the 'Cats went in front and stayed there until Cooper's fourth quarter three-point play. Myrtle Point headed 10 to 5, 25 to 17 and 36 to 33 at the quarter breaks.

Dave Sharp laid in a field bucket for Crater to start off the last stanza but Marvin Radloph sank a jumper from the key for the Bobcats making the count 38 to 35. Loyal Higinbotham's 30-foot pusher for the Comets cut it to 38 to 37. However Jim Thomas netted a Myrtle Point layin with 3¾ minutes remaining for 40 to 37.

Cooper, with about 2½ minutes to go flipped in a brace of gift points and then came through with his rebounder and free counter for the Crater lead.

Higinbotham and Cooper were the top shooters of the evening with 15 points each and Turner with 11 rebounds. Cooper with 10 and Sharp with nine helped shaped the victory with their work under the backboards. Marvin Radloph was high gunner for the 'Cats with 10 and Larry Dornath led in rebound retrieves with nine.

A second half margin in rebounding aided the Comets. Myrtle Point had 23 recoveries to 22 by Crater in the first half but the Comets had the edge for the game, 42 to 36. Crater fired 16 of 61 from the field for .262 average, outdoing the Bobcats' .222 on 14 of 58.

Crater felt the absence of big rugged Denny Edwards, who was sidelined with an ankle injury suffered in practice yesterday.

The Comet jayvees had 13 to 7, 26 to 11 and 41 to 19 quarter spreads over Talent as they hit at an average of .354 from the field. Jim Allen had 18 points for Crater and Tom Johnson 16 for the Bulldogs.

Wisconsin Appears To Be Hexed Team

Pasadena, Calif. – (UPI) – If ever a football team seems to be laboring under a jinx, Wisconsin appears to be it.

Yet oddly enough, the Badgers are six and one-half point favorites to beat the Washington Huskies in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Wisconsin has won only three games and lost eight in the history of its competition with Pacific Coast teams. No other Big 10 football team can make that statement. And no other Big 10 team wants to.

Wisconsin is the only team to lose to a Pacific Coast conference team in the Rose Bowl since the start of the exclusive contract with the Big 10 in 1947.

The Badgers were defeated by Southern California, 7-0, in the 1953 Rose Bowl.

And just to make the jinx idea a little stronger – Milt Bruhn, the Wisconsin head coach was an assistant to Ivy Williamson in the 1953 game.

That is the only previous appearance for the Badgers in the New Year's Day classic. Washington can't boast about much in this regard either. The Huskies have played in the Rose Bowl four times and the best they could do was a 14-14 tie with Navy in 1924.

Pasadena, Calif. –(UPI)– The University of Wisconsin's Badgers are going to take it calm and easy until Friday's big Rose Bowl game with Washington.

Coach Milt Bruhn said there would be no more intensified workouts. But, he added, he still isn't quite satisfied with the second unit and he might spend some more time getting the unit in top-notch shape.

Bruhn also said he planned to take the squad to the Rose Bowl Thursday to a light drill to acclimate the boys to the playing field.

The Badgers went through a conditioning workout Tuesday and only the third and fourth units got down to any heavy contact. The reserves tried Washington plays against Wisconsin defense in the drill.

Bruhn said he still was undecided about a starting backfield and delayed nominating the unit which will go it against Washington at game time.

Goalie Harry Lumley of the Boston Bruins won the game but lost money doing it.

Lumley's combination good fortune and misfortune came about in a 4-3 victory over the New York Rangers Tuesday night that gave the Bruins sole possession of fourth pace in the National Hockey league.

Lumley, who was filling in for sidelined Don Simmons in the nets, drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty just as the game ended for arguing too vehemently over–of all things –the final buzzer. The penalty calls for an automatic fine.

IV, Glendale Gain Rogue Hoop Finale

Phoenix–The scrappy Glendale high Pirates edged the Eagle Point Eagles off the basketball plank last night by a score of 39 to 37 in the semi-finals of the Rogue League classic in the Phoenix high school gymnasium.

Illinois Valley, in the other semi, defeated the Henley Hornets 47 to 39. IV and Glendale will meet at 9 o'clock tonight here in the finals of the pre-conference tournament for A-2 schools. Final game of the three-day tourney will be preceded by a consolation playoff between Phoenix and Rogue River.

Evenly matched, neither Glendale nor Eagle Point was ahead more than two points for most of the game. Glendale, however, had the edge in play under the hoop. Leading rebounders were Glen Blevins, Jim Allen and Bill Thompson. Blevins and Allen were also top scorers for their team with 10 and 9 points, respectively.

Eagles Lead

Eagle Point jumped off to a lead in the first quarter and kept it through most of the first half. Glendale started to move up as Allen, Thompson and Blevins jumped, grabbed and shot in rapid succession.

Finally, Pirate Jack Berlin dropped a jump shot through the hoop. George Humphreys followed his mate with a drive into the basket nad tied it up 20 all with one minute to go before the half-time horn. The half ended with Glendale ahead 22 to 20.

Nolan Greenwood and Jim Nease of the Eagles worked desperately to even up the score, but the third quarter ended with Glendale ahead 32 to 27. The game surged back and forth as Eagle Steve Geren scored on jump shots followed by teammate Ron Greb with another jump and swisher.

As the clock hand swung down to 3 minutes left in the the final quarter wild scrambles piled up players under both baskets. Foul shots narrowed the margin to two points, but the steady, though tiring Pirates kept possession of the ball as the final horn sounded.

Pluck Stinger

The Illinois Valley Cougars also moved up into tonight's title game by plucking the stinger out of the Henley Hornets and keeping a decisive lead throughout the game.

Although the Hornets worked the ball well they were stifled by a tight defense and surging drives under the basket by the more aggressive IV Cougars. Bob Tucker, Doug Lewis and Noel Turner appeared to lead the action for the Cougars. Tucker shot from both outside and inside.

Not all the story was told by the scoring, however. Mike Hanby, scrappy guard for IV, consistently led his mates in charges on the bucket and kept the ball in IV hands under the boards.

Use Height Well

A jump shot scored by Jerry Buckhaulz in the first few minutes of the first quarter tipped off IV's intentions and strategy. This was followed in rapid succession by another jump by Tucker and interspersed with frequent gift tosses as both teams piled up men under the baskets.

IV had a slight edge in height and used it well. The Hornets continued to pass the ball around and work in for clear shots at the bucket but were consistently mobbed by the Cougars. Tallest man for the Hornets was a 6-5 inch frosh, Kent Gooding. However, he played only a few minutes and was effective for only a few plays off the boards.

Ray Jackson was top scorer for the Hornets with 18 points and "double aught" was consistently in the middle of the tight action under the basket.

Tiger, a comparative newcomer in American boxing circles, holds the British Empire middleweight title and was ranked a slight favorite over his more experienced opponent because of his aggressive style and knockout power.

California, Mounties In Finale

By GENE BRYANT
United Press International

California and West Virginia will stage a rematch of last year's NCAA title game–and possibly a preview of the 1960 championships – in the finals of the Los Angeles Basketball classic tonight.

The Bears rate a slight edge because of their defensive superiority, as well as a 71-60 decision over basically the same West Virginia club a year ago. But the Mountaineers have high-scoring Jerry West and a free-wheeling offense that could prove to be the match of California's tight defensive game.

West Virginia gained the finals Tuesday night by overpowering an erratic UCLA squad, 87-72. West poured in 30 points for the winners while dominating backboard and floor play.

Bears Come From Behind

California had to overcome a six-point deficit in the final two minutes of regulation play against Southern California before pulling out a 65-61 overtime victory.

Darrall Imhoff, benched with three personals in the first half, scored a field goal and a free throw to put the Bears back into contention before the buzzer ended regulation play, then dropped in another bucket during the overtime period to send California in front to stay.

The Trojans had led by 13 points at one point in the second half.

In consolation bracket games, Illinois belted Northwestern 92-79, and Stanford downed Michigan, 59-52. The Indians will meet the Illini tonight for third place.

Two other major West Coast holiday tourneys will also come to a close tonight. Idaho State will meet Gonzaga in the finals of the Idaho State Invitational at Pocatello, and Loyola goes against Santa Clara for the West Coast Athletic Conference Tournament title at San Francisco.

Idaho State defeated Wyoming, 68-58, Tuesday night after Gonzaga had edged Colorado State, 57-55. Myrl Goodwin nabbed 19 rebounds and scored 16 points for the Bengals, while Gonzaga's Frank Burgess tanked 24 points to put his club into the finals.

The WCAC tourney action Tuesday night, Santa Clara scored a hard-earned 60-54 decision over St. Mary's and Loyola trounced USF, 64-43.

Seattle edged Pepperdine, 67-66, and College of Pacific defeated San Jose State, 61-56, in consolation games.

OSC Wins Corvallis Tourney

Oregon State won its fourth straight Far West Classic title at Corvallis Tuesday night by shading Oregon, 60-56, in the West's other major holiday tourney.

Another game tonight will pit Chico State against Whittier in the finale of the Far West Conference Basketball Tournament. Chico whipped San Francisco State, 75-67, and Whittier defeated Willamette, 60-54, in overtime Tuesday night.

OSC Holds Off UO To Capture Crown In Court Classic

Corvallis –(UPI)– George Knighton of New Mexico State, the Far West Classic's leading scorer with 60 points, Tuesday night was voted the most valuable player of the tournament by the eight participating coaches.

Knighton also was selected to the all-tournrament team. Also on the team were Charlie Warren and Chuck Rask of Oregon, Steve Flynn of Oregon State and Jim Peay of Denver.

Corvallis – (UPI) – Oregon State did it again. The Beavers of Slats Gill took on all comers for the fourth straight year in the Far West Classic and for the fourth straight year they emerged as champions.

This year it was rival Oregon the victim. Oregon State beat the Ducks 60-56.

It was a typical Oregon-Oregon State game. Close, exciting and not decided until the final moments.

This is the way the eight teams finished: Oregon State, Oregon, Washington State, Idaho, New Mexico State, Denver, Portland and Hawaii.

Washington State took third with a 59-57 win over the Vandals; New Mexico State captured fifth with its 68-62 victory over Denver, and Portland managed seventh by beating Hawaii, 65-52.

Tie At Half

After a 28-28 tie at halftime, Oregon State moved out to a five point lead in the second half and then stretched it to 48-37 with nine minutes left.

Oregon then started to whittle away at the lead and cut it to 54-52 with 2:34 left. With 39 seconds remaining Oregon State had a slim 57-56 lead and went into a stall. In a vain attempt to get the ball Oregon fouled and Bill Wold added Oregon State's remaining points.

Dale Herron (16), Charlie Warren (10) and Chuck Rask (13) attempted to take up the scoring load left by the absence of 6-7 Glenn Moore who was out of action with a sprained ankle.

Steve Flynn turned in 15 points for Oregon State for top honors and Jim Woodland had 12. Wold added 10.

Pilots Come Back

Washington State managed to stave off a fighting Idaho team which missed a would-be tie at the final gun. Charlie Sells scored 13 for the Cougars and Gary Floan had 16 for Idaho.

New Mexico State got scoring in double figures from four starters to down Denver. Jim Peay of Denver had 20 points and 15 rebounds, while George Knighton of the winners scored 13 to run his tourney total to 60. Knighton was the tourney's most valuable player.

Portland came from behind in the second half to down Hawaii. The losers from the islands led 26-19 but Portland, led by Jim Altenhofen, came back strong in the second half. Altenhofen scored 25 points.

Meredith, Look Get Star Calls

San Francisco – (UPI) – Don Meredith of Southern Methodist got the starting call at quarterback for the West today and Dean Look of Michigan State will handle the signals for the East in the Shrine game Saturday.

The East, heavier by 20 pounds to the man, has been installed as a seven-point favorite to whip the West for the second straight year.

But Meredith & Co. won't be thinking about that when they go to the mat in Kezar Stadium before 60,000 fans.

Coach Bill Meek of Southern Methodist, the head mentor for the West, indicated his starting halfbacks would be Dick Bass of College of Pacific and Bill Bucek of Rice; and probably Jack Spikes of Texas Christian at fullback.

Solid Club

"This is a solid club and no matter what changes we make the boys seem to be nearly on an equal basis," said assistant coach Pete Elliott.

The Eastern starters, on the offensive unit, in all probability will be Dean Look, Michigan State, quarterback; Ray Jauch and Bob Jeter, both of Iowa, at halfbacks; Bob White, Ohio State at fullback.

"I'll change off Look with George Izo of Notre Dame for the signal calling," said Daughtery, "and we'll use our other quarterback, Ivan Toncic of Pitt, on defense.

"It is probable that Bob Jarus of Purdue also will see a lot of action at offensive fullback."

TO ELIMINATE SEATS

Cincinnati, Ohio–(UPI) – The Cincinnati Reds will eliminnate the temporary seating arrangements that rings the outfield for the overflow crowd on opening day at Crosley Field. During last seasons's opener, 13 "Chinese doubles" were hit into these seats.
