

Miss Graves Is Bride Of Joe Sullivant

Miss Darlene Mae Graves became the bride of Joe Sullivant in a ceremony held December 18 at the First Church of the Nazarene. The Rev. Harold Sanner officiated at the eight o'clock evening rites attended by 50 relatives and friends.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Graves, 6348 Crater Lake highway. Mr. Sullivant is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivant, 2821 North Pacific highway.

Mrs. Arnold F. Kornstad played the organ music and accompanied Mrs. Rex Gobel, soloist. Baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the church for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace over satin gown and carried a bouquet of white carnations with ivy. Her elbow length veil was held by a flowered crown.

Mrs. Gerald Matthey attended the bride. She wore a blue lace sheath and had a corsage of blue flowers. Dale Cook served as best man and seating the guests were Dennis Walker and Jerry Anderson.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church. Assisting with the serving were Miss Carol Harris, Miss Marilyn Shephard, Mrs. Leslie A. Wright, Miss Lois Phyllis Wright, and Miss Karen Warner. Miss Carolyn Cole was in charge of the guest book and Miss Hazel Rawlings and Miss Leah Weaver were at the gift tables.

The newlyweds traveled to Cave Junction on their wedding trip and are making their home on Crater Lake highway. The bride attended Crater High school. Mr. Sullivant is a logger employed by Ralph Lawrence.

Double-Life Beds Declared Useful

By MARGUREITE DAVIS
United Press International

Chicago—(UPI)—Beds with a double life—sofa by day, comfortable sleeping accommodations by night—appeal to just about every homemaker.

They are essential for one-room apartments and ideal for the person who wants the bedroom as a sitting room.

A western manufacturer, which formerly sold to hotels and motels, is showing a line of double-duty sofas designed for every need.

Most popular single unit is the Duo-DeVille. By day, it is a sofa of standard height and depth, with one wood-and-metal arm and an upholstered-on-wood back which stretches about five-eighths of the sofa length.

At bedtime, the contour cover is slipped off to reveal a fully-made bed, blankets and all. The back is hinged and opens on a storage compartment for pillows, plus a bookshelf. A reading light is set in the inner surface and snaps on automatically when the sofa back is raised, extinguishes manually or automatically when the back is closed.

Boys and Girls To Have More Style in Shoes

New York—Girls and boys will clamor for more style in their shoes. And they'll get it, say the shoe designers.

The dozens of new party and special-event shoes introduced this year for youngsters are only precursors to countless distinctively styled, dressy all-leather shoes for school and play.

Little girls as young as six or seven will get little heels on their shoes, miniatures of their big sisters' in-curving, Louis, oval and other sophisticated heel shapes. More and more shoes will combine various leathers—smooth, suede, brushed and patent—in pretty colors.

The practical leather boot, with its extra ankle support, will be increasingly popular as a play shoe for children of both sexes. In addition to the many brushed leather styles already seen, many new variations of boots will be added in grained and smooth leathers.

The forecast is that many boot styles—especially for boys—will be made dressier for school wear, especially in winter months when more protection from the weather is desired. Mothers will be grateful to learn that new, virtually scuff-proof leathers are in the development stage for boys' play and school shoes.

Rebekahs to Make Installation Plans; Tree Party Announced

Plans for a joint installation with new officers of the Odd Fellows lodge will be made at the regular session of Olive Rebekah lodge Monday at 8 p.m. in the IOOF hall, 221 West Sixth street.

Mrs. R. W. Smith, noble grand, will preside. Mrs. Esther Coleman is the incoming noble grand.

The postponed Christmas tree party for children of the entire order will be held at 7 p.m. preceding the meeting. The event is for members of the lodges and their families.

Use a low heat setting when ironing synthetics to prevent shining or fusing of fibers.
