

Two Rescued After Wyoming Air Crash

Evanston, Wyo. — Two occupants of a light plane which crashed on a windswept hillside 15 miles west of here Thursday were rescued Saturday, apparently not badly injured.

A ground party of Wyoming National Guardsmen from Evanston and Wyoming highway patrolmen reached R. E. Anderson, 25, Sunnyvale, Calif., the pilot, and Delbert L. Gheen, 22, San Jose, Calif., about noon.

Pilot Injured

Patrol Sgt. Leonard E. Wolf said Anderson had an injured right leg. He was picked up by a helicopter from Hill Air Force base, Utah, and taken back to the base for treatment.

Gheen was not hurt. He returned to Evanston with the ground party Saturday afternoon.

Gheen was spotted on top of the hill about 9:30 a.m. by an Evanston search pilot. The ground party, led by Patrolmen Clair Woodward and Pat Cowper and Uinta County Sheriff Harry Ehler, reached the men about noon.

18-Inch Snowfall

The rescuers left their jeeps and trucks to walk the last mile of the trek over rough, hilly country, and through an 18-inch snowfall.

Anderson and Gheen had been missing in Anderson's red and white Ercoupe since Thursday. Anderson picked up Gheen in Sidney, Neb., for a flight to Wyoming and then to Elko, Nev.

The plane crashed about 200 yards from the summit of Porcupine Ridge, just over the Wyoming-Utah border into Utah.

The two men took off from Rock Springs, Wyo., about 3:30 p.m. Thursday for Elko, Nev., in the face of bad weather radiating from the Salt Lake City area. Bad weather hampered a search Friday.

Hatfields Announce Second Child Due

First word of the impending birth leaked out last week. The child is expected in mid-June. The Hatfield's first child, Elizabeth, was born last July 1.

HOSPITAL ENTRANCE — The front entrance to the new Osteopathic hospital in Central Point, currently under construction, was at this stage of completion last week as plumbing and some carpenter work went on in spite of ice and snow. All the exterior walls of the building are up, with construction going pretty much on schedule, according to Medical Director Dr. Paul T. Rutter. Completion date will be about May 15, Dr. Rutter said. The city of Central Point has extended Second st. to the hospital property line and water and sewer facilities have also been provided.

Cause of Actress' Death Unknown; Autopsy Fails

New Haven, Conn. — An autopsy failed Saturday to determine the cause of death of actress Margaret Sullivan but an official said she appeared to have died from an accidental overdose of sleeping pills.

The winsome 48-year-old actress died Friday night a few hours before she was scheduled to perform in a new play.

Not Believed Suicide

Coroner James J. Corrigan said a preliminary investigation indicated that she had taken too many sleeping pills. He added, "I do not believe it was a suicide."

The coroner said the autopsy performed Saturday failed to pinpoint the cause of death. Laboratory tests also were conducted but the results will not be known until about Monday, according to medical examiner Sterling Taylor.

Found by Husband

Miss Sullivan, who began her stage career in 1928 against her parents' wishes, was found by her husband, Kenneth Wagg, unconscious in her hotel room. She was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Earlier Friday she had been treated by a doctor for nervous exhaustion. Associates said the strain of a new role had taxed her strength.

Lumber Shipping Hits Record High

Portland — Production and shipments of lumber in the 12-state Western Pine region set new all-time highs in 1959, but are due for a tapering-off in the first quarter of 1960, according to W. E. Griffe, acting manager of the Western Pine association here.

In his quarterly report, Griffe's preliminary estimates placed 1959 production at 9,391 million board feet and shipments at 9,235 feet, both highest in the 12-state region's history. Previous production high was 9,030 million in 1956, and previous shipments record was 8,776 million in 1955.

His quarterly forecast estimated first quarter, 1960, shipments of about 1,975 million feet, or about 5 per cent below the first quarter of 1959.
