

Oregon Libraries Prepare for Start Of Decisions Plan

Corvallis - Anyone interested in learning more about America's foreign policy will have ample opportunity during the months ahead.

Many Oregon librarians are already gathering books relating to foreign policy topics that will be discussed by Great Decisions study groups in February and March.

Co-chairman of Oregon's Great Decisions program are Mrs. Mabel Mack, assistant director of Oregon State college extension service, and Dr. Charles Dean, Great Decisions representative for the Institute of International Affairs, general extension division, state system of higher education.

They report that although local discussion groups are now being formed in each county, librarians are getting ready early in anticipation of requests for material about the eight discussion topics: Communist Timetable for 1960; Divided Europe; Red China on the March; Chances for India's Middle Way; Hope for Stability in the Middle East; Goals for Africa's New Leaders; Cuba's Revolution; and U.S. Global Strategy.

The organization behind Great Decisions, which has been offered nationally for the past six years, is the Foreign Policy Association (FPA), a 42-year-old national educational agency. Its purpose is to help people understand critical international issues facing the American government and people. FPA is nonpartisan, nongovernmental and nonprofit. It is supported mainly by contributions and foundation grants. The FPA prepares fact sheets for participants.

In Oregon, Great Decisions State college extension service and the general extension division of the state system of higher education in cooperation with the FPA, the state department of education, state library, and some 25 statewide organizations.

Further Great Decisions chairmen and county extension agents.

Hollywood Marriages, Divorces, Deaths in '59

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

Hollywood - UPI. The year 1959 held the usual number of movieland milestones - marriages, divorces, bizarre romances, deaths and eyebrow lifting romances.

Number one story of the year was the riotous Debbie Reynolds - Eddie Fisher-Elizabeth Taylor romance-divorce-marriage mixup. But the biggest event to hit town was Nikita Khrushchev's visit and subsequent complaint that he couldn't visit Disneyland.

Crosbys Break Up
The Crosby boys kept things hopping by forming a quartette. Then, after a succession of battles, they broke up.

Sterling Hayden provided a sideshow of his own by defying a court order and sailing off for the South Seas with his children. And Robert Mitchum was good for laughs when a runty Irishman clobbered him in an Irish pub.

Mickey Rooney and Jack Parr jarred televisioners with a display of bad manners while Gracie Allen retired as partner of husband George Burns. Little Evelyn Rudie ran off to Washington, D.C., aboard an airliner to talk to Mamie Eisenhower - but was sent home disappointed.

Two highly publicized pictures laid turkey eggs. "Porgy and Bess" and "The Diary of Anne Frank," but "Ben-Hur," the most expensive film ever made - looked like a boxoffice champion.

Divorces and separations were as abundant as ever. The following list Terry Moore, Marlon Brando, Joan Caulfield, Vera Miles, Jim Arness, Deborah Kerr, Ernest Borgnine, May Britt, Vic Damone, Arlene Dahl, Sammy Davis, Glenn Ford, Betty Hutton and Efrim Zimbalist Jr.

Taking the plunge to the altar '59 were: Vic Mature, Rod Steiger, June Lockhart, Margaret O'Brien, Gia Scala, Dorothy Malone and Jacques Bergerac, Nick Adams, Dale Robertson, Barbara Rush and Arlene Howell.

During the year the stork flapped over the homes of Jane Mansfield, Joan Caulfield, Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis, Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant, Jerry Lewis, and Marlon Brando and Anna Kashfi.

Deaths stalked this celluloid city claiming more lives in 1959 than in many past years. Among those who died were Cecil B. DeMille, Errol Flynn, Lou Costello, Wayne Morris, Mario Lanza, Paur Douglas, Kay Kendall, Ethel Barrymore, Gilda Gray, Edmond Gwenn, Steve (Superman) Reeves and Alfalfa Switzer.

HEARING AID FOR DOG - Bill, a dog who couldn't hear, posed at left with his hearing aid supplied by a manufacturer of human hearing aids. In the photo at right, the dog seems to enjoy the sounds of his own bark.

Bill was found on the streets of Pittsburgh by the Animal Friends Refuge which dis-aid covered he couldn't hear. Now, says the Refuge, all Bill needs is a home. (UPI Telephoto)

Deaf Dog Fitted With Hearing Aid; Still in Need of Master

Pittsburgh - UPI - A person who is deaf finds it quite easy to sympathize with someone in a similar plight.

L. M. Meyers is deaf. So is Bill.

Bill's case is sadder than most. Bill is a puppy. And no one wants a pooch that can't hear.

Bill was found on the streets of Pittsburgh - homeless and nameless. He was taken in by the Animal Friends Refuge. They soon discovered that Bill couldn't hear.

So did all prospective masters.

They were touched by the pathetic looks of this short-haired, fawn-colored pup. But a dog that couldn't hear? Too many problems.

Meyers, the president of Radio-ear Corp. which manufactures hearing aids, read about Bill in a Pittsburgh newspaper.

"Being deaf myself, I can sympathize with the puppy's plight," he explained.

Meyers offered his firm's laboratory to test the dog's hearing and last week Bill went to the laboratory in nearby Canonsburg for the tests.

Attendants attached a hearing aid to his ear and a battery to his collar.

Promise Kept.

Various tones were fed into his ear. Then a high frequency note. The dog reared up, tossed his head.

There was hope. Meyers kept his promise - the dog was fitted with a hearing aid.

An now 'Bill is leading a dog's life - which with a hearing aid isn't so bad after all.

But Bill still needs one thing to make that dog's life complete - a master. His new friends feel he'll have one soon.

Oregon Polio Cases Total 188 for Year

Portland - UPI - Oregon had 147 cases of paralytic polio in 1959 compared to only 26 in 1958, the State Board of Health said Wednesday.

The board said there were 41 non-paralytic polio cases bringing the total to 188 overall compared to 40 in the previous year.

Dr. Richard H. Wilcox, state health officer, said 100 of the cases including 79 paralytic cases were reported from the metropolitan area of Multnomah, Clackamas and Washington counties.

The 1959 polio epidemic was the worst since 1955 - the year Salk vaccine was released for general distribution.

Fish Telephoners Get on Wrong Line

Nebraska City, Neb. - Two men telephoning for fish in the Missouri River got on the wrong party line.

The game warden answered. The men were using an old-time telephone generator, which when cranked with the wire terminals dropped into the water, electrocutes the fish. The men were fined $125 each.

Minister's Estate Mostly Insurance

Salem - UPI - Bulk of the estate of the late Reverend Brooks H. Moore and his wife, Ferne, was $10,000 in insurance, according to a Marion county probate filing.

The Moores were killed Dec. 21 in a traffic accident in south-central Oregon. Two nearly identical wills leave half the money to the First Methodist Church of Salem, of which Dr. Moore was minister.

Executrix Adeline Wilson and Jocelyn Jewell Potter of Salem receive requests of $2,500 each. The Potter girl is the godchild of the Moores.

Miss Wilson was Dr. Moore's secretary for many years.
