ACS Committee Members Receive 1960 Assignments

Members of the Medford committee of the American Cancer society received their 1960 assignments at the January meeting of the committee. Mrs. John S. Day, a district commander of the ACS, heads the local group. Mrs. Day reminded the members of the three-pronged program against cancer—education, service, and research.

Education is carried on through the use of public media, through film showings, and through the wide distribution of various pamphlets about cancer. Mrs. L. Scott Ellis will take charge of the educational literature, with Mrs. Russell Barnes, Mrs. B. Brandt Bartels, and Mrs. Eugene Meyerding to assist in its distribution. Mrs. Warren Bayliss will arrange programs using the numerous educational films about cancer. She is contacting organized groups in the valley to set dates for the presentation of this material.

Dr. Abner Clark is in charge of the films for the Jackson County unit of the American Cancer society, and he asks program chairmen to contact Mrs. Bayliss if they would like him to show some films to their organizations. Radio, television, and newspapers receive suitable material and current information from the national headquarters of the ACS. Local publicity is handled by Mrs. Ray L. Casterline.

Loan Closet—As in previous years, Mrs. Ray Frisbie will head the service committee. She will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas Bolton and Mrs. Richard Schwahn. Information about the loan closet that the committee maintains, and requests for dressings or for available home services may be arranged by these committee members.
