

'Elijah' Performance Enjoyed by Large Audience Sunday

It was 15 minutes before 6 o'clock yesterday evening when the final notes of "Elijah" died away in the Medford High school auditorium. The performance had started at 3 p.m. Sunday afternoon and under the circumstances it would not have been surprising if the applause had been brief. But it was enthusiastic and went on for a considerable time.

Yesterday's performance of this monumental oratorio was an excellent one; the audience appreciated and enjoyed the music, and expressed their appreciation with the warm applause. To present a work such as "Elijah" is a great undertaking and the Philharmonic Society of Southern Oregon deserves the gratitude of the music-loving public of the region for having attempted it, and for doing it well.

100 Musicians

About 100 musicians and others were involved in the program. The chorus numbered more than 40 singers, and the orchestra about the same number. Four soloists spent long hours in preparation and two traveled a considerable distance to appear yesterday in Medford. To rehearse and direct "Elijah" was a great effort for Conductor Richard D. Werner, his assistant and organist, Bruno Pellegrini, and for the rehearsal pianist, Ray Lewis, who sang in the chorus as well.

The soloists for yesterday's program added much to the impact of the oratorio. George Peckham, who came from Seattle to sing the title role, is not only endowed with a bass-baritone voice of much beauty and richness, but he knows how to produce a vocal tone properly. Mr. Peckham, who began his singing career here, has a host of friends who thoroughly enjoyed hearing him yesterday. He sang with unusual emotion, but he sang well. Of particular beauty was the aria "It Is Enough," Obadiah.

While the role of "Obadiah" does not provide as much opportunity for the soloist, as does that of "Elijah," Louis Clayton of Sacramento, Calif., handled it yesterday most competently. Mr. Clayton's tenor voice is fine and pure and he, too, knows how to sing. Both Mr. Peckham and Mr. Clayton have excellent diction, which is very important for a musical story such as "Elijah."

Accused Slayer To Defend Self

Reno (UPI)—Accused slayer Thayne Archibald, 20, today consulted with two court-appointed attorneys in preparation for his Feb. 8 trial at which he will represent himself.

District Judge Clei Georgetta granted the Ray, Utah, defendant permission to defend himself after he dismissed his attorneys so things could be "speeded up."

Archibald was accused of killing Larry Waters, 17, Livermore, Calif., last August.

W-2 Forms Must Be Mailed With Returns

Employers and employees were reminded today by A. G. Erickson, Oregon district director of the internal revenue service, of the importance of the W-2 withholding certificate in the proper filing of 1959 federal income tax returns.

Employers, Erickson said, are obligated by law to furnish copies of this form to their employees by Jan. 31. Employees, in turn, must attach the copy of the W-2 to their Form 1040, 1040A or 1040W when filing.

Employees should prepare their returns as soon as they receive their withholding certificates and to file them as soon as possible thereafter, Erickson added.

Employees who have worked for more than one concern during 1959 must include all W-2 forms with their return, he said. In the case of couples filing jointly, each of whom was employed during the year, care should be taken that all W-2 forms are attached and any change of jobs indicated.

ROA VISITS SLAVS

Belgrade, Yugoslavia (UPI)—Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa arrived Sunday for an official two-day visit. The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said Roa called on Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic shortly after his arrival. Roa came here from the United Arab Republic where he attended the dedication ceremonies for the Aswan Dam and conferred with U.A.R. officials.

Realignment of YMCA Staff Members Told

A realignment of staff assignments at the YMCA here and the addition of a new physical education director have been announced by W. J. Williams, chairman of the Medford YMCA personnel committee.

David Curzon, Pocattello, Ida., will arrive here next month to fill the position of physical education director, formerly held by Bruce Burns. Burns will take over the responsibilities of youth program director, a position which has been vacant since last spring.

Curzon is a recent graduate of Idaho State university, with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He has been physical director at the YMCA in Pocattello for the past 18 months.

Curzon is married and will bring his wife and two children to Medford late this month. Besides having served four years in the U.S. Navy, Curzon has had experience in teaching swimming and several other sports which he will also instruct and supervise in Medford.

As youth program director, one of Burns' principal duties will be the organization and direction of the YMCA Diamond Lake camp. In addition to this responsibility, all Youth Club organization and the programming for youth under 18 will be supervised by him.

Max Weston Heads Motor Court Group

Max Weston, Medford, was re-elected president of the Jackson County Motor Court association at their meeting recently at the Brownell Motel.

Also elected were Miss Ila Estella, Ashland, vice president; Arthur Webster, Medford, second vice president; and Mrs. Weston secretary-treasurer.

Ed Bolt, Gold Hill, state president of the Oregon Motor Court association, attended. He spoke on the Oregon Travel seals asking members to use them on their mail to aid in bringing tourists to the state.

The 30 members attending the meeting were guests of John North of North's Chuck Wagon for lunch.

Nixon Trip Not Campaign Opener

Washington (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon says he does not regard his week end trip to Florida as the opening of his formal campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

Nixon, questioned on his return Sunday, said the Florida trip was arranged some time ago and he did not consider it a formal campaign effort but merely "a campaign-type trip."

The vice president conferred with Republican leaders in Miami and Gainesville. He addressed 10,000 persons at Gainesville and was guest of honor at a huge reception in Miami.
