The Medical Roundup

by Walter Alvarez

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic
Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Clinic

ONE CANNOT GRAFT ON A LEG THAT WILL STAY

Someone wants to know why a surgeon cannot graft on a leg for him. A surgeon could do a beautiful job of that, but in a little while, the tissues of the leg would begin to die. Recently, a man whose leg was sliced off in an accident had it sewed back on by a surgeon. Because it is his own tissue, it probably always will look all right, but the man will not be able to move the muscles until the ends of his big nerves are sewed together again. Then it will be months before the little fibers can grow down to the end of the nerves. Then, perhaps he can walk again.

DR. ALVAREZ

The great difficulty with transplanting tissues is that, so far, the surgeons have not learned how to make a body accept tissue from someone else. They have made a few hopeful discoveries, but the problem is not yet solved. The only transplant that will stay indefinitely must come from an alike twin. Twins formed by the division of one tiny ovum or egg are "of one flesh." That is why, if one alike twin has a hereditary disease, the other twin must always have it, too. Apparent exceptions to this rule can be due to the fact that one twin has the disease in a mild, almost unrecognizable form. For instance, according to Professor Kallmann, of Columbia University, if one alike twin has schizophrenia, the other twin has 87 chances in 100 of having the disease. The other 13 twins have a schizoid or mild form of the mental trouble.

A FIBROID TUMOR OF THE WOMB

People ask what a fibroid tumor is, and some want to know in what way it differs from other tumors. Actually, I think most gynecologists today don't like the term fibroid because the tumor is not made of fibrous tissue; it is made of muscle much like that of the rest of the womb. I often think of it as I think of a knob on a potato; it is made of potato. Because these knobs on the uterus are found in one out of two negro women, and perhaps one out of three white women, they can almost be said to be normal. They are like a hairy mole on a woman's neck.

Because the lump is made of muscle, much like that of the rest of the womb, in most cases there are no symptoms, and there never will be any. Today our leading professors of gynecology don't feel that there is any particular reason for removing the nodule unless it starts growing rapidly, or unless it causes the woman to flood badly every month. If she is flooding so badly that she is getting anemic, then the womb must be removed. For years, gynecologists used to threaten these women with cancer if they didn't have the lump out, but today practically every teacher of gynecology agrees that the muscle very rarely turns into cancer tissue. In all my lifetime of medicine I can remember only one case in my own practice in which this happened.

A SYNTHETIC PENICILLIN

For some time chemists have been synthesizing hundreds of penicillin-like drugs and, at last, one of them is in production. It is hoped that the new type of the drug will not be so likely to produce highly allergic reactions in sensitive people.

HALF-WAY POINT

Lancaster, England — (UPI) — Marathon marcher Dr. Barbara Moore, 56, having marched 500 miles of her planned 1,000-mile trek from Scotland to England, spent the night in the "Boot and Shoe Hotel" here.

Advertising Drive Starts for Kapers

The 1960 Kiwanis Kapers advertising solicitation program got under way Monday, according to Jerry Lausmann and Fred Morlan, advertising chairmen.

Feb. 3 was set as a deadline date for all advertising solicitations to be completed. According to Dr. Merle Foland, Kiwanis club president, the Kapers is the only project planned this year to sustain the under-privileged children's work of the Kiwanis club.

The Kapers, a musical and minstrel review, "Around the Town," will be produced Feb. 24 through 27 at Medford High school featuring the entire membership of the Medford Kiwanis club in choral and novelty acts.

The children's dental clinic, sponsored by Kiwanis and the Dental association, will receive the major part of the proceeds.

In a recent study of people who had purchased homes within a 90 day period, 60 per cent said that newspaper ads were their principal source of information about homes for sale. Real estate advertisers know that people shop newspapers – that's why, on a typical Sunday they placed 2,700,000 lines of advertising in U. S. newspapers.

Australian Says Animals Not Mated

San Francisco—(UPI)—Sir Edward P. L. Hallstrom, a wealthy Australian businessman who donated three koalas to the San Francisco Zoo, complained in a letter to the San Francisco Chronicle Tuesday that the animals were not being mated "as was intended and promised me."

Zoo Director Carey Baldwin replied that the animals were healthy and would probably do something about producing more of the little bear-like creatures this spring.

But Baldwin added that parenthood was "pretty much something for the koalas to decide."
