

Gina Bachauer, famous Greek pianist, will play in Portland February 1-2 with the Portland Symphony orchestra. The first concert will be held in the Civic auditorium; the second at the Oriental theater.

Civic Music Concert Set On Monday

The second concert of the Jackson County Civic Music association is scheduled for Monday, February 1 at 8 p.m., in the Medford high school auditorium. Performing will be the National Artists Symphonette with Amparo Iturbi, youngest sister of the famed pianist, Jose Iturbi, who will be featured as piano soloist, and William Haaker, pianist-conductor.

The symphonette is made up of first-chair virtuosos drawn from virtually all the major orchestras in the country.

Mr. Haaker, still in his late 30s, has been performing as pianist-conductor for 20 years. He first was recognized for his pianistic talents at the age of 14 when Jose Iturbi took him under his tutelage. At the age of 16 Mr. Haaker conducted for the first time the Orquesta Iturbi de Mexico.

He divides his time between recitals which number close to 100 each season from Maine to Mexico, and his permanent conductorship of the Virginia and Syracuse Symphony orchestras and now, the National Artists Symphonette.

Amparo Iturbi is Spanish-born and has been acclaimed on three continents by critics and concert audiences as one of the most gracious and talented keyboard virtuosos currently before the public. Since her initial appearance in the United States in 1937, Miss Iturbi has been heard in concert and with major orchestras throughout the United States and has been featured soloist under the batons of such eminent conductors as Mitropoulos, Ormandy, Stock, Sevitzky and Barbirolli.

Miss Iturbi is celebrated for her brilliant interpretations of the music of Scarlatti, Haydn, Mozart and Liszt and is also admired for her performances of the works of the Spanish composers, including Albeniz and Soler.

Dad's Day Announced

Eugene - Dad's day on the University of Oregon campus will be held February 19-20.

Announcement of the dates was made here by Karl W. Onthank, faculty counselor for Dads day.

Two Saturday luncheons will be held on the campus this year to accommodate the expected crowds. Program for both the events held simultaneously at the Erb Memorial Union and Carson Hall, women's dormitory, will be the same. Speakers will be Gov. Mark Hatfield, and Dean W. C. Jones, dean of administration, who will be acting for University President O. Meredith Wilson, who is attending a conference on higher education in Chile.

A business meeting and forum for the Dads will be held during Saturday afternoon. Basketball games with the University of Washington and the University of Southern California are scheduled on the two evenings the Dads will be on campus.

Ashland Bethel To Hold Ceremony

Ashland - Bethel 22, International Order of Job's Daughters, will hold public installation of officers Saturday, January 30, at 8 p. m. in the Ashland Masonic hall.

Miss Christine McGee will be installed queen. Miss Sara Vandenberg, retiring queen, will conduct the ceremony, assisted by officers of neighboring Bethels.

The ceremony will be followed by refreshments and a dance.

New Staff of Life? Washington - UPI - Rice is the most universally grown and most widely eaten of all cultivated grains, reports the Department of Agriculture.

IT'S ME AGAIN!

Don't miss out on this big event now in its 3rd week

Opportunity Days
at Your Volume Dealer

COURTESY CHEVROLET
9th & Bartlett—Medford
See Our Ad in Classified

Paris - Star of the first spring fashion show in Paris, American ballerina Kersten Conrad models the first number from Lucy Manguin's orient-inspired collection. The 18-year-old granddaughter of the "Flying Grandpa" Max Conrad, Kersten models an oriental print with skirt short enough to reveal the "coolie" trousers below. The young, Minnesota - born mannequin is currently studying ballet in Paris.

Cans and More Cans Washington - UPI - The past year's canned food supply was packed in about 22-billion individual containers and more than 700-million cases.

Miss Strom Bakes Pie For Contest

Miss Mavis Strom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Strom, 1454 Dixie lane, was judged the Jackson county winner in the 10th annual state sour cherry pie baking contest held January 23 at the University of Oregon campus.

The event is sponsored by the Cherry Growers and Packers of Oregon, and each of the 12 county winners won a certificate of merit and $10 in cash.

Miss Strom is a senior at Medford high school and has had four years of home economics. She is majoring, however, in languages. She also has been active in 4-H work. The state winner was Janet Schlegel of Banks high school. The recipe for the filling of the prize winning 9-inch pie uses 1 1/2 cups sugar; 5 tablespoons all-purpose flour; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cup cherry juice; 1/2 teaspoon red food coloring; 1 teaspoon lemon juice; 1/8 teaspoon almond extract; 3 cups red sour pitted water packed pie cherries and 1 tablespoon butter.

Combine the sugar, flour and salt. Stir in cherry juice, food coloring, lemon juice and extract. Add cherries and let stand while preparing pastry.

The pastry recipe calls for 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1 teaspoon salt; 2/3 cup lard and 4 tablespoons ice water.

Sift flour and salt together. Cut in lard with pastry blender until particles are size of small peas. Sprinkle ice water over the mixture, a tablespoon at a time and blend in with fork. Form into a ball. Roll only enough pastry for one crust at a time on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry; fill with cherry mixture.

Cut a tablespoon of butter over top of filling. Moisten edge of lower crust. Cut slits or design in upper crust to allow steam from filling to escape. Trim top crust slightly larger than pie pan, fold under lower crust edge to seal. Make a fluted edge and sprinkle top crust with water and sugar if desired. Fold a 2 1/2 inch width of aluminum foil loosely around edge of pie.

Bake at 425 degrees for 15 minutes; reduce temperature to 375 degrees and continue baking for 30 minutes, removing foil about 10 minutes before end of baking time.

Publicity Course Is Offered

Registration will be held on the first class session of "Publicity Procedures," an adult education course, Tuesday evening, February 2 at Medford High school. The classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 209 instead of Room 246 as previously announced. Purpose of the eight-week course will be to give interested persons a basic understanding of the techniques to be employed and the media available to tell the story of their firm or organization to the public.

Information on the course may be secured by contacting the adult education office at Medford High school, telephone, SPRing 3-5341.

It is not intended as a complete academic course but rather "an informal lecture series designed to help the lay person understand the role of publicity in our daily lives," it is stated.

Russ Jamison, course supervisor, has announced the following list of media representatives who will serve as instructors for certain portions of the series. Mrs. Olive Starcher, Women's editor, Medford Mail Tribune; Ed Barnett, manager, station KBES-TV; Ray Johnson, manager of KMED; Jim Grey and Herb Partridge, advertising department, Medford Mail Tribune; Mrs. Phyllis Pesenti, Women's editor, station KMED; Robert Vroman, photographer, Medford Mail Tribune.

Registration will be held on the first class session of "Publicity Procedures," an adult education course, Tuesday evening, February 2 at Medford High school. The classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 209 instead of Room 246 as previously announced. Purpose of the eight-week course will be to give interested persons a basic understanding of the techniques to be employed and the media available to tell the story of their firm or organization to the public.

Calendar

Friday 6:30 p.m.—Southern Oregon Society of Artists, Kim's restaurant.

7:30-10 p.m.—American Association of University Women art show, Crater room, Medford hotel.

Saturday 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.—Art show sponsored by American Association of University Women, Crater room, Medford hotel.

12:30 p.m.—PEO sisterhood, Rogue Valley Country club.

Vary omelets by substituting whipped cream for the liquid - about one pint for every six eggs. Prepare as for fluffy omelets and serve with Parmesan cheese topping as an entree or with a rich fruit sauce for dessert.

Miss Mavis Strom, Medford High school senior, is pictured during the recent tenth annual Oregon state cherry pie baking contest held in Eugene. Miss Strom is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Strom, 1454 Dixie lane, Medford.

Women's News Social Events

Phoenix Community Club Plans Series of Parties

Phoenix - A potluck dinner and dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. with The Reverooers, a Phoenix dance band, providing free music.

This is one of a series of events scheduled by the Phoenix Community club recreation committee to develop more community interest, to make everyone acquainted with his neighbors, and to encourage more residents to become active in the Community club.

Saturday night dances, square dance instruction and other events are being planned for the near future, the spokesman said.

Those persons not wishing to dance may come to the dinner and "sit and visit" afterwards, it was suggested.

Paris House Introduces New 'Tapado'

By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris - UPI - The often surprising fashion house of Lanvin-Castillo unleashed something new on Paris today—a half-cape, half-coat it called a tapado.

The cape-coats, usually done in heavy silks, appeared in soft, pleasing pinks, yellows and blues, and were styled for all times of day.

In general, Lanvin-Castillo presented a tubular, free and easy line on the wind-up day of the week-long spring and summer fashion presentations here.

For summer dresses, the house brought hems up to just below the knee, a radical reversal of the low, low line it introduced six months ago for the fall-winter season.

But evening dresses dropped down to ankle-length. They were narrow, with long sleeves.

The unusual tapados were cut short, like jackets, or long, like evening coats, but they all had a new look which caught the eye of guests at the initial showing of the collection.

Some of them had arm slits and a few had abbreviated sleeves but the basic look was that of a cape.

On top of that, Lanvin-Castillo introduced a new evening coat which was jacket-short in the front and evening coat-long in the rear.

Earlier today, Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses showed the longest skirts seen in Paris this week.

Desses also joined battle on the side of other Paris designers who refused to go along with the House of Christian Dior's de-emphasis of the bust in this season's stylish female form.

Defects in Speech Said Not Serious In Pre-school Child

Burlington, Vt. - UPI - Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

Paintings Selected; Show Tonight

Paintings to be hung in the Public Library of Medford and Jackson county were selected by Southern Oregon Society of Artists when members met Wednesday evening at Girls Community club.

Warren Wolf, art teacher, was in charge of making the selections which were made from a large number of paintings submitted to be shown at the American Association of University Women's annual exhibit which will open this evening at the Crater room of the Medford hotel. The AAUW show will continue through Sunday.

The pictures selected for the library were done by the local artists, Mrs. William Dawkins, Mrs. Wallace Neece, Mrs. John Reid, Mrs. Elizabeth Sheffield, Eugene Bennett, Mrs. M. W. (Carolyn) Story, Mrs. Emmett Tucker Jr., and Mrs. Jack Mitchell. Mr. Wolfe said that he hoped the paintings would show a relation between the people of the city and their outdoor environment.

Twenty-seven of the paintings were chosen from the group by Jack Teeters and Mrs. Richard Padgham to be taken to the Capitol cafeteria in Salem, where they will be on display and for sale from February 1 to March 1.

Among artists whose work is to go to Salem are Mrs. G. C. Corum, Mrs. Leonard Andrews, Mrs. Elizabeth Sheffield, Mrs. M. W. Story, Mrs. E. M. Tucker, Sr., Mrs. Nettie Williams, Mrs. John Pletch, Mrs. Maude Coddling, Mrs. William Dawkins, Mrs. Tom Staley, Mrs. Jack Mitchell and Mrs. John Reid.

Refreshments were served at the Wednesday meeting by James Ragland and Victor Wrigglesworth. Hostesses were Mrs. Ross Twedell and Mrs. S. C. Horton.

Plastic Planters El Segundo, Calif. - UPI - Outdoor planters can be assembled from Fiberglas panels. The material is easy to saw, nail or drill, is weather and corrosion - proof, and comes in colors to match any exterior decor.

Guest Callers Announced For Week End Square Up

A dozen guest callers from Oregon and California will assist with the third annual Southern Oregon Square Up to be given this week end at Britt Memorial center, Southern Oregon college, Ashland. The Square Up begins Saturday at 2 p.m. and continues through Sunday afternoon.

The visiting callers will include Ward Cummings, "Curley" Reynolds and Ernest Gilbert, all Roseburg; Ralph DeJarnett, Brookings; Lyle Stearns and William Mayhew, Klamath Falls; Ernest Nelson, Medford.

Group Prepares For Coming Play

The Footlighters will hold a meeting of particular importance to members Monday, February 1 at 8 p.m., it was announced today. Preparations will be made for the group's forthcoming play, "Picnic."

As part of the program for the evening, pantomimes will be done by members and guests who wish to participate.

Anyone interested in little theater work is invited. Those who wish further information about the group may telephone Mrs. Jack Ruch, SPRing 3-5008.

Public Invited To View Films

The public is invited to view films on Navy life during an all-day session of the Rogue Valley Navy Mothers club Tuesday, February 2 at the Girls Community club. The pictures will begin at 1:15 p.m., and no charge will be made.

Murray J. Emmerich, chief fire control technician with the Navy, will show the pictures. The first will concern life in the WAVES; the second will be on the morals and spiritual development of the Navy men, and the third will concern submarines.

The women of the club will first convene at 10 a.m. at the Girls Community club to sew until noon when a potluck luncheon will be served.

Riverside Club Names Winners

Forty players competed in Wednesday's session of duplicate bridge held by the Riverside Bridge club.

North and south high scores went to Mrs. Glenn Harrison and Paul A. Latton with 129½; Mrs. C. L. Howard and Mrs. Edwin Eggers who tied with Mrs. Frank Perl and Mrs. Ivan Harrington for second and third, with 118½.

Mrs. George B. Dean and Roy Pruitt were fourth and fifth, with 117½.

The east-west winners were Mrs. Fred T. Burich and Mrs. W. W. Stevenson, 146½; Mrs. R. A. Naumes and Mrs. William Knope, 123½; Mrs. Howard Boyd and William Stiles, 110½; Mrs. Roger Smoot and Mrs. J. J. Beaman who tied with Mrs. R. E. Walker and Mrs. J. S. Wolke of Grants Pass, 104½.

Frozen concentrated fruit juice, defrosted to the mushy stage, makes a tart, tasty topping for ice cream.

We Give GREEN STAMPS
CENTRAL REXALL DRUG
Main and Central

Ornamental Nursery
Central Point, Ore.
NOW IS THE TIME TO PLANT TREES!
SEE DIRECTIONS BELOW

WEEKEND SPECIAL!
Roses 70¢ ea.
23 Varieties
No. 1 Grade

TABLE ROCK RD.
Bear Creek
Ornamental Nursery
North 99 Hwy
MEDFORD
CENTRAL POINT

Russ & Nell Faulkner
Ph. NO 4-1703

Burdeseon's
Downtown Medford

ONE DAY ONLY
Saturday, Jan. 30

Specials

COATS ONE DAY SPECIAL!
$13-$19-$40

SUITS One Day Special Only!
$22

DRESSES $7.00

WEDDING DRESSES $11.88

• SPORTSWEAR
• BLOUSES
• SWEATERS
• SKIRTS
• LINGERIE

$2.88 - $4.88

Job's Daughters Announce Events

Shady Cove-Trail-A coming meeting of the Southern Oregon Guardian council of the International Order of Job's Daughters was announced at the last meeting of Bethel 56, Shady Cove. It was held at the VFW hall in Shady Cove.

The council meeting will be held Sunday, January 31 at the Medford Masonic temple with dinner to be served at 1:30 p.m. by members of the Order of Amaranth. All guardian council members, Bethel line officers and their parents are welcome to attend.

The annual queen's ball to honor past queen Judy Taylor and queen Susanne Rogers was discussed. The date and place will be announced soon.

A food sale will be held at the Shady Cove Cleaners Saturday, January 30 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Members are asked to provide articles for the sale.

Bare Fashion Facts
New York - UPI - The Bikini is the look on the beach this resort season, reports the National Cotton Council. Bikinis usually are worn with jackets ranging from simple canvas and sailcloth designs to ultra-feminine ruffled and embroidered skirts, or short smocks in seersucker, organdy, voile, and dotted swiss. Ponchos also are worn over the shoulders to form a total cover-up, or at the waist to form ankle-length skirts.

Dr. Dalton Vernon
Burlington, Vt. - UPI - Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

Paris House Introduces New 'Tapado'
By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris - UPI - The often surprising fashion house of Lanvin-Castillo unleashed something new on Paris today—a half-cape, half-coat it called a tapado.

The cape-coats, usually done in heavy silks, appeared in soft, pleasing pinks, yellows and blues, and were styled for all times of day.

In general, Lanvin-Castillo presented a tubular, free and easy line on the wind-up day of the week-long spring and summer fashion presentations here.

For summer dresses, the house brought hems up to just below the knee, a radical reversal of the low, low line it introduced six months ago for the fall-winter season.

But evening dresses dropped down to ankle-length. They were narrow, with long sleeves.

The unusual tapados were cut short, like jackets, or long, like evening coats, but they all had a new look which caught the eye of guests at the initial showing of the collection.

Some of them had arm slits and a few had abbreviated sleeves but the basic look was that of a cape.

On top of that, Lanvin-Castillo introduced a new evening coat which was jacket-short in the front and evening coat-long in the rear.

Earlier today, Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses showed the longest skirts seen in Paris this week.

Desses also joined battle on the side of other Paris designers who refused to go along with the House of Christian Dior's de-emphasis of the bust in this season's stylish female form.

Defects in Speech Said Not Serious In Pre-school Child
Burlington, Vt. - UPI - Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

Publicity Course Is Offered
Registration will be held on the first class session of "Publicity Procedures," an adult education course, Tuesday evening, February 2 at Medford High school. The classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 209 instead of Room 246 as previously announced. Purpose of the eight-week course will be to give interested persons a basic understanding of the techniques to be employed and the media available to tell the story of their firm or organization to the public.

Information on the course may be secured by contacting the adult education office at Medford High school, telephone, SPRing 3-5341.

It is not intended as a complete academic course but rather "an informal lecture series designed to help the lay person understand the role of publicity in our daily lives," it is stated.

Russ Jamison, course supervisor, has announced the following list of media representatives who will serve as instructors for certain portions of the series. Mrs. Olive Starcher, Women's editor, Medford Mail Tribune; Ed Barnett, manager, station KBES-TV; Ray Johnson, manager of KMED; Jim Grey and Herb Partridge, advertising department, Medford Mail Tribune; Mrs. Phyllis Pesenti, Women's editor, station KMED; Robert Vroman, photographer, Medford Mail Tribune.

Paris House Introduces New 'Tapado'
By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris - UPI - The often surprising fashion house of Lanvin-Castillo unleashed something new on Paris today—a half-cape, half-coat it called a tapado.

The cape-coats, usually done in heavy silks, appeared in soft, pleasing pinks, yellows and blues, and were styled for all times of day.

In general, Lanvin-Castillo presented a tubular, free and easy line on the wind-up day of the week-long spring and summer fashion presentations here.

For summer dresses, the house brought hems up to just below the knee, a radical reversal of the low, low line it introduced six months ago for the fall-winter season.

But evening dresses dropped down to ankle-length. They were narrow, with long sleeves.

The unusual tapados were cut short, like jackets, or long, like evening coats, but they all had a new look which caught the eye of guests at the initial showing of the collection.

Some of them had arm slits and a few had abbreviated sleeves but the basic look was that of a cape.

On top of that, Lanvin-Castillo introduced a new evening coat which was jacket-short in the front and evening coat-long in the rear.

Earlier today, Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses showed the longest skirts seen in Paris this week.

Desses also joined battle on the side of other Paris designers who refused to go along with the House of Christian Dior's de-emphasis of the bust in this season's stylish female form.

Defects in Speech Said Not Serious In Pre-school Child
Burlington, Vt. - UPI - Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

Publicity Course Is Offered
Registration will be held on the first class session of "Publicity Procedures," an adult education course, Tuesday evening, February 2 at Medford High school. The classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 209 instead of Room 246 as previously announced. Purpose of the eight-week course will be to give interested persons a basic understanding of the techniques to be employed and the media available to tell the story of their firm or organization to the public.

Information on the course may be secured by contacting the adult education office at Medford High school, telephone, SPRing 3-5341.

It is not intended as a complete academic course but rather "an informal lecture series designed to help the lay person understand the role of publicity in our daily lives," it is stated.

Russ Jamison, course supervisor, has announced the following list of media representatives who will serve as instructors for certain portions of the series. Mrs. Olive Starcher, Women's editor, Medford Mail Tribune; Ed Barnett, manager, station KBES-TV; Ray Johnson, manager of KMED; Jim Grey and Herb Partridge, advertising department, Medford Mail Tribune; Mrs. Phyllis Pesenti, Women's editor, station KMED; Robert Vroman, photographer, Medford Mail Tribune.

Paris House Introduces New 'Tapado'
By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris - UPI - The often surprising fashion house of Lanvin-Castillo unleashed something new on Paris today—a half-cape, half-coat it called a tapado.

The cape-coats, usually done in heavy silks, appeared in soft, pleasing pinks, yellows and blues, and were styled for all times of day.

In general, Lanvin-Castillo presented a tubular, free and easy line on the wind-up day of the week-long spring and summer fashion presentations here.

For summer dresses, the house brought hems up to just below the knee, a radical reversal of the low, low line it introduced six months ago for the fall-winter season.

But evening dresses dropped down to ankle-length. They were narrow, with long sleeves.

The unusual tapados were cut short, like jackets, or long, like evening coats, but they all had a new look which caught the eye of guests at the initial showing of the collection.

Some of them had arm slits and a few had abbreviated sleeves but the basic look was that of a cape.

On top of that, Lanvin-Castillo introduced a new evening coat which was jacket-short in the front and evening coat-long in the rear.

Earlier today, Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses showed the longest skirts seen in Paris this week.

Desses also joined battle on the side of other Paris designers who refused to go along with the House of Christian Dior's de-emphasis of the bust in this season's stylish female form.

Defects in Speech Said Not Serious In Pre-school Child
Burlington, Vt. - UPI - Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

Publicity Course Is Offered
Registration will be held on the first class session of "Publicity Procedures," an adult education course, Tuesday evening, February 2 at Medford High school. The classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 209 instead of Room 246 as previously announced. Purpose of the eight-week course will be to give interested persons a basic understanding of the techniques to be employed and the media available to tell the story of their firm or organization to the public.

Information on the course may be secured by contacting the adult education office at Medford High school, telephone, SPRing 3-5341.

It is not intended as a complete academic course but rather "an informal lecture series designed to help the lay person understand the role of publicity in our daily lives," it is stated.

Russ Jamison, course supervisor, has announced the following list of media representatives who will serve as instructors for certain portions of the series. Mrs. Olive Starcher, Women's editor, Medford Mail Tribune; Ed Barnett, manager, station KBES-TV; Ray Johnson, manager of KMED; Jim Grey and Herb Partridge, advertising department, Medford Mail Tribune; Mrs. Phyllis Pesenti, Women's editor, station KMED; Robert Vroman, photographer, Medford Mail Tribune.

Paris House Introduces New 'Tapado'
By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris - UPI - The often surprising fashion house of Lanvin-Castillo unleashed something new on Paris today—a half-cape, half-coat it called a tapado.

The cape-coats, usually done in heavy silks, appeared in soft, pleasing pinks, yellows and blues, and were styled for all times of day.

In general, Lanvin-Castillo presented a tubular, free and easy line on the wind-up day of the week-long spring and summer fashion presentations here.

For summer dresses, the house brought hems up to just below the knee, a radical reversal of the low, low line it introduced six months ago for the fall-winter season.

But evening dresses dropped down to ankle-length. They were narrow, with long sleeves.

The unusual tapados were cut short, like jackets, or long, like evening coats, but they all had a new look which caught the eye of guests at the initial showing of the collection.

Some of them had arm slits and a few had abbreviated sleeves but the basic look was that of a cape.

On top of that, Lanvin-Castillo introduced a new evening coat which was jacket-short in the front and evening coat-long in the rear.

Earlier today, Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses showed the longest skirts seen in Paris this week.

Desses also joined battle on the side of other Paris designers who refused to go along with the House of Christian Dior's de-emphasis of the bust in this season's stylish female form.

Defects in Speech Said Not Serious In Pre-school Child
Burlington, Vt. - UPI - Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

Publicity Course Is Offered
Registration will be held on the first class session of "Publicity Procedures," an adult education course, Tuesday evening, February 2 at Medford High school. The classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 209 instead of Room 246 as previously announced. Purpose of the eight-week course will be to give interested persons a basic understanding of the techniques to be employed and the media available to tell the story of their firm or organization to the public.

Information on the course may be secured by contacting the adult education office at Medford High school, telephone, SPRing 3-5341.

It is not intended as a complete academic course but rather "an informal lecture series designed to help the lay person understand the role of publicity in our daily lives," it is stated.

Russ Jamison, course supervisor, has announced the following list of media representatives who will serve as instructors for certain portions of the series. Mrs. Olive Starcher, Women's editor, Medford Mail Tribune; Ed Barnett, manager, station KBES-TV; Ray Johnson, manager of KMED; Jim Grey and Herb Partridge, advertising department, Medford Mail Tribune; Mrs. Phyllis Pesenti, Women's editor, station KMED; Robert Vroman, photographer, Medford Mail Tribune.

Paris House Introduces New 'Tapado'
By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris - UPI - The often surprising fashion house of Lanvin-Castillo unleashed something new on Paris today—a half-cape, half-coat it called a tapado.

The cape-coats, usually done in heavy silks, appeared in soft, pleasing pinks, yellows and blues, and were styled for all times of day.

In general, Lanvin-Castillo presented a tubular, free and easy line on the wind-up day of the week-long spring and summer fashion presentations here.

For summer dresses, the house brought hems up to just below the knee, a radical reversal of the low, low line it introduced six months ago for the fall-winter season.

But evening dresses dropped down to ankle-length. They were narrow, with long sleeves.

The unusual tapados were cut short, like jackets, or long, like evening coats, but they all had a new look which caught the eye of guests at the initial showing of the collection.

Some of them had arm slits and a few had abbreviated sleeves but the basic look was that of a cape.

On top of that, Lanvin-Castillo introduced a new evening coat which was jacket-short in the front and evening coat-long in the rear.

Earlier today, Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses showed the longest skirts seen in Paris this week.

Desses also joined battle on the side of other Paris designers who refused to go along with the House of Christian Dior's de-emphasis of the bust in this season's stylish female form.

Defects in Speech Said Not Serious In Pre-school Child
Burlington, Vt. - UPI - Don't worry if your pre-school child stutters or repeats himself, says a human relations specialist.

Dr. Dalton Vernon, of the Vermont Extension Service, said a child does not notice anything strange about his speech unless someone stops him to point out his hesitations.

"Repetitions in speech don't indicate anything wrong with most children. But they can be aggravated into something serious if the child is interrupted and constantly told to slow down. A real stutterer is conscious of his speech and usually is embarrassed by it," Vernon said.

Publicity Course Is Offered
Registration will be held on the first class session of "Publicity Procedures," an adult education course, Tuesday evening, February 2 at Medford High school. The classes will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 209 instead of Room 246 as previously announced. Purpose of the eight-week course will be to give interested persons a basic understanding of the techniques to be employed and the media available to tell the story of their firm or organization to the public.

Information on the course may be secured by contacting the adult education office at Medford High school, telephone, SPRing 3-5341.

It is not intended as a complete academic course but rather "an informal lecture series designed to help the lay person understand the role of publicity in our daily lives," it is stated.

Russ Jamison, course supervisor, has announced the following list of media representatives who will serve as instructors for certain portions of the series. Mrs. Olive Starcher, Women's editor, Medford Mail Tribune; Ed Barnett, manager, station KBES-TV; Ray Johnson, manager of KMED; Jim Grey and Herb Partridge, advertising department, Medford Mail Tribune; Mrs. Phyllis Pesenti, Women's editor, station KMED; Robert Vroman, photographer, Medford Mail Tribune.

Paris House Introduces New 'Tapado'
By PAT HERMAN United Press International Paris - UPI - The often surprising fashion house of Lanvin-Castillo unleashed something new on Paris today—a half-cape, half-coat it called a tapado.

The cape-coats, usually done in heavy silks, appeared in soft, pleasing pinks, yellows and blues, and were styled for all times of day.

In general, Lanvin-Castillo presented a tubular, free and easy line on the wind-up day of the week-long spring and summer fashion presentations here.

For summer dresses, the house brought hems up to just below the knee, a radical reversal of the low, low line it introduced six months ago for the fall-winter season.

But evening dresses dropped down to ankle-length. They were narrow, with long sleeves.

The unusual tapados were cut short, like jackets, or long, like evening coats, but they all had a new look which caught the eye of guests at the initial showing of the collection.

Some of them had arm slits and a few had abbreviated sleeves but the basic look was that of a cape.

On top of that, Lanvin-Castillo introduced a new evening coat which was jacket-short in the front and evening coat-long in the rear.

Earlier today, Greek-born dressmaker Jean Desses showed the longest skirts seen in Paris this week.

Desses also joined battle on the side of other Paris designers who refused to go along with the House of Christian Dior's de-emphasis of the bust in this season's stylish female form.

Defects in Speech Said Not Serious In Pre-school Child
B