

HONORARY RANK—A snappy salute is given Col. Marcus A. Kipp at the infantry training center at Fort Dix, N.J., by Eugene Lundgren, 7, of Chatham, N.J., who was given a uniform and honorary rank of infantry captain after he had written the Post Exchange: "My dad is dead. He was a regular Army man and I want to be like he was." The boy's father, Capt. George H. Lundgren, was a World War II combat veteran and died in 1956. (UPI Telephoto)

Curzon with his wife, Jerry, daughter Shelley, 10 months, and son, Mitchell, 5, will live at 828A West 14th st., Medford. The family attends the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-day Saints.

Editor & Publisher reports that daily newspapers in the U. S. and Canada reject each year advertising worth millions of dollars because it does not meet standards of "truthfulness and good taste."

Says Cranston Williams, general manager of ANPA, "... the daily newspaper puts its integrity ahead of all other considerations in preserving its standard as a truthful source of information for readers and a means of disseminating truthful messages through advertising."

Hedrick Junior High

By VICKI TOENNIGES
The second meeting of the Hedrick Parent Teacher association will be held on Monday, Feb. 8 in the little theater. On the program are Miss Sue Jahn, who will give an oration; Robert L. Haworth, director of parks and recreation of Medford; and Lee Ragsdale, director of physical education, recreation and safety of Medford public schools.

Art students from Hedrick sent entries to the Annual Scholastic Art contest to be held at the J. K. Gill company, Portland.

The Medford American Association of University Women's annual art show was held last week end at the Medford hotel. Some work of Hedrick art students was included in the show. Miss Catherine Fonken was chairman of the event.

Report cards went home Wednesday for the second nine weeks grading period.

The Stinger drill team has been holding practices all week in the gym.

Wrestling equipment was turned in last week and wrestlers met to elect the outstanding wrestler from each grade. Results will be announced soon at an assembly.

New hunter safety course participants met Thursday last week.

Mrs. Vida McCauley's eighth grade science class has scheduled a field trip to the United States weather station at the Medford airport Tuesday afternoon to observe how forecasting is done and the instruments used. While at the airport, the students, as guests of one of the airlines, will go through a DC-7.

The girls' volleyball intramurals were concluded last week and results were: ninth grade, Kookies, first; Black and Blue Eyes, second; Cha Cha Chas and Black Widows tied for third; Chain Gang, fourth; and the Beatniks, fifth.

Eighth grade, Speed Balls, first; Bouncing Beauties, second; Flying Saucers, third; High Balls, fourth; the Bull Dozers and Volleying Vikings tied for fifth.

Seventh grade, Volleyettes, first; the Bubby Balls, Hornets and the High Flies, three-way tie for second; the Stingettes, third; and the Buttercups, fourth.

Talent High School

Edited by members of Quill & Scroll
LaVonne Whillock, President
Talent High student council has been working on the Sweethearts' Ball which will be held Friday, Feb. 26, in the high school gymnasium. The theme "Sweet and Lovely" has been chosen. Members of the council have been assigned tasks to complete. Programs have been selected.

Candidates for king and queen from the junior class are Bob Jacobs, Bob Dickinson, Diane DeLuca and Barbara McAbee. Candidates from the senior class are Mike Jacobs, Morris Sterrett, Mary Lee Clark and Jill Morrison. The student council plans to begin decorating a week in advance of the dance to avoid a last minute rush.

Sixteen Talent High students obtained honor roll rating, all B's or better, for the second nine weeks, while 22 maintained this rating for the semester.

At the combined executive board meeting of the Talent and Phoenix PTA's recently, it was decided to have one PTA organization for the district. As a result of this action, the Phoenix chapter officers will hold their present positions for the coming year, while Talent officers will act in an advisory capacity.

Talent grade school Principal Eugene Farthing said, "The important thing is that we are now District 4, not two separate districts, and should act as such." The first meeting of the combined chapters will be held in March at Phoenix.

Meetings will alternate between the two schools thereafter.

In the commercial department, Sandra Dickinson earned a 35-word pin in Typing I, and Sally Helm, Jean Sterrett and Diane DeLuca each made a 30-word award pin.

Five students in a class of seven in Shorthand II have obtained a speed of 100 words per minute or over. They are Sally Kenyon, LaVonne Whillock, Jill Morrison, Dolores Meyer, and Gail Carter. Mary Lee Clark and Myrna Ford have received their 80-word awards.

Office practice class began a project on clerical payroll procedures this week. Students will be instructed in all payroll procedures, including time records, method of computing earnings, and preparation of payroll records as well as Federal and state reports. All of the material to be covered is typical of procedures actually found in modern business office.

The editor and staff of the 1960 Challenger have been working to complete pages for their deadline. A photograph from Kennell Ellis was Friday to take more pictures. Pages that went in were football, advertising, clubs, and social activity. The book is now about 2/3 completed.

Progress is being made and near completion for many projects in the mechanical art department of Shop I and II. Furniture under construction is practical and imaginative and ranges from cedar chests and chess sets to gun cabinets, desks, and folding dining room tables.

In German I class this year we have started something new. John Kuchler has divided the class into two groups according to grades. The "A" and "B" students are in the first group which will advance faster and have more reading. The second group, composed of other students, mainly will work on increasing their vocabulary. This method of teaching has greatly helped each student.
