This is the first club in Oregon to become nationally recognized in this manner.

Members of the Home Economics Service club have organized a sewing drawer. This drawer contains sewing notions for girls who wish to purchase them for a small fee. Other club plans include a panel to speak on marriage scheduled for the evening of Feb. 15. Further details are to be discussed at the club's next meeting.

"A Nickel a Pickle" is the slogan of the Future Homemakers of America club. F.H.A. members sold pickles Thursday, during the noon hours, and will continue selling pickles on Mondays and Thursdays.

At their last meeting, F.H.A. members elected officers which will enable the club to send delegates to the state meeting in Corvallis March 3-5.

Elected to office were De Anne Taylor, president; Linda Bateman, vice president; De Anna Kunkel, secretary; Laura Rupert, treasurer; Willo Mills, degree chairman; and Anita Ritchey, social chairman.

De Anne Taylor is also running for state parliamentarian and Inez Viers is competing for the state homemaker degree.

An aerial darts tournament started last Wednesday for members of the MHS Girls Athletic association and will end Tuesday. A total of 12 girls signed up for the tournament.

A badminton tournament is scheduled to begin soon. Girls wishing to participate should sign up with Margie Good, G.A.A. president, or Patricia Mounts, advisor.

Twenty girls signed up for the club's snow party Saturday.

Jim Wilson and Lauren Stayton advanced to the finals of the chess tournament last week.

Ken Hall, senior, won honorable mention at the Oregon Regional conference for the National Thespian society at the University of Portland held Jan. 28 and 29. Ten other Medford High students participated in the dramatic arts competition along with over 600 from schools throughout Oregon.

The California Mental Maturity tests were concluded Tuesday, with the testing of the seniors of sophomores who were not in the Medford school system last year, and the juniors who missed the test last week. The special educational department personnel giving the tests were Delle Whisenant, Henry De Doss, Oliver Erickson, and William Young.

Another fragment of papyrus on which Hebrew script were visible has not yet been unrolled. It was believed to be part of a letter.

Qumran, where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found, is about 43 miles from the caves Aharoni's party explored.

They reported finding fragments of parchment scrolls, believed to have been written about the same time as the Dead Sea Scrolls.

More Finds Promised The new scrolls are the first found on the Israel side of the Dead Sea. Experts said they give promise of more such finds in the area.

Dr. Yohanan Aharoni said he believes there are at least three more hidden nearby.

The fragments found last week were dug out of caves overlooking the Dead Sea three miles north of Massada.

To reach the caves, Aharoni's team used ropes to scale 660 feet of sheer limestone rock cliff, part of the side of Nahal Tse-Elim Canyon.

From Book of Exodus Aharoni said two fragments are from the book of Exodus and their text and size show they were part of Phylacteries. One comprised verses one to ten of Chapter 13 and the other verses 11 to 16 of the same chapter.
