Crater	4	5	.440
Grants Pass	4	6	.400
Ashland	0	9	.000

Smashing Comet resistance with a barrage of eight field goals and four free tosses in the last 4½ minutes of the second quarter, the Medford high basketball contingent bounced Crater 73 to 37 here Saturday night in a Southern Oregon conference skirmish.

It was the 10th successive league victory for Medford which is unmarred in District 6 A-1. The Black Tornado stretched to a 3½-game margin over second place Klamath Falls which rested Saturday after dropping a Friday hassle to the go-go Medfords. Crater (4-6) fell back into a dead lock with Grants Pass which rapped 67 to 35 over Ashland high.

Saturday's scuffle was still a close ball game after three minutes of the second panel had passed. Medford headed at that point just 15 to 13, having encountered stiff Comet defense.

Then Jerry Shults pushed in a long shot and two free tosses. Dick Ragsdale flipped in a pair of gifts. Shults sank a long pusher for 23 to 13. Medford's top line reserves, Booth Deakins and Bob Quinney, next got in on the scoring act. Each goaled from the field three times. At halftime, the count was 35 to 13. The Tornado put in nine field shots in 17 tries and had 24 points in the second quarter while holding Crater to six markers on three field buckets.

Two to one (54 to 28) control of the backboards and 453 field shooting to Crater's 211 told a good share of the story of the fracas which Medford took with balanced operation. Deakins with 15 and Shults with 14 were Medford's high point men. Jerry Anderson of Medford and Denny Edwards of the Comets each had a 10-counter.

Quinney was top rebound man with nine. Anderson, Shults, and Lowell Dean each snared seven and Ragsdale and Cal Dean each six for Medford. Edwards had nine retrieves and Chuck Turner eight for Crater.

The Tornado had an 11 to 7 quarter game and was ahead 54 to 22 after three periods of play. It had spreads of 39 points three times in the closing quarter.

The Big Wind took a 7 to 0 lead in the fust on a free toss by Shults and three field baskets by Anderson. Crater never caught up in the game but hacked the difference to 7 to 5 with 2½ minutes to go in the panel. Cooper's hook goal and free heave and two charity chances by Turner got the points.

Medford upped to 11 to 5 on Lowell Dean's pusher and Anderson's driver bucket. Edwards close the can to for Crater with two free throws and Dave Sharp sank a pusher for the Comets to slice the gap to 11 to 9. Dean pushed in another bucket but Turner hit from long range for 13 to 11. Anderson's two gifter shots were offset by Sharp's push for 15 to 13. After that it was a Medford show.

The Comets went for 6¾ minutes without scoring and for 9½ minutes with just one goal in stretches overlapping the second and third quarters.

Red Raiders Split With Mountaineers

Ashland - Coach Ted Schopf tried a new starting combination Saturday night and the Southern Oregon Red Raider hoop team romped to victory over Eastern Oregon college 75-72 in an Oregon Collegiate conference battle.

All five starters hit in double figures, a famous first for this year's basketball club.

Gordy Carrigan led the way with 19 points, followed by John Payne with 16, Brad Flannery with 14, Dick Smith with 12, and Dave Gardner with 11.

Eastern Oregon did almost as well with four players in double totals. Pasco Artiola topped top honors with 20 points.
