The Medical Roundup

Falling Hair

Recently, a number of women have written to say that now their hair is coming out every day so that their brush is full of it. What interests me much is that each one remarked that just three months ago she had a baby or a pneumonia, or a big operation. I remember so well when I was just out of college, I read a book on diseases of the hair, and the man said that sometimes after a big shock – in those days it usually was typhoid fever – much of the person's hair would fall out. It would fall out just three months later. Why? Because, with the fever, the individual hairs, deep down in their follicles (tiny pouches) would die. Then a new hair would start growing and pushing the dead hair out. It would take three months for the new hair to get out to the surface of the scalp. Similarly, when a man gets his finger badly pinched in the door of his automobile, or smashed with a hammer, and the nail dies, it take many weeks for a new nail to push the old one out.

DR. ALVAREZ

Wait a While

That is why I say to people whose hair is coming out three months after some great strain to their body, don't worry, and don't go to get fleeced by a rapacious advertising hair-quack. Just wait a while, and a new head of hair will grow out.

In some cases, when a person's hair starts falling out, it is wise to go to a good physician who will make a careful examination, to see if any serious disease is starting. The doctor will examine to see if the thyroid gland is functioning normally. When this gland fails to function, the person – usually a woman – is likely to get fat and pudgy, she will feel sleepy, and slowed-up; she will feel cold; she will lose all sex interest, and all the hair on her body may fall out.

Post-Nasal Drip

Hundreds of people ask me if they should be operated on for a post-nasal drip. Many of them are too greatly worried about this common condition – I hate to call it a disease. Many go to extreme lengths to stop the "drip" because they dread swallowing the mucus. They think it will do them great harm. They don't know that if they will just swallow it it will very quickly be digested in their stomach – just like a bit of white-of-egg.

I have sent hundreds of these worried people to good nose and throat specialists who took one look and then reported to me that the material was harmless white mucus and not yellow or greenish pus, such as would have indicated a sinusitis. They looked into the nose and found it free from pus; then perhaps they did what I always do, and said, "Let me see your handkerchief." If, at the end of a day it was clean, the doctor said, "Go back to your physician; you have no sinusitis; and forget your post-nasal drip." Usually, the patient, unconvinced, keeps going around, trying desperately, to find a man who will operate on him, and will keep treating his nose for a year or two.

4-H Club News

Applegate Grease Squirters

The fourth meeting of the Applegate Grease Squirters 4-H club was called to order by our president, Terry Miller. The meeting was held at the home of Virgil Prowell Jan. 27.

Tommy Herriot gave a report on what went on at our Saturday work day which was held to collect metal for a carry-call rack which we are planning to build. Jimmy Miller and Jimmy Christensen also reported on the project.

We decided to add up the total expenses and subtract that from our total income on the racks instead of trying to pay for everything piece by piece so we would have an accurate record of what we did.

Terry Miller reported on how a John-Deere No. 45 loader bucket was operated by a tractor.

Last Sunday we met at the home of our junior leader, David Christensen, where we were quizzed on what some of the most important parts of a tractor were. From there we went and picked up our metal and started work on the rack.

Virgil Prowell, gave a demonstration and talk on why lubricants are used in a tractor. The meeting was adjourned at 9 p.m. Mrs. Prowell served refreshments. The next meeting will be at the home of Robert and Billy Piete Feb. 10 at 7:30 p.m.
