McLoughlin Jr. High

By Suzie Lind and Sandra Hager
Pat McCorkle and Richie Bennett were elected by the ninth graders to rule as King and Queen of Hearts at the FHA Cupid's Folly Friday night in the girls gym. Leslie Stanley and Mike Barnes were elected by the eighth graders to reign as their Prince and Princess. The Shadows, a quartette from St. Mary's High, entertained the royal court. Judy Zack, FHA president, was general chairman of the affair.

Students have been signing up for the all school talent show to be presented in assembly in the near future. To date, 25 acts have volunteered with auditions to be reviewed next week.

The student body council has been working on the revision of the school constitution. With the change in home rooms, it is necessary to devise a different method for voting and a different representation of the student body for council membership.

Fred Hancock, Richard Engstrom, John Stewart, Philip Bulebar, Ray Cottle, Larry Stockman, Dennis Burke, Ray Newman, and Robert Sanderson brought planes, rockets, and jets for the library display. Miss Dortha Martin put these in the case with book jackets from such books for student reading.

Hot rods, modern automobiles, and old time cars decorated one side of the hall display case window. Models were submitted by Mac boys in art classes.

On the other side of the hall, silhouettes of art students from Room 5 were displayed. The names of the students were written under silhouette. The names were spelled backwards so that people could guess who they were.

Friday a pep assembly was held for the McLoughlin, Hedrick basketball game. Yell leaders acted as the team and ninth grade team members, dressed in white crepe paper shirts and Stinger sweaters, led two yells.

MacLoughlin yell leaders were introduced and led a yell.

Because it was Feb. 12, the assembly was concluded with all joining in singing "Happy Birthday to Lincoln."
