Maria J.—I should give my child for adoption. Mrs. L. R.—She won't be able to forgive herself. Maria J.—I am 20 and have been married for a year to a man who has no sense of responsibility. We are going to have a baby in a few months and he just quit his job. Why? He "doesn't like it." So far there is no new job in sight. I feel that I have no choice but to leave him, but I don't want to live with my parents. They were against my marrying Ken and will never let me forget that they were right and I was wrong. They aren't my real parents anyway. I was adopted when I was six months old. I feel they never should have told me about the adoption when I was young. It made me feel different from the other kids. I think I should give my child for adoption, but my mother is against it.

Mrs. L. R.—We have told Maria again and again that she can come home and there will be no recriminations. I'm afraid she won't be able to forgive herself if she gives up her child. It would be different if she weren't married.
